FOREWORD

It gives me immense pleasure to present Jasmine, the English textbook for Class VII, developed in alignment with the vision of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020. The National Curriculum Framework for School Education (NCF SE) 2023 and Odisha Curriculum Framework (SCF SE) 2025. This textbook is the result of a collaborative effort of experts drawn from District Institutes of Education and Training (DIETs), Board of Secondary Education, State Institute for Languages and Teachers' Training, (SILTT) as well as from the domains of elementary, secondary, and higher secondary education, under the academic leadership of the State Council of Educational Research and Training (SCERT), Odisha.

Jasmine is not merely a textbook- it is a window into the linguistic, cultural, and literary world that our children inhabit and inherit. It aims at developing the core language skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing in a meaningful and pleasant way. The content is rooted in the rich cultural heritage, traditions, and local knowledge systems of Odisha, while also reflecting the broader framework of the Indian Knowledge System as envisioned in the NEP 2020.

The stories, poems, and activities such as role play, pair work, group discussions, language games. Riddles, quiz etc. in this book are designed to make language learning joyful, contextual, and relevant to the lives of our students. By weaving in local contexts and values, Jasmine encourages learners to take pride in their identity, appreciate their roots, and become confident communicators in English.

I extend my heartfelt appreciation to all the educators, writers, and experts who contributed their time, knowledge, and creativity in the development of this textbook. I also acknowledge the support of the School and Mass Education Department, Government of Odisha, for its continued commitment for improving the quality of education in the state.

I am confident that Jasmine will serve as an effective tool for language learning and will inspire our students to explore, express, and excel in real life situations.

ABOUT THE BOOK

JASMINE , a textbook of English for Class VII, is developed in accordance with the vision of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and the National Curriculum Framework for School Education (NCF-SE) 2023 and Odisha Curriculum Framework (SCF SE) 2025. Language education is essential for effective communication, aesthetic expression and appreciation in real life situations. Language development plays an important role in the development of perceptual and practical concepts.

The textual material developed for the Middle Stage will take children well beyond the Preparatory Stage. Curricular goals, competencies, and learning outcomes have been the guiding principles while developing the textbook. The Curricular Goals (CG) cover a range of competencies.

CG-1: Students develop independent reading comprehension and summarising skills of a variety of texts (stories, poems, extracts of plays, essays, articles and news reports).

CG-2: Attains the ability to write about thoughts, feelings and experiences of social events.

CG-3: Develops the capacity for effective communication using language skills for questioning, describing, analysing and responding.

CG-4: Explores different literary devices and forms of literature.

CG-5: Develops the ability to recognise basic linguistic aspects (word and sentence structure) and use them in oral and written expression.

The curricular goals have been covered through a variety of themes and innovative classroom activities. There are five thematic units that comprise stories, poems, conversation, narrative and descriptive pieces. Themes such as learning together, wit and humour, dreams and discoveries, travel and adventure and homage to bravehearts have been included. Cross-cutting themes, such as Indian Knowledge Systems, values, heritage, gender sensitivity, and inclusion have been integrated in all the units. Each unit has three literary pieces-story, poem, conversation or non-fiction.

Unit 1 — 'Learning Together' encourages students to explore the interconnectedness of nature and human life. The story, 'The Day the River Spoke', emphasises the importance of respecting and listening to nature. The river encourages Jahnavi to overcome her fears and societal barriers by boldly pursuing her desire for education, assuring that her courage can make a difference. The poem, 'Try Again' inspires resilience and the power of perseverance, encouraging students to view challenges as stepping stones to success. The poem leaves a powerful impact on the readers, inspiring them to achieve their best goal in life. 'Three Days to See' presents a touching narrative of a girl who cannot see and that invites learners to appreciate their senses and value the beauty of the world around them.

Unit 2 — 'Wit and Humour' engages students with a light-hearted story, poem, and play. These delightful works showcase the charm of intelligence, humour and laughter. The amusing tale of 'Animals, Birds, and Dr. Dolittle' will help students explore the idea of a doctor who learns animal language. He not only communicates with animals but also treats their ailments with empathy. The story is a fable that entertains and also educates about animal care. The poem, 'A Funny Man' celebrates humour which can be unfamiliar that can spark curiosity and amusement. 'Say the Right Thing' highlights the comic consequences of miscommunication. The play focuses on the fact that it is important to say the right thing at the right time. We must listen carefully to what others are saying and we must think before we speak.

Unit 3 - 'Dreams and Discoveries' captures the essence of wonder and imagination of children. It also sparks curiosity and creativity, encouraging students to explore how dreams and discoveries shape the world. 'My Brother's Great Invention' is a humorous story about a boy who likes to discover new things around him. This leads to an unexpected encounter with a thief. The story highlights determination, creativity, and sibling bonds, teaching students the value of trial and error in discovery. The poem 'Paper Boats' uses the imagery of paper boats to symbolise dreams and aspirations. Students will reflect on the joy of simple pleasures and the universal desire to connect with the unknown. 'North, South, East, West' will help students appreciate the diversity that exists in our country. The narrative presents postcards from a girl exploring India's diverse landscapes with her parents. The vibrant observations will foster an appreciation for the country's rich cultural and natural heritage.

Unit 4 — 'Travel and Adventure' ignites the spirit of exploration and aims to cultivate curiosity, resilience, and a sense of wonder. The story, 'The Tunnel' will take students on an adventurous episode in a tunnel, highlighting the excitement of discovery and the courage to face the unknown. It also conveys the concept of maturing through self-exploration. The poem, 'Travel' revolves around the theme of exploring the unknown and a strong desire to travel. Train is used as a symbol to embark on to new adventures with new people. The sun's journey is used as a metaphor for constant movement and the human urge for exploration. 'Conquering the Summit' is a non-fiction piece on Arunima Sinha, the first female amputee to scale Mount Everest to accomplish her dream. This will inspire students with her extraordinary determination and perseverance

Unit 5 — 'Bravehearts' instills a sense of patriotism and gratitude in students, celebrating the courage and sacrifices of the valiant who have selflessly laid down their lives for the nation. 'A Homage to Our Brave Soldiers' is a tribute to the real heroes of our nation—our soldiers, the embodiment of patriotism. The poem 'My Dear Soldiers' is a heartfelt acknowledgement of the courage, dedication, and sacrifice of the soldiers who tirelessly defend the nation, often in harsh and unforgiving conditions. The graphic story of 'Rani Abbakka' is a tale of a fearless queen, who defied Portuguese colonial powers with resilience and military acumen. She exhibited indomitable courage, valour, and determination.

There are intext questions, 'Let us discuss' to assess comprehension of the text. At the end of each text questions given in 'Let us think and reflect' are designed to encourage critical thinking, reasoning, responding, analysing etc.

The literary pieces are not only entertaining but also instill valuable life lessons, fostering. personal growth and helping children navigate social situations with confidence. The selected pieces will resonate with children's daily experiences and encourage positive values like resilience, empathy and emotional intelligence that can have a profound impact on their real-life situations. The focus of the book is to develop competencies of four language skills, viz. listening, speaking, reading and writing have been taken care of along with vocabulary and grammar and language usages in context. Language Learning becomes meaningful when connected to the immediate environment of learners and they express their thoughts, feeliings, experience through experiential learning. Thus adequate care has been taken for developing language skills which will help learners appreciate literature and develop thinking skills.

All the activities are colour coded under the headings - "Let us discuss, Let us think and reflect" "Let us speak", Let us listen", Let us learn", "Let us write", and "Let us explore and Let us do. Transcripts for "Let us listen are given at the end of each unit. In text activities and exercises at the end of each chapter are innovative and engaging - they promote joyful learning along with assessment as and for learning. Illustrations have been designed depicting the context to enhance learning. Almost all the theme units along with competencies and learning goals which have been dealt in "Poorvi" (Textbook of English for Grade 7) of NCERT are included in this textbook. A few deletions and additions are made looking into our local contexts.

The Board of Editors and Reviewers extends their deep sense of gratitude to the Director, TE & SCERT, Consultant and the Coordinator for their useful guidance and cooperation in completion of this uphill task.

We sincerely welcome creative comments and constructive suggestions from learners, teachers, parents and other stakeholders for further improvement of this book in the next editions.

LEARNING TOGETHER

THE DAY THE RIVER SPOKE

Let us do these activities before we read.

I Close your eyes and quietly listen to the sounds around you for a minute.

1. Are they trying to tell you something?
2. Do you think the things around you also listen to you all day long?

Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

II Jahnavi was a bright young girl. She lived with her parents and three brothers in a coastal village in India. Her parents worked on the farm. She had a dream.

1. What could be the dream of Jahnavi?
2. How could she make her dream come true?
3. What is your dream?
4. What can you do to make your dream come true?

Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

Let us read

splashed: fell in drops, making a sound slithered: moved smoothly by sliding from side to side murmuring : speaking in a low voice startled: surprised thicket : a dance group of bushes and trees shrieked : made a high pitched sound

I

A big bright tear splashed down her nose. And another. A kingfisher swept down, its wings an arrow of blue in the sunlight. And a green lizard slithered down to the river's edge to bask in the sun.

"Dear, dear!" said a sleepy, murmuring voice, "What's the matter?"

Jahnavi was startled, because she was sure she had been quite alone. It couldn't have been the lizard. And the kingfisher was up in the thicket of bamboo eating the fish it had caught. It couldn't be the parrots, because parrots shrieked and this was such a sleepy voice. She looked around her. There wasn't a soul in sight. She was rather scared and wanted to run away.

"You shouldn't cry, you know," the voice went on. "And you really shouldn't be scared, when you have been coming here to see me every day, well, almost every day."

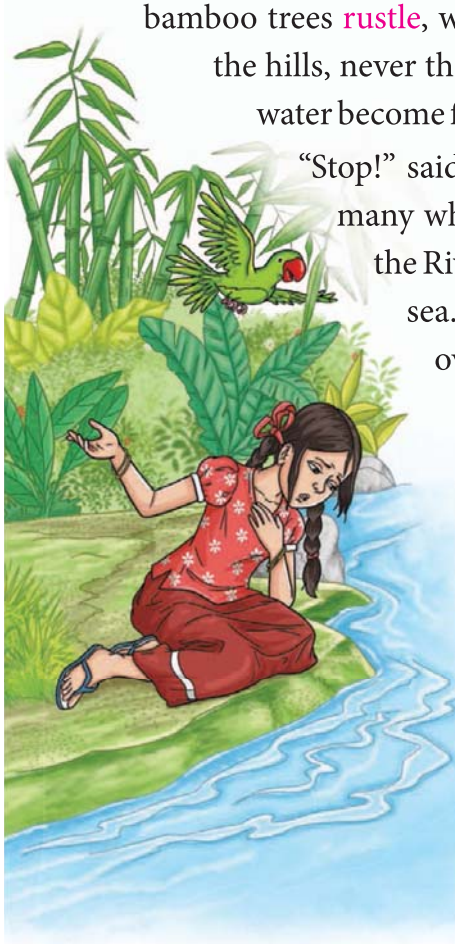

She was puzzled. It was such a voice, like the river. It couldn't be the river!

"Well, tell me all about it," said the River, for it was the River. "I've got to hurry to reach the sea, you know."

"They won't let me go to school," said Jahnavi. "I asked my mother, "Why can't I go to school like my elder brother Gopi and Ramu." And Mother had replied, 'You are too small, baby. May be later.' " But when she was five, little Ramu was born and Mother still said, "May be next year. Jahnavi, mind your little brother while I go to the fields." Now, she was nearly ten and minding Little Appu, who was the smallest. "They don't want me. They only..."—she stopped with a sob...

"I am scared to go to school. And I'm so old now, they'll never let me go. But I want to go. I want to learn to read like Gopi and Ramu" "I want to know why spiders are yellow in yellow flowers, why bamboo trees rustle, why the moon always comes from behind the hills, never the other way, why the baby fish in the field water become frogs, why..."

"Stop!" said the River. "You make me breathless. So many whys! I can tell you where the moon goes," the River said secretly. "It goes down towards the sea. I've seen; it always takes the same way- over the mountains and down to the sea, like me!"

rustle: light sound made by leaves rubbing against each other

Let us discuss

1. What was Jahnavi's dream? Was it important to her? Why?
2. Do you think the river can help her in fulfilling her dream? How?

clump: a small group of trees growing together gasped : to breathe hard quickly or with difficulty rattling: noise made by shaking things catamaran: a kind of boat wailed: (here) complained in a loud voice

II

"Even little Ramu goes to school," said Jahnavi, "pity, the school isn't by the sea," said the River. "Then I could take you along, you know. But, I suppose I couldn't really. You'd get your feet wet. And that would never do! I'm afraid there's only one thing you can do."

"Can I do something?" asked Jahnavi. "Well, it's up to you," said the River. "Seems to me little girls can do as much as little boys-they swim as fast as little boys. You just slip along one morning and sit there in the school and listen to what's going on, and may be the teacher will let you stay."

"I couldn't," gasped Jahnavi. "I couldn't! They'd scare me! They'd chase me out."

The River laughed. "You? Scared?" the River said, "when you're not afraid of the green lizard, or of the snake in the bamboo clump, (Jahnavi startled) or the big trains rattling past that bridge." "Trains are noisy; I prefer ships," said the River.

Jahnavi never knew the snake lived in the bamboo clump. "What are ships?" she asked.

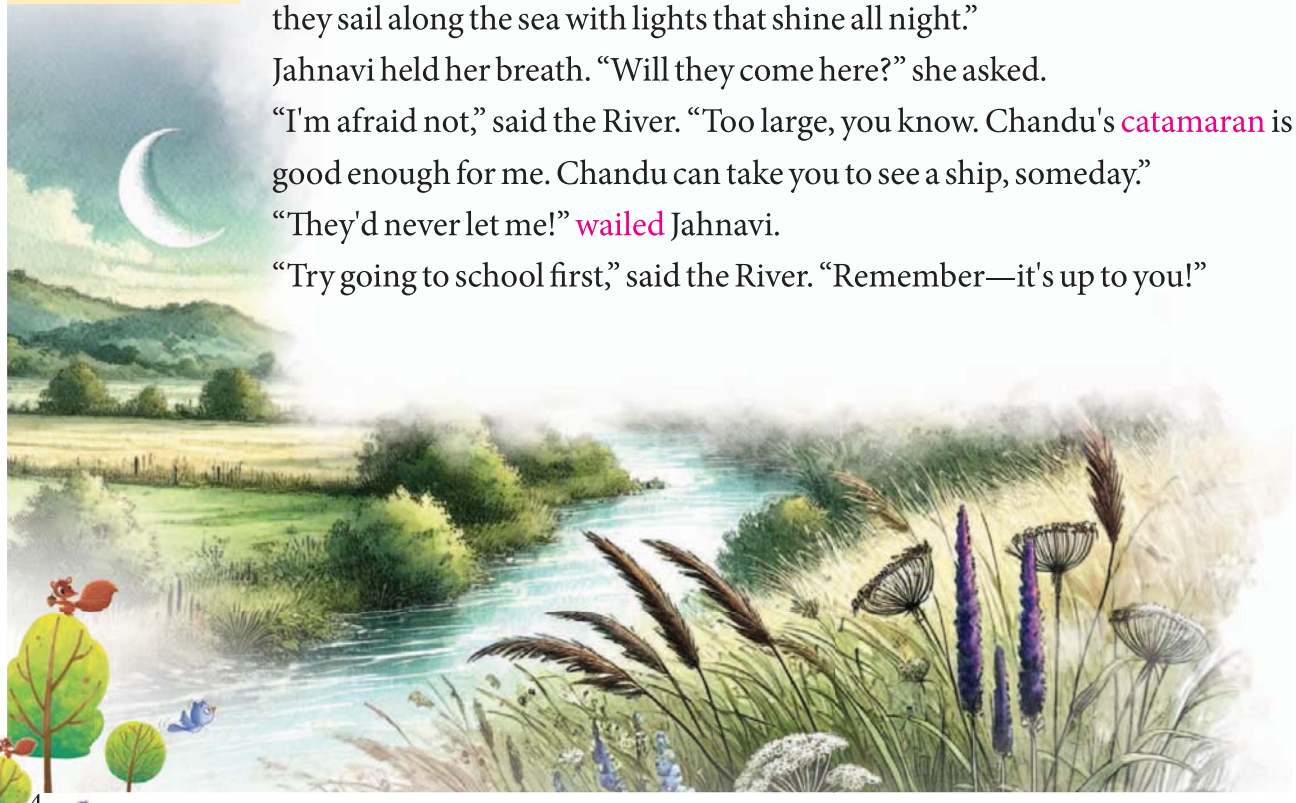

"Big boats," said the River, "so big that they can take hundreds of people, and they sail along the sea with lights that shine all night."

Jahnavi held her breath. "Will they come here?" she asked.

"I'm afraid not," said the River. "Too large, you know. Chandu's catamaran is good enough for me. Chandu can take you to see a ship, someday."

"They'd never let me!" wailed Jahnavi.

"Try going to school first," said the River. "Remember—it's up to you!"

Jahnavi gathered courage. The next day she reached the school, panting and out of breath and stood by the door listening while the teacher read out the lesson. It was a story about a prince called Ashoka, who became a great king. Little Appu had fallen asleep on her shoulder. She crept nearer and nearer till she was in the back row, squatting with the others on the earthen floor. Little Appu made no noise and she listened.

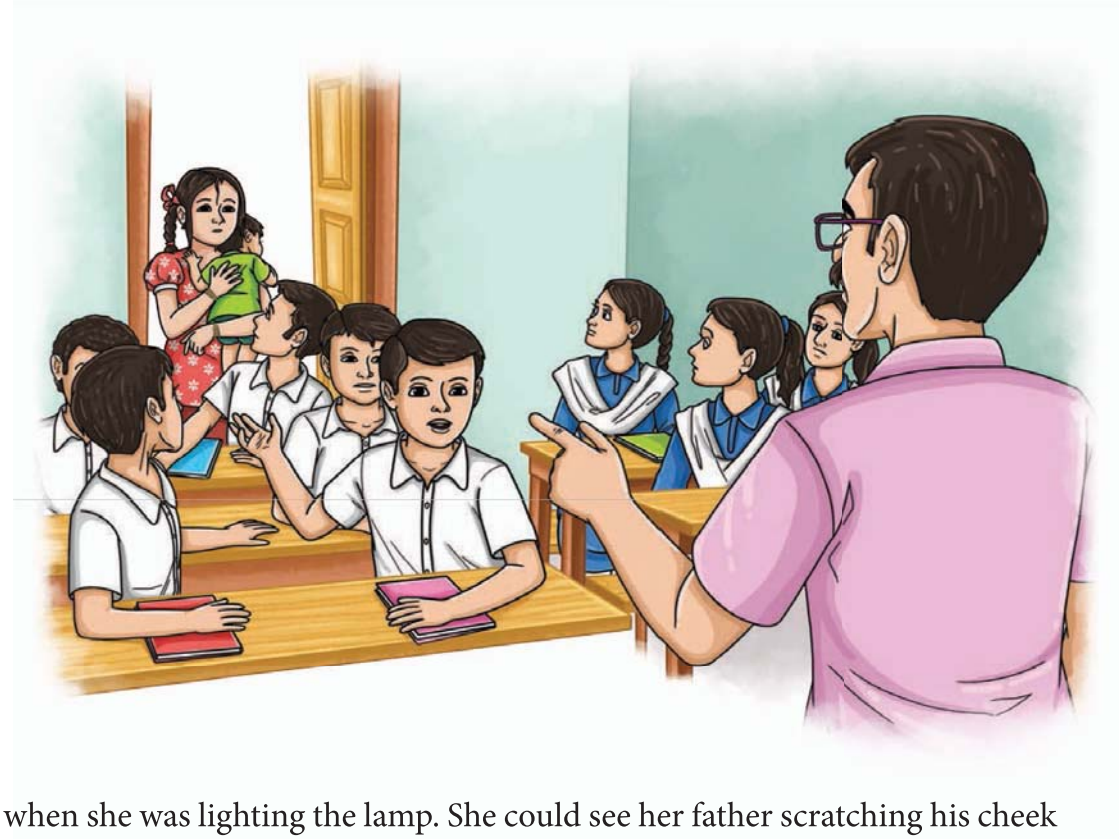

squatting : bending her legs so that she sat with her bottom close to the ground

"Where did you spring from, little girl?" asked the teacher. "And what is your name? You're new in my class."

"She's Gopi's sister, Gopi is in the next class," said one of the boys. "It's Jahnavi," said another. "So, you're Gopi's little sister? Nice lad, Gopi."

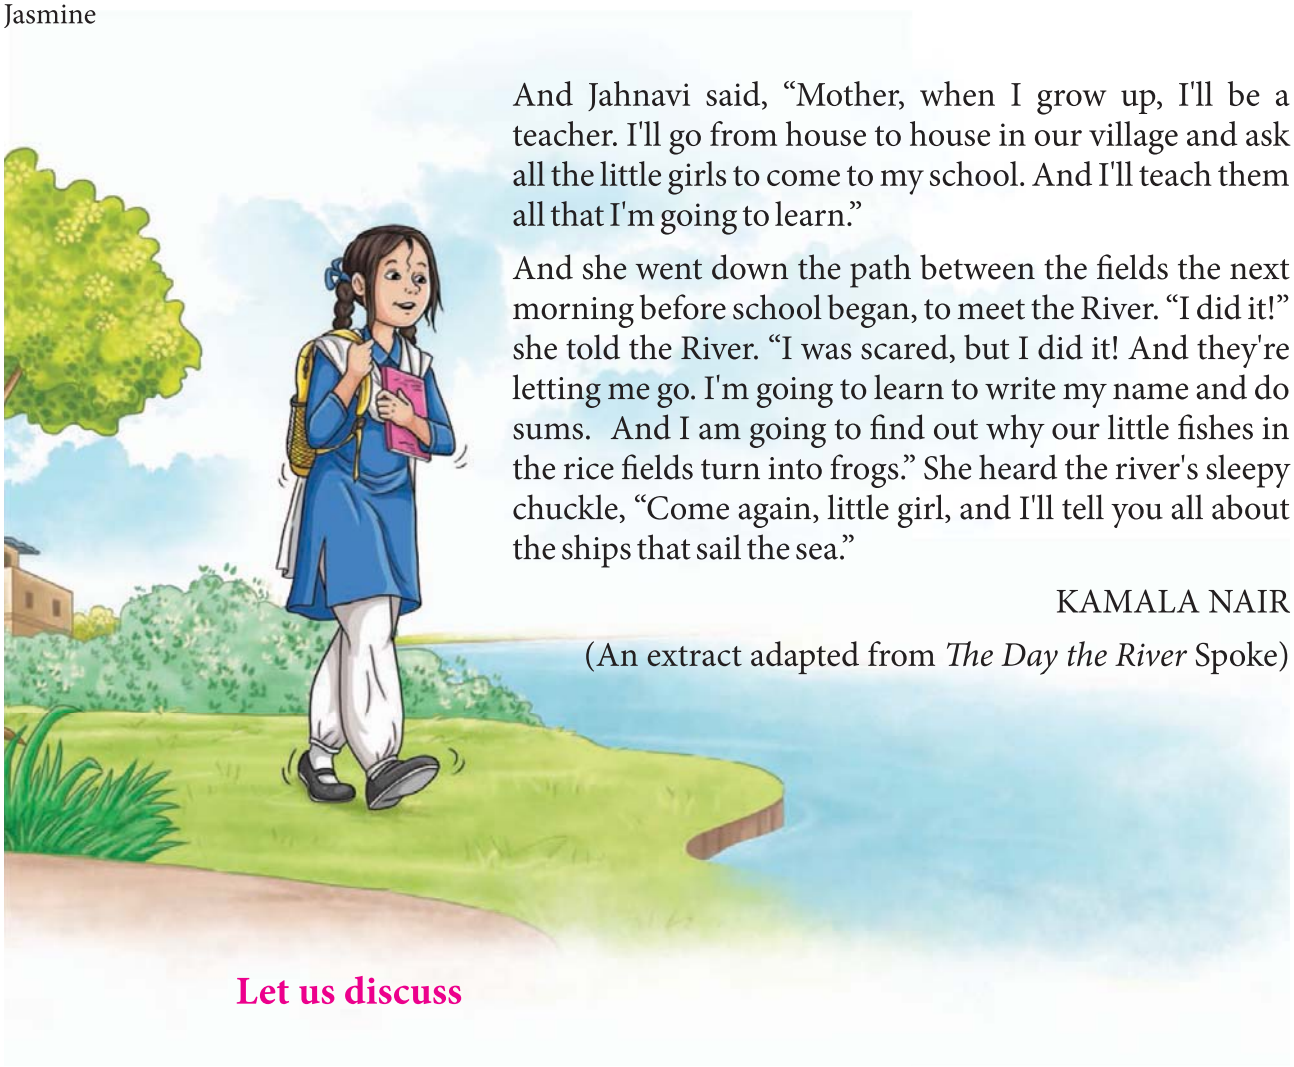

"If you really, really want to come to my school, Jahnavi," the teacher had said, "we'll talk to your father about it. Don't you worry. We'll find a way."

Jahnavi saw the teacher walking up the steps to their gate the next evening when she was lighting the lamp. She could see her father scratching his cheek the way he did when he was worried. The teacher was nodding and saying something she couldn't make out. And Mother said, "Little Jahnavi, I shall miss you when you go to school. Girls should learn as much as they want. When I was your age, I wanted to go to school, but your grandmother said 'No', but now, I am glad the teacher came to talk to your father."

make out : to understand

And Jahnavi said, "Mother, when I grow up, I'll be a teacher. I'll go from house to house in our village and ask all the little girls to come to my school. And I'll teach them all that I'm going to learn."

And she went down the path between the fields the next morning before school began, to meet the River. "I did it!" she told the River. "I was scared, but I did it! And they're letting me go. I'm going to learn to write my name and do sums. And I am going to find out why our little fishes in the rice fields turn into frogs." She heard the river's sleepy chuckle, "Come again, little girl, and I'll tell you all about the ships that sail the sea."

KAMALA NAIR

(An extract adapted from The Day the River Spoke)

Let us discuss

1. Complete the table given below with Jahnavi's questions in Column 1 and the River's answers in Column 2. Check your answers with the teacher.

Column 1	Column 2
...why the moon always comes from behind the hills…?
	… little girls can do as much as little boys.
	Big boats, so big that they can take hundreds of people, and they sail along the sea with lights that shine all night.
Will they come here?

2. The following persons and the river helped Jahnvi to go to school. How ?

Persons & river	How River
Teacher Parents Herself (Jahnvi)

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extracts given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. "You shouldn't cry, you know," the voice went on. "And you really shouldn't be scared, when you have been coming here to see me every day, well, almost every day." She was puzzled. It was such a voice, like the river. It couldn't be the river! "Well, tell me all about it," said the River, for it was the River. "I've got to hurry to reach the sea, you know."

   (i) Complete the sentence with the correct option from those given in the brackets.

   The tone of the River in the given extract is . (assuring/ sympathising)

   (ii) Select a phrase from the extract which shows that Jahnavi was a frequent visitor to the spot.

   (iii) Choose the correct option to complete the sentence.

   The use of an exclamation mark at the end of the line, 'It couldn't be the river!' expresses _____.

   A. excitement B. hesitation C. irritation D. disbelief

   (iv) Choose three qualities of the River highlighted in the extract from the words in the box given below.

affectionate forgiving thoughtful impatient kind-hearted

2. "Can I do something?" asked Jahnavi. "Well, it's up to you," said the River. "Seems to me little girls can do as much as little boys—they swim as fast as little boys. You just slip along one morning and sit there in the school and listen to what's going on, and maybe the teacher will let you stay."

   (i) Complete the sentence with an appropriate reason.

   According to the River, there was no difference between girls and boys because_____.

(ii) Identify whether the following statement is true or false.
The River encourages Jahnavi to have faith in herself and fulfill her desire to go to school.

(iii) Choose the correct option to complete the sentence.
When the River suggests that Jahnavi should 'slip along', it means that she should move.
A. quickly B. casually C. quietly D. confidently

(iv) What does the repetition of the phrase I couldn't, tell us?

(v) In the phrase " I could not " I stands for _____.
A. river B. Jahnvi C. lizard D. writer

II Answer the following questions.

1. The writer describes different aspects of nature through different animals, birds and objects at the beginning of the story. They are _____?
2. How did the River know so much about Jahnavi?
3. Jahnavi says, "And I'm so old now, they'll never let me go." What do you think about ?
4. Why did the River laugh when Jahnavi said she would be scared at school?
5. Why did Jahnavi follow the River's advice?
6. What is the main message that the writer intends to convey?

Let us learn

I You have learnt that naming words are called nouns and only proper nouns begin with a capital letter. Why has the author used a capital letter for the 'River' even when it is a common noun? (Clue: Has the River been given qualities of a human being?)

II There are a few words related to sound in the text. Pick the words from the text and write them next to the correct definition.

1. made a high-pitched piercing sound
2. to cause liquid to strike or fall on something
3. a low continuous background noise
4. cry with loud uncontrollable gasps
5. to make a soft dry sound, like paper or leaves moving
6. took a short quick breath through the mouth due to surprise, pain or shock
7. shaking rapidly to make continuous short, sharp sounds

8. making a lot of noise

9. made a long, high cry, usually because of pain or sadness

Now, fill in the blanks with suitable sound words from exercise (II).

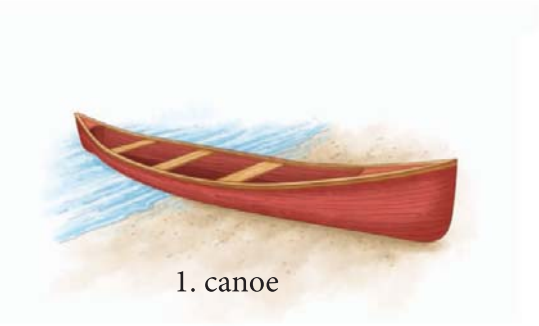

The classroom grew (i) _____ as the students noticed the teacher carrying the answer papers. As the teacher turned the pages with a (ii)_____, the children (iii) _____ , wondering what comments awaited. Someone (iv) _____ in frustration, and the (v) _____ of the students steadily increased. Finally, when the teacher praised the students for their excellent performance, the students (vi) _____ with excitement.

III The word 'catamaran' is used in the text. The word originates from Tamil language 'kattu maram' meaning 'tied wood'.

IV Find out the meanings of these words. From which Indian language these words were borrowed. An example has been given.

1. karma (Sanskrit) 2. sahib 3. chutney 4. guru

5. verandah 6. jungle 7. palanquin

1. canoe

2. catamaran

3. coracle

4. shikara

(i) Which one would you like to travel in?

(ii) Make a colourful drawing of a boat that you would like to travel in.

V Solve the crossword puzzle based on words related to water transport.

						5. C				6. T
1. S										U
										G
	7. Y				2.	O		T		B
3. R
	H									T
	T		4.				M	E	R

Across

1. a large vessel used for transporting goods or passengers by sea
2. a small vessel for travelling on water, typically propelled by oars, sails, or an engine
3. a flat floating structure for travelling across water
4. a boat or ship driven by steam

Across

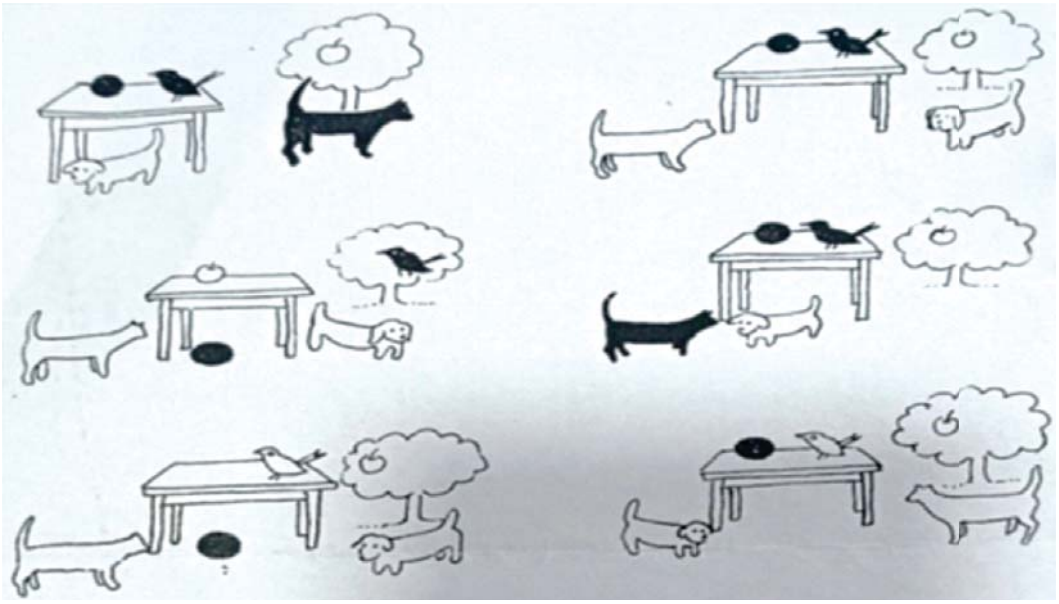

5. a small, light, narrow boat, pointed at both ends and moved using a paddle
6. a boat with a powerful engine which can change direction easily and is used to pull large ships into and out of port
7. a boat with sails and sometimes an engine, used for either racing or travelling for pleasure, rhymes with 'cot'

VI Read the highlighted words in the following lines from the text. They are called prepositions.

"She goes down towards the sea. I've seen her; she always takes the same way— over the mountains and down to the sea, like me!"

Prepositions are words that indicate the relationship between nouns or pronouns and other elements in a sentence. They show direction, location, time or logical relationships between ideas.

A. Here are six pictures, Look at them and say what you see in about 5/6 sentences. (Divide the entire class into five groups and provide each group with one picture from the following set of the pictures. Give 2/3 minutes time for discussion in the group. Their team leader will present with meaningsful sentences.) Use of Propositions.

Note : (The teacher in the classroom will make some groups as per the feasibility of the class. Ask the students to frame questions about the positions of different objects in the picture and answer them.)

Example : Questions : Where is the bird ?
Ans.: The bird is on the table.

B. Now, fill in the blanks with suitable prepositions given within the brackets.

Jahnavi takes the River's advice and goes to school. On her first day 1. _____ (at/in/on) school, Jahnavi stood nervously 2. _____ (in/outside/above) the gate, clutching her bag close to her. The bell rang and she hurried 3 _____ (outside/through/inside) the bustling classroom. She found a seat. 4. _____ (among/between/from) two friendly classmates. The teacher greeted them warmly and started the lesson . 5. _____ (about/in/for) numbers. Jahnavi listened attentively, feeling excited 6. _____ (at/about/for) the new adventure ahead.

A kingfisher swept down, its wings an arrow of blue in the sunlight.

Words like on, off, up, down can function both as preposition and as adverb particle.

For example:

- She ran up the stairs. (preposition)
- She rang me up. (adverb)

Remember, a preposition is usually followed by an object (noun) whereas an adverb will tell you more about the action (verb).

Fill in the blanks with prepositions or adverbs.

1. The cat jumped _____ the table. (preposition)
2. The children played _____ until dark. (adverb)
3. She quickly ran _____ the park. (preposition)
4. The helicopter was hovering _____. (adverb)
5. We were just walking _____, chatting. (adverb)
6. After thoroughly wiping his shoes, he stepped_____. (adverb)
7. She drove slowly _____ the sharp curve. (preposition)
8. He placed the keys _____ the mat before leaving. (preposition)

Let us listen

I Read the words given in the box below. You will listen to five people speak about school life. As you listen, circle the words that are used by the speakers. There are two words you do not need. (Transcript for the teacher on page-40)

lawyer	desks	homemaker	principal	posters
newspapers	marriage	advertisements	careers	books

I I You will once again listen to the five speakers. As you listen, match each statement 1–7 to each speaker (i)–(v). There are two statements that you do not need.

Statements	Speaker No
1. Promotes active participation for all in school activities
2. Comments on how school makes learning Mathematics joyful

Let us read

I Read the sentence given below.

"Dear, dear! What's the matter? … You shouldn't cry, you know. And you really shouldn't be scared, when you have been coming here to see me every day, well, almost every day."

The River spoke to Jahnavi in a 'sleepy' voice. Work in pairs and take turns to speak the same sentence in 'other' voices. Some hints are given below.

happy surprised angry scared sad worried

II Janhavi asks the River for advice and the River gives advice. Read the given situations and work in pairs to ask for and give advice. Take turns to change your roles. Use the prompts given below.

1. Situation (i) : You wish to play football at school but it has an all-boys' team only.
2. Situation (ii) : You have been unable to score well in Mathematics due to nervousness during exams.
3. Situation (iii) : You really enjoy music classes but do not get enough time to practise for it.
4. Situation (iv) : You cannot see the blackboard clearly from the last bench.

Asking for advice

- _____ problem _____ . What do you think I should do ?
- _____problem_____. Do you think I should... ?
- _____problem_____. What would you do in my position ?
- _____problem_____. I'd appreciate your advice on this issue.

Giving advice

- I think you should...
- Why don't you...?
- The best thing to do is...
- If I were you I would / would n't....

The teacher gives an example of how to ask for advice and how to give advice on any one situation using the prompts given.

Let us write

OBSERVING NATURE

Take some time to observe the world around you. Over the next few days, pay attention to the colours, shapes, patterns, and textures found in nature. Look closely at the plants, trees, flowers, birds, and even the sky. Make detailed notes of what you observe, focusing on textures, movements, and how light plays with these elements. Record your observations in detail and the features that draw your attention the most—whether it's the soft ripple of water, the vibrant flutter of a butterfly or the colour of the birds or flowers.

Now, write a descriptive paragraph based on what you've observed. Highlight the colours, shapes, textures, and unique details that made an impression on you.

Give a title to your paragraph.

Ideas	Prompts
• What do you observe?	• Every day, I see... • I find it very interesting that...
• How do you feel? Why?	• I like... because... • I feel... as...
• What is your message to everyone around you?	• I want to tell you that... • My advice to all is...

I Discuss why rivers in India are considered to be sacred and most of them are referred to as female. Some rivers are referred to as male, for example, the Brahmaputra and the Sone.

II Whole Class Activity

1. India is a multilingual country, and many of us can speak two to three languages easily. Make a list of the languages that everyone in the class can speak and display it on a chart paper in the classroom.
2. In which language do you enjoy reading and learning the most?

III Read the poster given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. What are the things you can observe in the poster?
2. Why do you think the girls look happy?
3. Dignity means 'self-respect'. What is the relation between 'dignity' and 'happiness' ?
4. How does a Nation prosper when its daughters are happy?

IV The Government has launched many schemes for the education of the girl child. Some of them are 'Beti Bachao Beti Padhao', 'Balika Samridhi Yojana', 'Samagra Shiksha Scheme – Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidyalayas', etc.

Find out more such schemes from the internet or from your teacher and spread awareness in your neighbourhood.

Let us read

King Bruce of Scotland flung himself down
In a lonely mood to think;
'Tis true he was monarch, and wore a crown,
But his heart was beginning to sink.

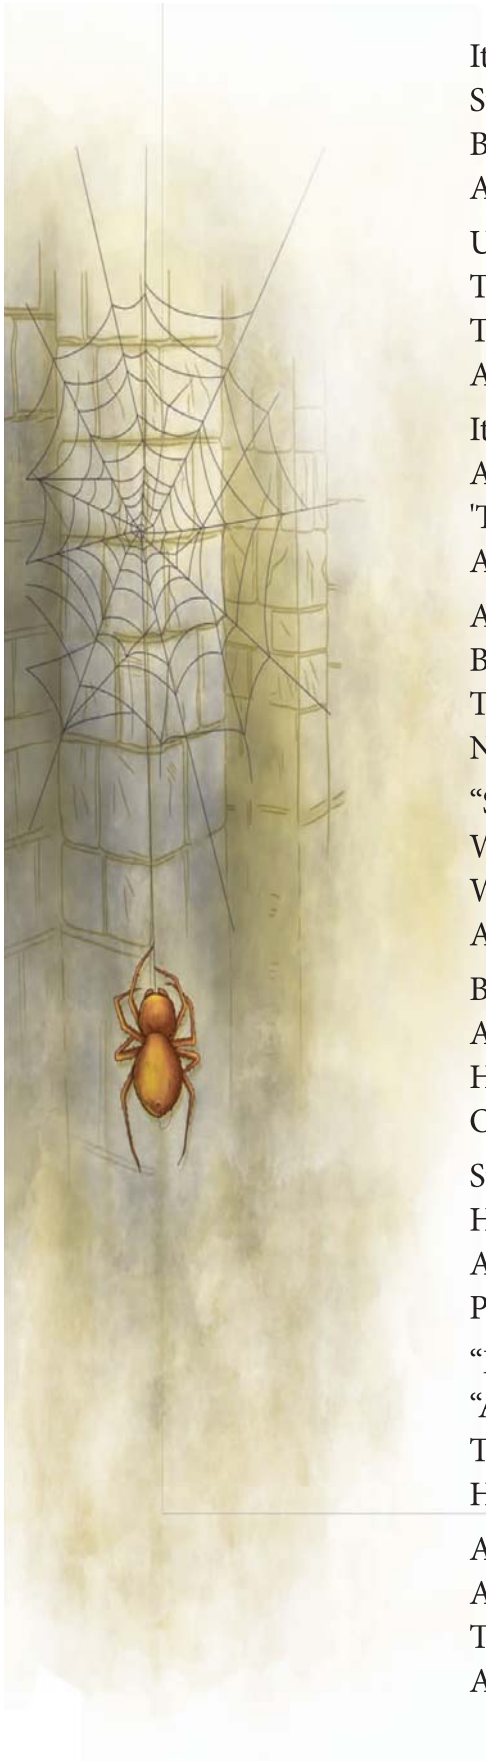

For he had been trying to do a great deed,
To make his people glad;
He had tried and tried, but couldn't succeed
And so he became quite sad.

He flung himself down in low despair,
As grieved as man could be;
And after a while he pondered there,
"I'll give it all up," said he.

Now just at that moment a spider dropped,
With its silken, filmy clue;
And the King, in the midst of his thinking, stopped
To see what the spider would do.

'Twas a long way up to the ceiling dome,
And it hung by a rope so fine;
That how it would get to its cobweb home,
King Bruce could not divine.

It soon began to cling and crawl
Straight up with strong endeavour;
But down it came with a slippery sprawl,
As near to the ground as ever.

Up, up it ran, not a second to stay,
To utter the least complaint;
Till it fell still lower, and there it lay,
A little dizzy and faint.

Its head grew steady — again it went,
And travelled a half-yard higher;
'Twas a delicate thread it had to tread,
And a road where its feet would tire.

Again it fell and swung below,
But again it quickly mounted;
Till up and down, now fast, now slow,
Nine brave attempts were counted.

"Sure," cried the King, "that foolish thing
Will strive no more to climb;
When it toils so hard to reach and cling,
And tumbles every time."

But up the insect went once more,
Ah me! 'tis an anxious minute;
He's only a foot from his cobweb door,
Oh say, will he lose or win it?

Steadily, steadily, inch by inch,
Higher and higher he got;
And a bold little run at the very last pinch
Put him into his native cot.

"Bravo, bravo!" the King cried out,
"All honour to those who try;
The spider up there, defied despair;
He conquered, and why shouldn't I?"

And Bruce of Scotland braced his mind,
And gossips tell the tale,
That he tried once more as he tried before,
And that time did not fail.

Let us discuss

I Complete the summary of the poem choosing the suitable words given in the box. Share your answers with the teacher. An example has been given.

tried	mounted	despair	attempts	great conquered	low	strive

The poem, written in a narrative style, tells the story of King Bruce of Scotland, who was feeling 1. _____ after failing multiple times to achieve something 2. _____for his people. In a moment of 3. _____, he observed a spider trying to reach its web high above. The spider 4. _____ every time it fell after getting close to its goal. It made nine 5. _____ and finally succeeded. The king said that the spider had 6. _____ and so would he. Inspired by the spider's determination, King Bruce decided to 7. _____ When he 8._____ this time, he ultimately succeeded.

II Complete the following sentence suitably.
The central idea of the poem is _____.

III Pick three examples from the poem for each of the following:
1. lines that describe the spider's efforts
2. alliteration (the repetition of the same consonant sounds at the beginning of closely connected words)

IV Why does the poet repeat the following words or phrases in the poem?
tried and tried; steadily, steadily; up, up

V In stanza 1, 'down' rhymes with 'crown'. Now find the pairs of rhyming words in the poem. Discuss in groups also.

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extracts given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. He flung himself down in low despair,
As grieved as man could be;
And after a while he pondered there,
"I'll give it all up," said he. Now just at that moment a spider dropped, With its silken, filmy clue;

(i) Select the phrase which shows the physical expression of the King's emotional state.

(ii) The poet has used the word 'low' before despair.
What does the word 'low' mean here?

(iii) Choose the correct option to complete the sentence.
In the line, 'And after a while he pondered there', the word 'pondered' means_____.
A. paused B. thought C. noticed D. rested

(iv) Choose the correct option from the words given in the brackets.
The phrase 'silken filmy clue' creates an image of something that is _____ (long and light/very delicate and soft).

2. "...when it toils so hard to reach and cling,
And tumbles every time."
But up the insect went once more,
Ah me! it is an anxious minute;
He's only a foot from his cobweb door,
Oh say, will he lose or win it?

(i) List any two characteristics of the spider highlighted in the line, 'But up the insect went once more'.

(ii) Choose the correct option to complete the sentence.
The expression 'Ah me!' in the extract indicates a sense of_____.
A. happiness B. stress C. relief D. loneliness

(iii) Complete the sentence with an appropriate reason.
Readers are able to relate to this extract because _____.

3. Answer the following questions.

1. How does the first stanza help in setting the mood of the poem?
2. Describe how King Bruce's attitude changes from the beginning towards the end of the poem.
3. The poet describes every action of the spider in great detail. What does this tell us about her attitude towards the spider?
4. How does the spider inspire us to overcome despair and not give up?
5. The poem teaches us that failures are stepping stones to success. Explain.
6. The spider's journey tells us that anyone can be a source of inspiration in our lives. Elaborate.

Let us learn

I Write the opposite word in meaning of the following.

1. up x _____
2. fast x _____
3. glad x _____
4. win x _____
5. succeed x _____

II Read the following sentences. Match the meaning of the underlined words with the expressions given in the box.

1. work very hard and/or for a long time
2. prepared themselves for something difficult
3. an attempt to do something new or difficult
4. to try very hard to achieve something

(i) Please make every endeavour to arrive on time.

(ii) Ants toil tirelessly to save food for rainy season.

(iii) We encourage all students to strive to do their best.

(iv) The sailors braced themselves against the strong wind.

III The poem uses words that show distance.

For example:

a long way up, inch by inch, higher and higher, half-yard higher

Some of the words are given below in a box. They relate to distance 'Far' and 'Near'. Separate them into two groups in the space provided. (You may take the help of a dictionary) proximity	middle of nowhere	vicinity	adjacent remoteness	yonder	afar	a stone's throw light year	hairline	farther

Far	Near

Let us listen

I You will listen to a story about an ant. Read the questions given below and before you listen, guess the answers to these questions. (Transcript for the teacher on page-41)

1. What was the ant known for?
   (i) determination (ii) strength (iii) wisdom
2. Why was the ant unable to take the roti home?
   (i) It was stuck under a rock.
   (ii) It was too heavy to carry.
   (iii) It was pulled by other ants.
3. What was the bird doing?
   (i) playing with the ant
   (ii) searching for food
   (iii) picking up leaves
4. How did the bird make the ant feel?
   (i) proud (ii) inspired (iii) relaxed
5. How did the fellow ants help?
   (i) by advising the ant continuously
   (ii) by standing still near the ant
   (iii) by joining the ant in her efforts

II Now, listen to the story once again and as you listen, check whether your answers are correct.

I Collect folk songs in your own language that connect us with nature and compile them as a class project.

II Did you know that spiders are not insects ? They belong to a group called the arachnids. Observe a spider and an ant from a distance and note down the differences between them. Share your observations with your classmates. Ask your Science teacher for more information to know about spiders better.

III Let us learn how to weave a spider web.

1. Take three sticks (each about eight inches long) and a roll of old wool.
2. Tie the sticks together in the centre with the wool (Fig. 1).
3. Start weaving the web by putting a loop around every stick (Fig. 2 and 3).

4. Complete the web and tie the thread in a knot on the stick where the web is complete (Fig. 4).

   Now, decorate it with words and phrases you learnt about the spider in the poem or anything else that you like.

Three Days to See

Let us do these activities before we read.

I Work in pairs. Recall a visit to a place that you liked. Discuss the details of that place and write about the following:

1. Name of the place
2. The person(s) you went with
3. The things that you could:
   - see listen
   - smell
   - taste
   - touch and feel

II How does this memory make you feel?

III Do you think your visit/experience would be different if you could not see or hear? Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

Did you know that our five senses are essential for us to experience and make sense of the world around us?

Let us read

I, who cannot see, find hundreds of things to interest me through mere touch. I feel the delicate symmetry of a leaf. I pass my hands lovingly about the smooth skin of a silver birch, or the rough, shaggy branch of a pine. In spring, I touch the branches of trees hopefully in search of a bud, the first sign of awakening Nature after her winter's sleep. Occasionally, I am very fortunate; I place my hand gently on a small tree and feel the happy quiver of a bird in full song.

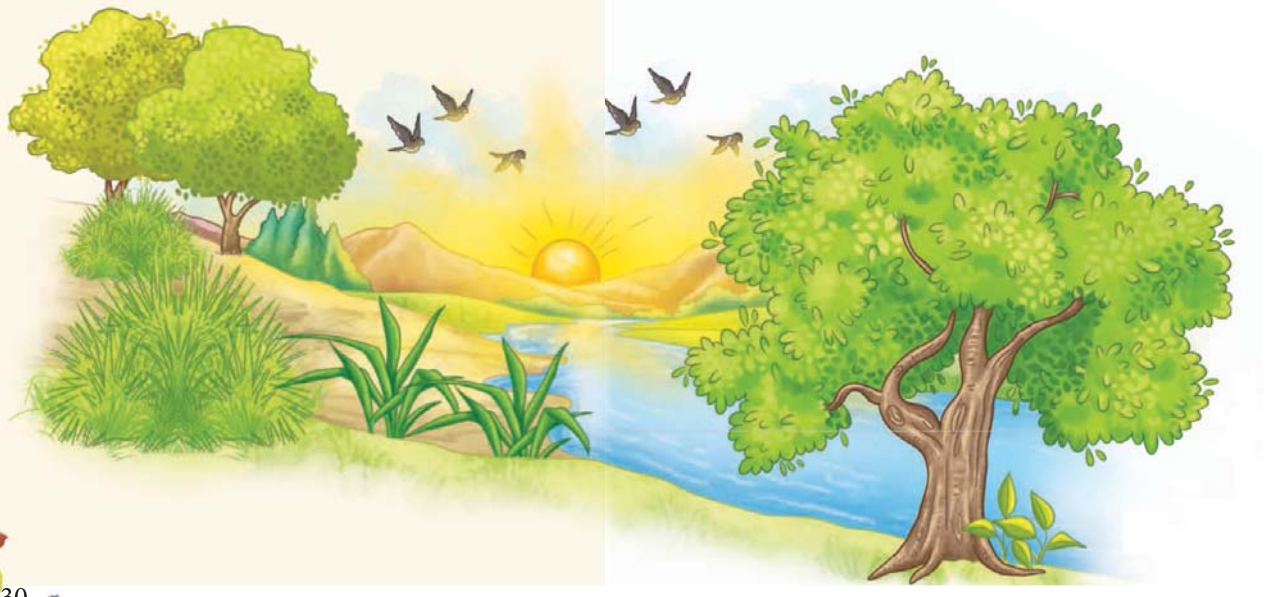

At times, my heart cries out with longing to see all these things. If I can get so much pleasure from mere touch, how much more beauty must be revealed by sight.

And I have imagined what I should most like to see if I were given the use of my eyes, say, for just three days.

I should divide the period into three parts. On the first day, I should want to see the people whose kindness and companionship have made my life worth living. I do not know what it is to see into the heart of a friend through that 'window of the soul', the eye.

I can only 'see' through my fingertips the outline of a face. I can detect laughter, sorrow and other obvious emotions. I know my friends from the feel of their faces.

symmetry: evenness birch: a tree with thin smooth branches shaggy: hairy
quiver: shiver/tremble in the cold or from excitement behold: see panorama: scene glimpse: brief look pageant: display

condensed: brief
carcasses: remains/the body of the dead animals mastodons: a large animal similar to an elephant, but with fur stature: physique, build haunts: regular meeting places merely: just compassionate: sympathetic

The next day I should arise with the dawn and see the thrilling miracle by which night is transformed into day. I should behold with awe the magnificent panorama of light with which the sun awakens the sleeping earth. This day I should devote to a hasty glimpse of the world, past and present. I should want to see the pageant of man's progress, and so I should go to the museums. There my eyes would see the condensed history of the earth—animals and the races of men pictured in their native environment; gigantic carcasses of dinosaurs and mastodons that roamed the earth before man appeared, with his tiny stature and powerful brain, to conquer the animal kingdom.

The following morning, I should again greet the dawn, anxious to discover new delights, new revelations of beauty. Today, this third day, I shall spend in the workaday world, amid the haunts of men going about the business of life. The city becomes my destination.

First, I stand at a busy corner, merely looking at people, trying by sight of them to understand something of their daily lives. I see smiles, and I am happy. I see serious determination, and I am proud. I see suffering, and I am compassionate.

At midnight, permanent night would close in on me again. Naturally in those three short days I should not have seen all I wanted to see. Only when darkness had again descended upon me should I realise how much I had left unseen.

I who am blind can give one hint to those who can see: use your eyes as if tomorrow you would be stricken blind. And the same method can be applied to your other senses. Hear the music of voice, the song of a bird, the mighty strains of an orchestra, as if you would be stricken deaf tomorrow. Touch each object as if tomorrow your tactile sense would fail. Smell the perfume of flowers, taste with relish each morsel, as if tomorrow you could never smell and taste again. Make the most of every sense; glory in all the facets of pleasure and beauty, which the world reveals to you through the several means of contact, which Nature provides. But of all the senses, I am sure that sight must be the most delightful one.

HELEN KELLER

strains: tunes

tactile sense: sense of touch morsel: a small piece of food facets: aspects

Let us discuss

I Work in pairs. Identify the statements that are true from the ones given below. Share your answers with the teacher.

1. The author expresses a deep longing to experience the world through the sense of hearing.
2. The author would like exploring the city only to observe how people are suffering.
3. The author would spend the first day seeing the people whose kind-heartedness and friendship have enriched her life.
4. The author acknowledges that even in three days, she would not be able to see everything.
5. The author feels that everyone can find the greatest joy merely by the sense of touch.
6. The author advises those who can see to appreciate every moment as if they might lose their senses tomorrow.
7. On the third day, the author would like to observe people in their daily lives and understand their experiences.
8. The author focuses that the sight must be the most delightful one.

II Complete the table given below with what Helen Keller wanted to do on the three days if she had sight.

Day 1	Day 2	Day 4
see the people, know her friends from the feel of their faces, …	arise with the dawn,…

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extracts given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. I feel the delicate symmetry of a leaf. I pass my hands lovingly about the smooth skin of a silver birch, or the rough, shaggy branch of a pine. In spring, I touch the branches of trees hopefully in search of a bud, the first sign of awakening Nature after her winter's sleep. Occasionally, I am very fortunate; I place my hand gently on a small tree and feel the happy quiver of a bird in full song.

(i) How many times the word 'I' is used in the passage ?

(ii) The word I refers to _____. (Choose the correct option)

A. Leaf B. Tree C. Author D. Nature

(iii) Complete the sentence appropriately. (Choose the correct option)

The phrase 'awakening Nature after her winter's sleep' refers to _____

A. winter B. spring C. sunner D. autumn

2. The next day I should arise with the dawn and see the thrilling miracle by which night is transformed into day. I should behold with awe the magnificent panorama of light with which the sun awakens the sleeping earth. This day I should devote to a hasty glimpse of the world, past and present. I should want to see the pageant of man's progress, and so I should go to the museums.

(i) The word 'thrilling' has been used with 'miracle'.

Which of the following words does not match with the word 'thrilling'?

A. experience B. tale C. knowledge D. adventure

(ii) Why does the author refer to the earth as 'sleeping earth'?

(iii) Complete the sentence with an appropriate reason.

The writer wishes to dedicate the day to a brief look at the present and past world because_____.

(iv) How many time 'should' is used ?

(v) What does the use of 'should' focus in the extract ?

II Answer the following questions.

1. The sense of touch makes up for the loss of sight and hearing. Explain this statement with reference to the text.
2. Why does the author believe that the sense of sight is the most wonderful one?
3. How might the author's opinion on making the most of our senses guide us to be kinder towards people with special abilities ?
4. What is the significance of the loss of a sense, according to the author ?
5. How does the author encourage people to approach their everyday sensory experiences ?

Let us Learn

I Sensory words are descriptive—they describe how we experience the world: how we see, hear, smell, taste or feel something.

Some sensory words from the text are given in column 2 for the 5 senses in column 1. Read the text again and add the new words in column 3.

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3
What you see	panorama
What you hear	music
What you smell	perfume
What you taste	relish
What you feel	rough

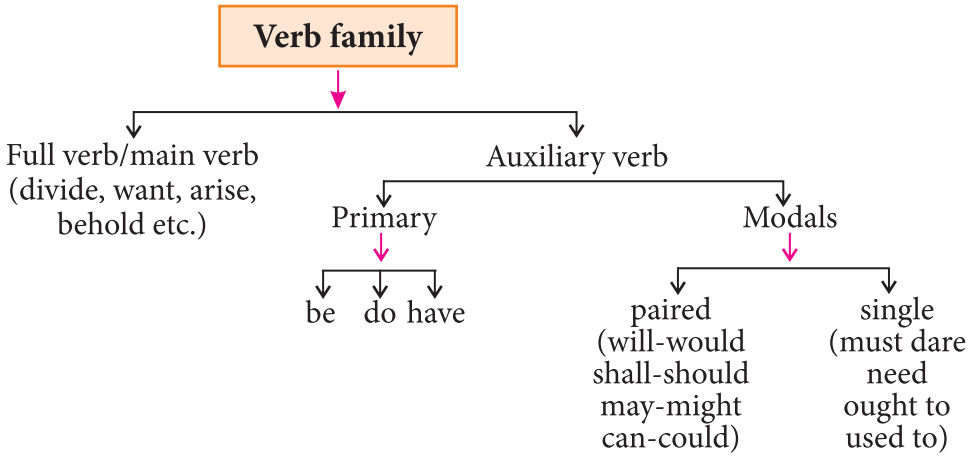

II Read the following sentences from the text and underline the verbs.

- I should divide the period into three parts.
- On the first day, I should want to see…
- The next day I should arise with the dawn…
- I should behold with awe…

The words you have underlined are a combination of two verbs. In each of these sentences, 'should' is the modal verb (suggestion), and the second verb (divide, want, arise, behold) is the main verb.

Modal verbs are auxiliary verbs that express necessity, possibility, permission, or ability. They are used before the main verb to give additional information about the function of the main verb. Common modal verbs include can, could, may, might, shall, should, will, would, must, and ought to.

Look at the chart

III. Identify the modal verbs in the following sentences. Choose the functions they express from those given in the box below.

possibility necessity polite request ability moral obligation

1. You can learn a lot from this experience.
2. They might arrive late due to traffic.
3. She must finish her homework before dinner.
4. They ought to apologise for their mistake.
5. He would like to have some lassi, please.

IV Read the situations in Column 1 and functions in Column 2. Fill in the blanks in the sentences in Column 4 with appropriate modal verbs from Column 3. After filling in the blanks, the teacher makes groups and allows the students to discuss the function of each modal.

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3	Column 4
1. You want to leave work early.	permission	can, could, may, might, must, ought to, shall, should, will, would	(i) _____ I leave early today if I finish all my tasks?
2. You have an important deadline tomorrow.	obligation		(ii) I _____ finish this report by tomorrow.
3. Your friend is thinking whether to join Art class.	advice		(iii) You _____ consider all the pros and cons before making a decision.
4. There are dark clouds in the sky.	possibility		(iv) It _____ rain later today.
5. Asking someone to pass the salt at the dinner table	polite request		(v) _____ you pass the salt, please?
6. Advising someone to apologise for a mistake	moral obligation		(vi) You _____ apologise for the mistake you made.
7. Deciding where to go for picnic	suggestion		(vii) We _____ go to any park nearby for picnic.

- speak clearly and confidently
- glance at your notes for reference rather than reading
- make eye contact
- use gestures if you wish to
- pronounce words clearly and avoid mumbling
- speak at a steady, moderate pace

Let us write

A descriptive paragraph describes a person, place, object or event to create a memorable experience for the reader. Write a descriptive paragraph describing a place that you visited recently.

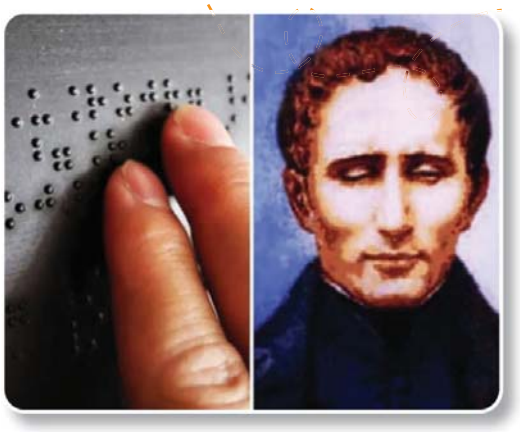

Follow the guidelines given below to draft this paragraph.

1. In the opening line, begin with something interesting to capture the reader's attention. Introduce the place you visited.
2. In the supporting lines, describe the place using adjectives and specific details that appealed to your five senses—sight, sound, smell, taste, and touch. You may repeat words , phrases, sentences: compare objects and use personification to hold the reader's attention.
3. Use fresh, soothing, ear kissing words.
4. Sentences must have a magnetic touch
5. Try not to use long sentences
6. In the concluding lines, summarise the description to provide a final impression. Mention what was the most important thing about that place which others should also experience.

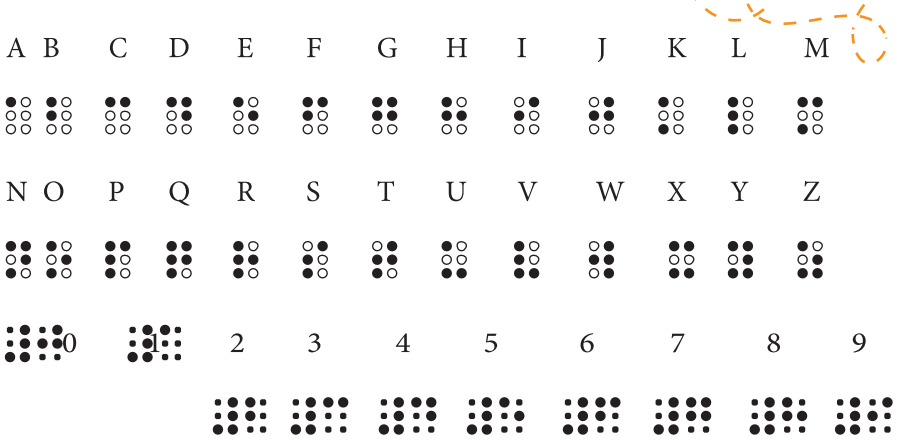

Let us explore

Do you know how persons with visual challenges are able to read and write ? They read through touch with the help of Braille, a code of raised dots that represents the letters of the alphabet. This touch code (tactile) was developed over a period of nine years by Louis Braille, who became blind at a very young age due to an accident.

Let us listen (refer to page 12)

I Read the words given in the box below. You will listen to five people speak about school life. As you listen, circle the words that are used by the speakers. There are two words you do not need.

SPEAKER (i): (Father) Should girls attend school? Yes, they should. I do my best to ensure that both my son and daughter get equal opportunities. I look forward to their successful careers and rewarding lives. I feel education gives freedom to make choices in life. Whether my daughter wants to work in an organisation or be a homemaker, it should be her choice and the same applies to my son.

SPEAKER (ii): (Grandmother) I went to school but many girls at that time could not attend school because some elders in the village felt that girls should help in the house and take care of their little brothers and sisters. I am happy that the situation has changed today.

SPEAKER (iii): (Teacher) The school prepares students for meaningful and useful participation in the world of work by learning hands-on abilities and skills, developing equal respect for head-hands-heart, valuing the dignity of labour, and understanding vocational choices for the future.

SPEAKER (iv): (Student) I like to go to school. I feel that by coming to school and reading the books, I learn about things from all over the world. I also have friends with whom I can share my feelings.

SPEAKER (v) : (Principal) Everyone should attend school. You must've noticed that the girls are doing very well. However, as the Head of an institution, I know that all students can work hard. My message to students is that they should attend school regularly and take part in every school activity without bothering whether it is for girls or boys. The idea is to focus on learning.

Try Again

Let us listen (refer to page 24)

1. You will listen to a story about an ant. Read the questions given below and before you listen, guess the answers to these questions.

Hello everyone,

I'm sure you have enjoyed learning about King Bruce and the spider. Let me share another story with you.

In a thick green forest, there lived a little ant. She was known for her determination and never-give-up attitude. One sunny day, the ant found a delicious piece of roti that was too big for her to carry alone.

"This crumb is huge, but I must get it back to the anthill. My family will be so happy!" she thought to herself.

She tried to lift the crumb with all her might, but it was too heavy. She tried pushing it, pulling it and even rolling it, but nothing seemed to work. Exhausted and saddened, she sat down and began to cry.

As the ant sat there, feeling beaten, she noticed a small bird nearby. The bird was trying to build a nest. It picked up twigs and leaves, but every time it tried to place them, the wind would blow them away. However, the bird did not give up. It kept trying, over and over again, until finally, it managed to build a strong nest.

"If that bird can keep trying and succeed, then I shouldn't give up either," she thought, feeling inspired.

Determined once more, the ant gathered all her strength and decided to try again. She called her fellow ants for help. Together, they formed a chain and lifted the crumb with their combined strength. Slowly but surely, they carried the crumb back to the anthill.

"We did it! Thank you, everyone! We showed that with teamwork and never giving up, we can achieve anything!" the ant shouted, excited and grateful.

She and her friends celebrated their success.

We too should learn this lesson from the ant's experience—never give up, no matter how difficult the situation may seem.

Hope you all liked the story.

Thank you!

2. Now, listen to the story once again and as you listen, check whether your answers are correct. Rectify wherever needed.

Three Days to See

Let us listen (refer to page 37)

You will listen to a conversation between a mother and son. As you listen, select four true statements from 1–7 given below.

ANUJ : Ma, we have a new student in our class, Tara. She's quite talkative and pleasant. You know, the writing in her books doesn't look like ours. It's different. She told us that it's called Braille.

MOTHER : It's great to know that your school has facilities to address the needs of the visually impaired. Thanks to the Digital India Initiative, which is paving the way for inclusion of the visually impaired.

ANUJ : Oh, Digital India! That's about being computer literate, isn't it?

MOTHER : Well, Digital India is about more than just internet access. It aims to include everyone, including people with disabilities, by providing digital infrastructure and services. For the visually impaired, it means access to assistive technologies like screen readers, voice-over- enabled smartphones and apps that can make daily activities easier.

ANUJ : Ohh... interesting. What is a screen reader, Ma?

MOTHER : I knew you'd ask about it! Well, a screen reader is a software application that helps people who are visually impaired use computers and smartphones. It reads out the text displayed on the screen and provides audio feedback.

ANUJ : That's amazing! So, Tara can use a computer just like we do?

MOTHER : Yes, she can.

ANUJ : So, it makes a big difference in their daily lives.

MOTHER : It certainly does. It ensures that people who are visually impaired can use digital services independently, without help from others. This can improve their quality of life. It also opens up more job opportunities in fields like IT, banking, and more, where they can work just efficiently like anybody else.

ANUJ : Wow! So that means people who are visually impaired can work and do things on their own? I'm so proud of my school.

MOTHER : Yes, and thiS way, we can ensure that the benefits of Digital India reach everyone, helping them to participate fully in all areas of life.

Remember, inclusion is not just about having the right tools, but also about having the right mindset.

WIT AND HUMOUR

ANIMALS, BIRDS, AND DR. DOLITTLE

Let us do these activities before we read.

I Do you have a pet or a domestic animal? If yes, why? If not, why not? How do people usually spend time with a pet or domestic animal? Share your thoughts with your classmates and the teacher.

II You must have read stories where animals and birds talk. You would like to talk to an animal or a bird to share your views. Discuss your feelings in groups.

III Closely observe the body language of animals and birds. You can understand what they want to tell you.

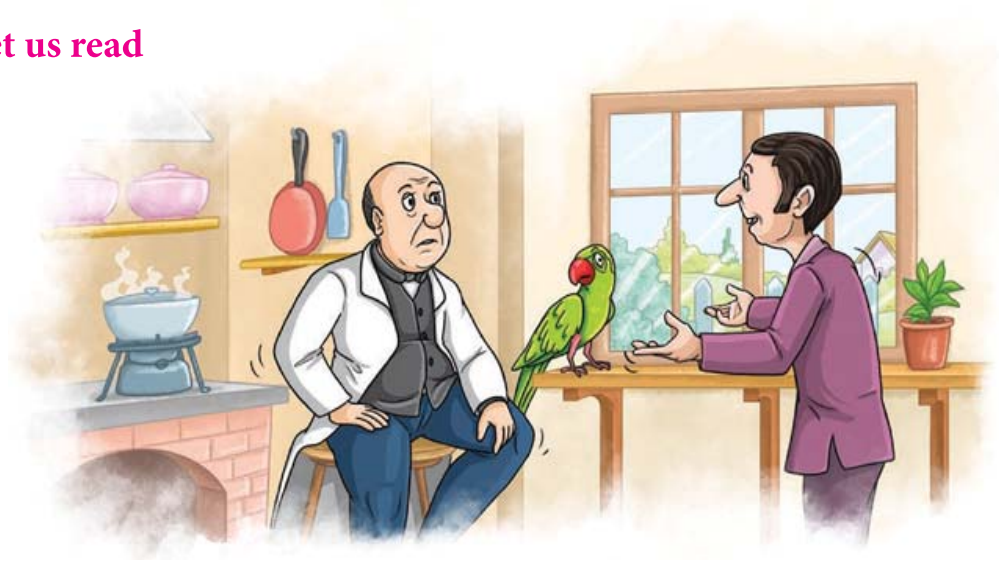

Work in pairs and study the pictures given below. Try to find out the emotions of animals and birds they are trying to convey. Share your views with your classmates and the teacher.

(1) (2) (3) (4)

Teacher may use digital video/ audio of animals giving out sound in class and students may be asked to guess their emotions. Students may be given chance to act as animals and birds. They may produce the sounds of animals and birds to convey their feelings.

Let us read

Doctor Dolittle was sitting in his kitchen talking with the Cat's- food-Man who had come to see him with a stomach-ache.

"Why don't you give up being a people's doctor, and be an animal doctor?" asked the Cat's-food-Man.

vets : an animal doctor

scholar: a learned person

The parrot, Polynesia, was sitting in the window looking out at the rain and singing a sailor song to herself. She stopped singing and started to listen.

"You see, Doctor," the Cat's-food-Man went on, "you know all about animals—much more than what these vets here do. You've written a wonderful book about cats. I can't read or write myself—my wife, Theodosia, is a scholar, and she read your book to me. You might have been a cat yourself. You know the way they think."

When the Cat's-food-Man had gone the parrot flew off the window on to the Doctor's table and said, "That man's got sense. That's what you ought to do. Be an animal doctor. Give the silly people up—if they haven't brains enough to see you're the best doctor in the world. Take care of animals instead—they'll soon find it out. Be an animal doctor."

"Oh, there are plenty of animal doctors," said John Dolittle, putting the flowerpots outside on the windowsill to get the rain.

"Yes, there are plenty," said Polynesia. "But none of them are any good at all. Now listen, Doctor, and I'll tell you something. Did you know that animals can talk?"

"I knew that parrots can talk," said the Doctor.

"Oh, we parrots can talk in two languages—people's language and bird language," said Polynesia proudly. "If I say, 'Polly wants a cracker', you understand me. But hear this: Ka-ka oi- ee, fee-fee?"

"Good Gracious!" cried the Doctor. "What does that mean?" "That means, 'Is the porridge hot yet?'—in bird language."

"My! You don't say so!" said the Doctor. "You never talked that way to me before."

"What would have been the good?" said Polynesia, dusting some cracker crumbs off her left wing. "You wouldn't have understood me if I had."

"Tell me some more," said the Doctor, all excited; and he rushed over to the drawer and came back with a book and a pencil. "Now don't go too fast—and I'll write it down. This is interesting—very interesting—something quite new. Give me the Birds' A.B.C. first—slowly now."

So that was the way the Doctor came to know that animals had a language of their own and could talk to one another. And all that afternoon, while it was raining, Polynesia sat on the kitchen table giving him bird words to put down in the book.

At teatime, when the dog, Jip, came in, the parrot said to the Doctor, "See, he's talking to you."

"Looks to me as though he were scratching his ear," said the Doctor.

"But animals don't always speak with their mouths," said the parrot in a high voice, raising her eyebrows. "They talk with their ears, with their feet, with their tails—with everything. Sometimes they don't want to make a noise.

cracker: a thin, dry biscuit usually eaten with cheese

Good Gracious : Used for expressing surprise

Porridge: food item made by grains with hot water/milk (kheer) crumbs : small pieces of biscuits

Scratching: to rub lightly as to relieve itching.

Do you see now the way he's twitching up one side of his nose?"

twitching: a sudden movement of a body part

"What's that mean?" asked the Doctor.

"That means, 'Can't you see that it has stopped raining?'" Polynesia answered. "He is asking you a question. Dogs nearly always use their noses for asking questions."

After a while, with the parrot's help, the Doctor got to learn the language of the animals so well that he could talk to them himself and understand everything they said. Then he gave up being a people's doctor altogether.

Let us discuss

I Select the right answer and fill in the blanks .

The Cat's-food-Man suggests that Doctor Dollitle should become an animal doctor because he believes that Dolittle _____

1. earns less fee by treating human patients
2. enjoys the company of animals as they speak less
3. dislikes spending time with human patients
4. knows more about animals than the local veterinarians

II Fill in the blanks by choosing the suitable option given in the brackets.

Doctor Dolittle reacts to Polynesia's information about animal languages with both excitement and _____ (certainty/curiosity). He rushes to _____ (write/memorise) the bird words she provides and is interested in learning more.

III Do you think Doctor Dolittle would be famous as an animal doctor ? If yes, why ? If not, why not ?

II

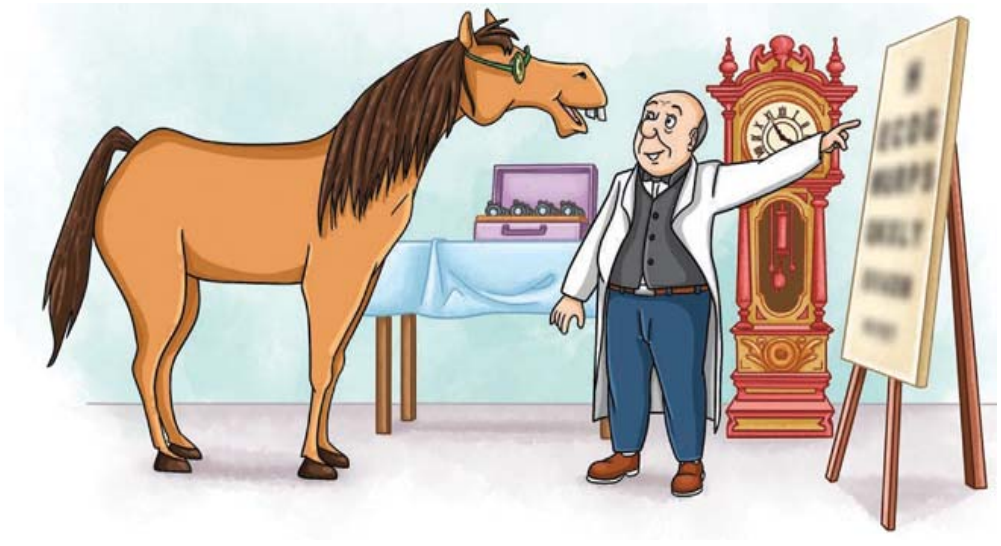

As soon as the Cat's-food-Man had told everyone that John Dolittle was going to become an animal doctor, old ladies began to bring him their pet pugs and poodles who had eaten too much cake; and farmers came many miles to show him sick cows and sheep.

pugs and poodles: different breeds of dogs.

One day a plough horse was brought to him; and the poor thing was terribly glad to find a man who could talk in horse language.

"You know, Doctor," said the horse, "that vet over the hill knows nothing at all. He has been treating me six weeks now—for something or the other. What I need is spectacles. I am going blind in one eye. There's no reason why horses shouldn't wear glasses, the same as people. But that stupid man over the hill never even looked at my eyes. He kept on giving me big pills. I tried to tell him, but he couldn't understand a word of horse language. What I need is spectacles."

"Of course—of course," said the Doctor. "I'll get you some at once."

"I would like a pair like yours," said the horse—"only green. They'll keep the Sun out of my eyes while I'm ploughing the field."

"Certainly," said the Doctor. "Green ones you shall have."

doctor (verb): change/behave dishonest way

"You know, the trouble is, Sir," said the plough horse as the Doctor opened the front door to let him out—"the trouble is that anybody thinks he can doctor animals—just because the animals don't complain. As a matter of fact, it takes a much cleverer man to be a really good animal doctor than it does to be a good people's doctor."

countryside: rural area

poddleby : name of Dolittle's village (a fictional village in England)

"Well, well!" said the Doctor.

"When will my glasses be ready?"

"I'll have them for you next week," said the Doctor. "Come in again Tuesday—Good morning!"

Then John Dolittle got a fine, big pair of green spectacles; and the plough horse stopped going blind in one eye and could see as well as ever.

And soon it became a common sight to see farm animals wearing glasses in the countryside, round Puddleby; and a blind horse was a thing unknown.

And so it was with all the other animals that were brought to him. As soon as they found that Doctor Dolittle could talk their language, they told him where the pain was and how they felt. And it was easy for the doctor to cure them.

Now all these animals went back and told their brothers and friends that there was a doctor in the little house with the big garden who really was a doctor. And whenever any creatures got sick—not only horses and cows and dogs—but all the little things of the fields, like harvest mice, badgers, and bats, all came at once to his house on the edge of the town. So his big garden was nearly always crowded with animals trying to get into see him.

So many animals came there. He had to have special doors made for the different kinds. He wrote 'HORSES' over the front door, 'COWS' over the side door, and 'SHEEP' on the kitchen door. Each kind of animal had a separate door—even the mice had a tiny tunnel made for them into the cellar, where they waited patiently in rows for the Doctor to come round to them.

And so, in a few years' time, every living thing for miles and miles got to know about John Dolittle, M.D. And the birds who flew to other countries in the winter told the animals in foreign lands about Dolittle who could understand their talk and help them in their troubles. In this way he became famous among the animals—all over the world. He was happy and liked his life very much.

IV Read the following sentences from the text.

- That man's (man has) got sense.
- Can't you see that it has stopped raining?

In the first sentence the verb, 'has got' denote an action that is relevant at the time of speaking.

In the second sentence, the verb 'has stopped' denote an action that is recently completed.

We use present perfect tense to indicate:

- a recently completed action
- an action that started in the past and is relevant even at the present moment of speaking
- an action in the past where the focus is on the action and not on the time of occurrence (but relevant at the time of speaking)

Structure of Present Perfect Tense: has/ have + verb third form (past participle form)

Fill in the blanks using the correct form of verbs (present perfect) given within brackets.

Since becoming an animal doctor, Doctor Dolittle 1._____ (learn) to communicate with all animals and birds. He Look around you for things or people that make you laugh. Write them in the bubbles given below. Share the reasons for your answers with your classmates and the teacher. (One is done for you.)

Let us read

One day a funny kind of man
Came walking down this street
He wore a shoe upon his head
And hats upon his feet.

He raised the shoe and smiled at me,
His manners were polite;
But never had I seen before
Such a funny sounding sight.

He said, "Allow me to present
Your Highness with a rose."
And taking out a currant bun
He held it to my nose..

I staggered back against the wall
And then I answered, "Well!
I never saw a rose with such A funny looking smell."

He then began to sing a song,
And sat down on the ground;
You never heard in all your life
Such a funny feeling sound.

"My friend, why do you wear two hats Upon your feet?" I said.

He turned the other way about,
And hopped home on his head.

Let us learn

Read the following phrases from the poem.

- walking down
- taking out
- sat down

These are two-word verbs : (phrasal or prepositional verbs).

They are combinations of a verb with a preposition or an adverb particle that together function as a single unit. They often have meanings that are different from the individual words used alone. The same verb followed by different prepositions or adverb particles conveys different meanings.

I Match the phrasal verbs in Column 1 with their correct meaning in Column 2.

Column 1	Column 2
1. take up	(i) to understand or comprehend something
2. take after	(ii) to assume control or responsibility for something
3. take in	(iii) to begin to study, practise, or do something
4. take over	(iv) to become successful or popular quickly
5. take off	(v) to resemble or look similar to (usually a family member)

Now, fill in the blanks with suitable phrasal verbs from the table given above in column-1. You may change the tense of the verb, if required.

1. The new technology is set to_____ traditional methods of communication.
2. I tried hard to _____ what the writer wanted to say but was unsuccessful.
3. Arjun decided to _____ painting as a hobby.
4. The smartphone quickly _____ the sales in the market.
5. Sheela _____ her father; they have the same smile.

II Match the verbs in Column 1 with any suitable adverbs or prepositions in Column 2. Write their meanings in Column 3. An example has been done for you.

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3
1. look	after, away, up, for, in, on, into, down, off, out	look after
2. run
3. put
4. break
5. call

Now, frame sentences of your own using any five phrasal verbs.

III Read the following words from the poem. (You can use a dictionary) walking, staggered, hopped
The given words denote the different ways of walking.
Arrange the words given in the box in increasing order of pace/speed.

5. Placed the plate in the room
6. Prepared for the presentation
7. Put the plate in the kitchen

Let us speak

Read the joke given below.

(A man is talking to God.)

The man says, "God, how long is a million years?"

God replies, "For me, it's about a minute."

The man asks, "How much is a million rupees?"

God smiles and replies, "It's less than a rupee for me."

The man quickly requests, "God, may I have a rupee?"

God promptly says, "Wait a minute."

Work in pairs and take turns to tell the joke.

Remember:

- Man's voice – change of voice (speak with curiosity and respect)
- God's voice – deep voice (speak in a pleasant tone)

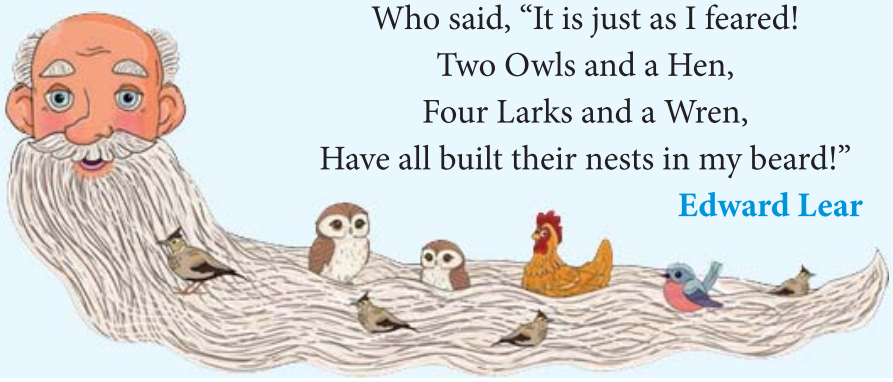

Now, work in pairs to create a joke and tell it in front of the class.

Let us write

I A limerick is a nonsensical and funny verse consisting of five lines. Study the limerick given below and identify the rhyme scheme.

1. There was an Old Man with a beard,
Who said, "It is just as I feared!
Two Owls and a Hen,
Four Larks and a Wren,
Have all built their nests in my beard!"

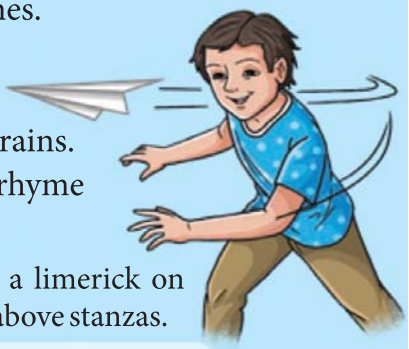

Edward Lear

Now, read another limerick

2. There were two friends in Bengaluru's lanes,
One loved books, the other flew planes.
They'd laugh and they'd play,
In their own unique way,
Creating stories and flying in dreams' trains.
Remember all limericks have the same rhyme scheme AABBA.

II Follow the structure given below and write a limerick on your own choosing the rhyming words from above stanzas.

Line 1 : Introduction of a person or place	There was a child from _____
Lines 2–4: A silly story	Who _____
	_____
	She/He _____
Line 5 : An unexpected ending	_____

Let us explore

I In ancient Indian literature and mythology, there are several humorous or funny characters who play important roles in the stories. These characters often represent wit, humour and mischief while conveying deeper moral lessons. Here are a few well-known funny characters:

Tenali Rama	Birbal	Mullah Nasruddin
King Vikramaditya and Betal		Kavi Jadumani

Take any story to read and share it with your classmates and the teacher.

II We can identify the acts of the funny man with certain modern- day activities that have playfulness, or unconventional behaviour.

For example:

STREET PERFORMERS OR CLOWNS: Like the funny man in the poem, modern- day street performers or clowns often dress in unusual ways and do unexpected acts to entertain people.

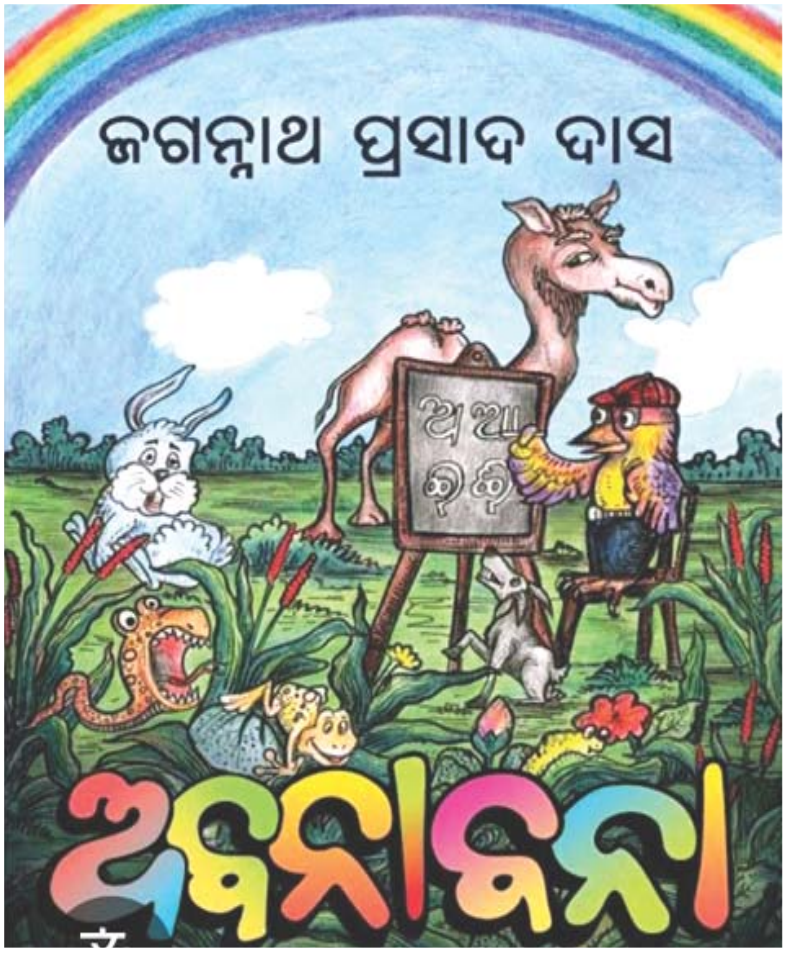

PERFORMANCE ART OR ABSTRACT THEATRE: The funny man's actions, such as singing a song and hopping on the head, resemble performance art or abstract theatre, where artists break conventional rules to create thought-provoking, often humorous experiences.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT AND COMEDY SHOWS: The funny man's behaviour is reflected in children's shows to make laughter.

In these examples, the common theme is humour, imagination, and defying logic or expectation, which is exactly what the funny man in the poem represents.

III Jagannath Prasad Dash, an Odia poet, wrote poems in a similar style in his book 'Abanabana'.

You may also share a similar poem from your native language with your classmates and the teacher.

MY LOST PENCIL

Oh pencil, dear pencil, where have you gone?
I just had you here a minute at dawn!
You were sharp and perfect, ready to write,
Now you're missing—gone from sight!

Did you roll off my desk? Did you fall to the floor?
Did someone swipe you for sure?
It's always the same, I've lost fifty this year,
By the end of the month, they just disappear!

Next time, I'll tie you with tape or a string,
Because losing my pencils is a real thing.

SAY THE RIGHT THING

Let us do these activities before we read.

I Work in pairs and discuss.

ଅତିଥି ଦେବୋ ଭବଃ

1. What does 'Athithi Devo Bhava' mean?
2. Why is it important to be polite to guests?

II Choose the statements that display polite behaviour when you have guests at home.

1. Offer the guests a glass of water.
2. Enquire about the well-being of the guests.
3. Ask the guests when they would leave.
4. Comment critically about the habits of guests.
5. Accompany the guests to the door when they leave

Let us read

This is a humorous play in which a mother advises her daughter to say the right thing at the right time. However, when guests arrive, the daughter hilariously forgets her mother's guidance.

Read the play to find out how she commits blunders and embarrasses the guests as well as her mother.

hilariously: in a very funny way blunders: careless mistakes embarrasses: makes (the guests) uncomfortable

Characters

MARY SHAW	:	a young girl
MRS. SHAW	:	Mary's mother
MRS. HARDING	:	the wife of Mr. Harding, a wealthy man
MRS. LEE	:	Mr. Harding's married sister

Scene I

MRS. SHAW : The room looks cleaner now. Put that coat away in your bedroom. This room isn't the place for coats.

Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Lee will soon be here, and they don't want to see that.

MARY : You're always telling me to put things away.

MRS. SHAW : Yes, I am. You leave your clothes all over the house.

MARY : I'm not a child!

MRS. SHAW : No, you aren't. So please keep your clothes in your own room.

MARY : Why are those two women coming here? Who's Mrs. Harding?

MRS. SHAW : She's the wife of a wealthy man, Mr. Harding. He has just bought a big house in Lanfield. They lived in London before. She's coming to have a talk. I met her in a shop and asked her to come.

MARY : Oh, I've seen her children. They often come along the road. Who's Mrs. Lee?

MRS. SHAW : She's Mr. Harding's sister. She has been staying with them for a while.

MARY : What are you going to talk about?

MRS. SHAW : I don't know. All kinds of things. One day you'll have to go to some of these houses yourself and talk to the people there.

MARY : I can talk now. I've been able to talk for a long time.

MRS. SHAW : Yes, that's true. You always talk too much. But does anyone want to hear the things that you say?

MARY : I can talk very well when I like. I'll stay with you today and talk to them when they come.

MRS. SHAW : Oh, I don't think so. You can go out for a walk. It will be better if you do that.

MARY : Why?

MRS. SHAW : If you stay with me, you may not say the right thing.

MARY : I know the right things to say: "Good afternoon", "How are you?" and things like that. Let me stay today. I can do it very well. I'll show you. Anyone can talk.

MRS. SHAW : You may stay if you like. But take care. I want to know Mrs. Harding well. I want her to ask me to go to their house. There isn't much to do here in Lanfield, and I want to know some more people. I want some more friends here. So take care when you say anything.

MARY : Tell me what to say.

MRS. SHAW : I can't tell you everything, but you'll always be right if you're kind to people. Say things that will please them. Then they'll like you. Laugh a lot, and try to make them laugh too. And if everyone stops talking, say something to make them talk again. They don't want to sit here and look at the floor without speaking. Think of something to say.

MARY : I can do that. There's always something to say. Must I do anything else?

MRS. SHAW : When they are ready to leave, don't jump out of your chair and look gladly at the door. You must look sorry when they want to leave.

MARY : What shall I do when they want to go?

MRS. SHAW : Ask them to stay a little while longer. Just say, "Must you go? Can't you stay?" or something like that. You like them and you want them to stay, and you must let them understand that.

MARY : That's not very hard, is it? I'll remember that. "Must you go? Can't you stay? Must you go? Can't you stay?"

MRS. SHAW : That's right. Now take your coat to your room and change into a clean dress. You must look nice when they come. And if everyone stops talking, say something kind to make them talk again. And don't say anything that will make them angry.

MARY : I will remember. I've often done harder things than this.

Let us discuss

I Complete the table given below based on Scene I of the play. An example has been done for you. Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

Speaker	Words of the Speaker	Reason
Mrs. Shaw	The room looks cleaner now. Put that coat away in way bedroom.	To instruct Mary to keep the room tidy.
Mary	you're always telling me to put things away.
	I'm not a child!
Mrs. Shaw		To highlight the importance of being kind as a way to ensure Mary says the appropriate things when guests arrive.

II Do you think Mary will be able to follow her mother's advice successfully when Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Lee visit? Why or why not?

Scene II

MRS. SHAW : So you like Lanfield, Mrs. Harding! I'm very glad.

MRS. HARDING : Yes, we like it very much. It's not the same as London, but there are some very nice people here, and we've found a good house. (No one says anything more, and Mrs. Shaw looks at Mary.)

MARY : What beautiful children you have, Mrs. Harding!

I've often seen them walking along the road.

MRS. HARDING : Oh, I haven't any children.

MARY : Oh, yes, you have! I've seen them: a little boy and a little girl.

MRS. HARDING : (not very pleased) I have no children; believe me.

MARY : Oh!

MRS. SHAW : (quietly) They must be someone else's children. Have you met Mr. Best? He's a nice man. He lives near you.

MARY : Oh, Mr. Best! He lives here and he works in London. He goes all the way to London by train every morning, and then he comes all the way back by train every night. He lives in trains! (she laughs) What kind of life is that? Why do people do things like that? They do not know how to live. And he reads two newspapers in the train every day. He never reads a book. But he's only a banker, and bankers can't think.

MRS. LEE : My brother's a banker. He goes to London by train every morning and comes back every night. He reads two newspapers in the train in the morning, and another every night.

MARY : Oh, I'm sorry. I didn't know.

MRS. SHAW : Bankers always have to read a lot of newspapers. Do you know Mrs. Best? She's a nice woman. I like her.

MARY : But have you seen her clothes? She goes out in a blue dress with a red coat over it. (she laughs)

MRS. HARDING : I have a blue dress, and I often put on my red coat at the same time.

MRS. SHAW : (quickly) I like blue dresses and red coats. (No one says anything.)

MARY : I saw Mrs. Cotter this afternoon. I met her in the street. No one sees her in the morning because she always stays in bed then. And she's always asking the doctor to go to see her. I can't understand women who stay in bed in the morning. And why must she always ask for the doctor? I've never been to a doctor in my life.

MRS. HARDING : I stay in bed in the morning myself.

MRS. LEE : I often go to the doctor.

MARY : Oh, I'm sorry. (No one speaks.)

MRS. SHAW : Do you know Mrs. Grantley? She's one of my best friends.

MARY : But she's so talkative! Talkative women aren't very interesting, are they?

MRS. LEE : My mother's a very talkative woman.

MARY : Oh, I'm sorry. I didn't know. (No one says anything.)

MARY : (looking out of the window): Oh, there's that dog again! It always looks very dirty. I don't like dogs, do you? Who wants a dog? That dog's always near our house. Why do people keep dogs? Who wants a dog?

Why doesn't its owner keep it clean? Have you seen it?

MRS. HARDING : (looking out of the window) Yes, I've seen it.

That's Towzer. It's our dog.

MARY : (with a red face) Oh, I didn't know! (No one speaks.)

MARY : (still looking out of the window) There's Mr. Pomeroy on his horse. He's always talking about horses. He rides a horse every day, and practises shooting. Why must he do that? What have they done to Mr. Pomeroy? Why do some men like horses more than they like people? It's hard to understand men.

MRS. LEE : My brother practises shooting when he has the time, and he rides his horse when he can. He sold his house in London and bought a house here because he wanted to ride and practise shooting.

MRS. HARDING : (looking at Mrs. Lee) It's getting a little late. We must go now, Mrs. Shaw. It has been very nice to have a little talk. (She looks at Mary.)

MRS. LEE : Very nice. (She looks at Mary.)

MRS. SHAW : It was very good of you to come to see us. Please stay a little longer.

MARY : (unable to say the right thing even now) Oh, must you stay? Can't you go?

G.C. THORNLEY

Let us discuss

Say if the following statements given below from Scene II are true or false.

1. Mrs. Harding states that they do not like London as it is not the same as Lanfield.
2. Mrs. Harding was pleased to know that Mary was familiar with her children.
3. Mrs. Shaw shared that she liked Mrs. Best as she read a lot of newspapers.
4. Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Shaw agree that wearing a blue dress with a red coat is unfashionable.
5. Mary shares that she finds the dog outside the window cute.

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extracts given below and answer the questions that follow.

MARY : What are you going to talk about?

MRS. SHAW : I don't know. All kinds of things. One day you'll have to go to some of these houses yourself and talk to the people there.

MARY : I can talk now. I've been able to talk for a long time.

MRS. SHAW : Yes, that's true. You always talk too much. But does anyone want to hear the things that you say?

MARY : I can talk very well when I like. I'll stay with you today and talk to them when they come.

MRS. SHAW : Oh, I don't think so. You can go out for a walk. It will be better if you do that.

(i) What does Mrs. Shaw imply when she says, "One day you'll have to go to some of these houses yourself and talk to the people there"?

A. She believes Mary should start learning about hosting guests then.

B. She thinks Mary is ready to visit these houses independently.

C. She wants Mary to develop social skills for the future.

D. She hopes Mary will avoid these social interactions entirely.

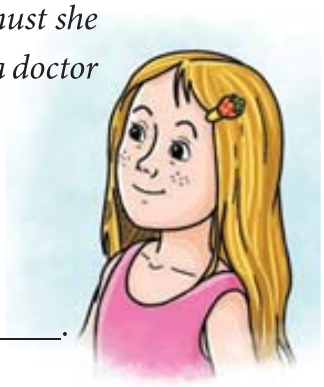

(ii) Complete the following sentence with the correct option from the brackets. Mrs. Shaw and Mary are discussing how to _____ (have a polite conversation/ get to know people better)

(iii) Why did Mary want to stay with her mother when the guests arrived?

(iv) Read the above extract and match the characters in Column 'A' with their qualities in Column 'B'.

Column A	Column B
Mary	eager
Mrs. Shaw	inexperienced
	cautious

MARY : I saw Mrs. Cotter this afternoon. I met her in the street. No one sees her in the morning because she always stays in bed then. And she's always asking the doctor to go to see her. I can't understand women who stay in bed in the morning. And why must she always ask for the doctor? I've never been to a doctor in my life.

MRS. HARDING : I stay in bed in the morning myself.

(i) Complete the following sentence suitably.

No one could spot Mrs. Cotter in the street because _____.

(ii) Mary's understanding about Mrs. Cotter is _____.

(Choose the right option)

A. She is worried about why Mrs. Cotter stays in bed all morning.

B. She thinks Mrs. Cotter is scared and lonely for staying in bed.

C. She believes Mrs. Cotter is right to rest and take care of herself.

(iii) How can we say that Mary enjoyed good health?

(iv) Identify whether the following statement is true or false.
Mary might have intentionally offended Mrs. Harding.

II Answer the following questions.

1. What are Mary's comments about bankers way of life ?
2. What do you think about Mary's understanding of polite conversation?
3. "So take care when you say anything." - Why did Mrs Shaw say this to her daughter
4. How does Mary's attitude towards the guests change throughout the play?
5. In what way does the play show the importance of knowing how to engage in polite conversation?

Let us learn

I Study the following words taken from the text.

humorous, hilariously, coming, beautiful

The given words are made by adding word endings like -ous, -ly, ing, and -ful to the root words humour, hilarious, come, and beauty. Such wrd endings are calleod suffixes.

Root	+	Suffix
• humour	+	-ous
• hilarious	+	-ly
• come	+	-ing
• beauty	+	-ful

Note

the spelling variant when the word ends in 'e' as in 'come' and 'y' as in 'beauty' ('y' is replaced by-i)

Here are some words from your text given in the box. Separate them into two columns. Column A for root words and Column B for suffixes.

II Read the highlighted words in the following sentences from the text.

- But does anyone want to hear the things that you say?
- I can't tell you everything.

Select the correct answer.

Is there any difference in meaning of 'say' and 'tell'? (Yes/ No)

- `Say' focuses on the message and does not always require a listener.
- Tell' focuses on who receives the message and always needs a listener.

1. Fill in the blanks with suitable words from the sets of words given in the box below. Make changes in the verb forms (tense), if necessary.

- see : something that we view without any focus
- look : focus your eyes in a certain direction by paying attention
- live : permanent place of residence

(iv) "Could I _____ to Mrs. Kalpana, who is going to _____ to us about gardening," said Ritu.

(v) I _____ in a small town, but I often _____ with my relatives in the city.

III Read the following sentences from the text and underline the verbs.

- They lived in London before.
- I met her in a shop and asked her to come.

As you know, the verbs you have underlined are in simple past tense. (actions that happened in the past or distant past)

Read the following sentence from the text and underline the verb.

She has been staying with them for a while.

The verb you have underlined is in present perfect continuous tense.

We use present perfect continuous (has/have + been + verb + -ing) to indicate:
The duration of an action that started in the past and continues up to the present moment.

- Mrs. Shaw has been preparing the room since the morning for Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Lee's visit.

An action that was ongoing in the recent past, with its results evident now. The focus is on the ongoing activity rather than its completion.

- Mrs. Shaw has been cleaning the room since the morning. (The room looks spotless now.)
- The students have been practising a play about the story. (They are rehearsed and ready.)

1. Fill in the blanks using the verbs given in brackets in present continuous or present perfect continuous tense.

Coming 10th of January is our School Annual Day. We (i) _____(organize) a short drama for the cultural event. We (ii) _____ (practise) for weeks to make it a perfect show. The Science Teacher of our school (iii)_____ (guide) us in every way. Everyone (iv)_____(work) hard for the rehearsal since day one. Three days are left to go. Now the school compound (v)_____ (buzz) with all excitement.

IV Read the explanation about the kinds of sentences given in the table below.

Kinds of Sentences	Function	Punctuation	Examples from the text
Declarative sentences	to state of convey information	end with a full stop (.)	There's always something to say.
Interrogative sentences	to ask questions	end with a question mark (?)	What shall I do when they want to go?
Exclamatory sentences	to express strong feelings or emotions	end with an exclamatory mark (!)	What beautiful children you have, Mrs. Harding!
Imperative sentences	to give order, command or request	end with a full stop (.)	Put that coat away in your bedroom.

1. Identify the kinds of sentences and punctuate them appropriately.
   (i) the meeting starts at 10.00 a.m. in the conference room
   (ii) what an exciting adventure it was
   (iii) how did you solve the problem so quickly
   (iv) what is the weather forecast today
   (v) how beautiful the rainbow is
   (vi) clean up your room before dinner
   (vii) the children are planning a surprise party for their mom
   (viii) turn off the music

Let us listen

I Mrs. Shaw wanted Mary to learn to say the right thing. You will listen to a conversation between a mother and her son about basic manners. As you listen, fill in the blanks given below by selecting the correct option. (Transcript for the teacher on pg. 89)

1. How did the son behave in the grocery queue?

   (i) strangely (ii) impatiently (iii) politely

2. The mother finally refers to her son as a _____

   (i) polite young man (ii) responsible son (iii) grateful person

II You will once again listen to the conversation. As you listen, select four true statements from 1 – 7 given below.

1. The mother uses the grocery store incident as an opportunity to teach her son about patience and fairness.
2. The son recognises the value of apologising and understands that it shows he notices others.
3. The son is gradually learning the importance of polite words and actions from his mother's guidance.
4. The mother discourages her son from speaking softly in public, suggesting that people should adjust to his voice level.
5. The son feels that covering his mouth when coughing is only important when he's at home.
6. The son receives all advice readily while understanding its importance.
7. The mother uses praise to support the polite behaviours she wants her son to continue practising.

Let us speak

I. Speak the following declarative sentences with falling tone and stress the highlighted words.

1. The room looks cleaner now. 2. You always talk too much.
3. You leave your clothes all over the house.

II Work in pairs and speak the following sentences 1-5 aloud, as Marg apply stress and falling tone.

Sentences :

1. I didn't hurt anyone today.
2. I didn't hurt anyone today.
3. I didn't hurt anyone today.
4. I didn't hurt anyone today.
5. I didn't hurt anyone today.

III. Now, speak the given declarative sentence with rising tone towards the end of sentence and stress the highlighted words.

I saw Mrs. Cotter this afternoon.

The rising intonation makes it sound like a question. It asks whether I was the person who actually saw Mrs. Cotter: Did I see Mrs. Cotter this afternoon ?

Remember

The way we use stress and intonation in a sentence can change the meaning of what we wish to say if we are not careful.

Let's speak:

I am and I'm.. I have and I've.. It is and it's .. He has and he's. . I had / would and I'd. That's not….. There's not , You'd do….. I can't ….. You're……. You aren't ……..

Let us write

I Write Mary's interactions with her mother and guests.

You may refer to the following hints:

- Begin with an introduction: describe Mary and Mrs. Shaw, their relationship and the setting of the story.
- Explain Mrs. Shaw's instructions to Mary before the guests arrive and Mary's confidence in handling the situation. (You can focus on the expressions like..Oh, must you go? Can't you stay/ I can talk now. I've been able to talk for a longer time.')
- Narrate the events when the guests visit. (careless talk about bankers' life, criticizing local person like Pomeroy…)
- And conclude with how the play ends with all awkwardness.

The last paragraph of the story is written as a help for you as an option.

Say the right thing.

Finally, a mother's guidance to a daughter to talk politely to the guests bore no fruit. A series of silly remarks of Mary on the people in the locality put the guests in an awkward position. We should not forget what our elderly people used to say, ' Your politeness and kindness in conversations build relationship.'

Let us explore

I Work in groups. Enact your favourite part of the play.

Points to remember:

- Allot a specific role to each member in the group. For example: director, narrator, and characters etc.
- Include the actions and expressions as indicated in brackets in the play.

II Comedy time

The funny story of the Indian without A.B.C. of English travelling to London and talking to English businessman. His friend had helped him speak three / four sentences while greeting or visiting his boss for interaction as follows:

Sentence	Response:
1. How're you Mr Behera?	I'm fine, Mr John.
2. How old are you?	I'm 61.
3. ……	……

III Find out how people greet guests who visit their homes in different languages. Share it with your classmates and the teacher.

IV 'Vasudhaiva Kuṭumbakam (ବସୁଧୈବ କୁଟୁମ୍ବକମ୍) is a Sanskrit phrase which means the world is one family. Vasudha (ବସୁଧା) means Earth; eva (ଏବ) translates to 'is thus' and Kuṭumbakam (କୁଟୁମ୍ବକମ୍) means 'family'. The phrase originates from ancient Indian texts like the Maha Upanishad and the Hitopadesha.

This saying highlights the interconnectedness of all people, suggesting that humanity is a part of a single global family. It encourages unity, cooperation, and treating others with kindness and empathy, regardless of differences in nationality, race, or religion. The message is often used to promote global peace and mutual understanding among diverse cultures and nations. 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' was chosen as the theme for the G20 Summit which captured the essence of global unity, common bonds, and shared aspirations for a better future.

TRANSCRIPTS

ANIMALS, BIRDS AND DR. DOLITTLE

Let us listen (refer to page 56)

I You will listen to an announcement. As you listen, state whether the following statement is true or false.

Greetings and attention everyone !

Thank you.

II You will listen to the announcement again. As you listen, complete the details given below with one or two exact words you hear.

A Funny Man

Let us listen (refer to page 66)

I You will listen to a girl narrate a personal incident. As you listen, select the picture related to the narration.

Hello. This is quite a funny incident. One day, I was so preoccupied with preparing for my presentation. After a long day of studying at a friend's place, I finally came home. Exhausted, I removed my shoes at the door and headed straight to the kitchen for some lunch. I served myself dal-chawal and ate it, still thinking about all the topics I needed to cover.

Once I finished my lunch, I got up to put my shoes away in my room and placed my plate in the kitchen. However, being so preoccupied, I ended up doing the opposite ! I walked to my room with my plate in hand and left it on my desk. Then, I took my shoes and placed them in the kitchen!

As I stood there, confused, I realised what I had done. I couldn't help but laugh at myself. I shook my head, got my shoes back from the kitchen and kept the plate in the kitchen.

II You will once again listen to the girl narrate a personal incident. As you listen, arrange the events in order of occurrence.

SAY THE RIGHT THING

Let us listen (refer to page 85)

I Mrs. Shaw wanted Mary to learn to say the right thing. You will listen to a conversation between a mother and a son about basic manners. As you listen, fill in the blanks given below by selecting the correct option.

MOTHER : Why were you getting impatient in the grocery store?

SON : Was I really? I just didn't like waiting so long.

MOTHER : I know waiting can be boring, but remember, we always stand in queues and wait for our turn. It's fair for everyone, right?

SON : Hmm, I guess. Even if it takes a lot of time?

MOTHER : Well, that's when we practise patience. And when it's our turn, what do we say to the shopkeeper?

SON : We say, 'Thank you'. And 'Please' if we ask for something, right?

MOTHER : Yes! Those are polite words. Why do you think they're important?

SON : Maybe because they make people feel respected?

MOTHER : Exactly! It shows gratitude and kindness. And what about yesterday when you bumped into that lady with the blue sari?

SON : Oh, I said sorry right away. You always tell me it's important to apologise.

MOTHER : That's true. Why do you think it's important to apologise?

SON : Um… so people know I didn't mean to do it and that I care?

MOTHER : Yes, it shows you're responsible. And how about when we're in places like the library? What kind of voice should we use?

SON : Oh, I know this! We speak softly so we don't bother others.

MOTHER : Right again! It's called using an 'inside voice'.

SON : I know. I also know that we should cover our mouth when we yawn, sneeze or cough in a gathering or a public place.

MOTHER : Absolutely! You're getting really good at remembering these things. And when we talk at home or school, what should we do when someone else is speaking?

SON : We wait for our turn. It's not well-mannered to interrupt.

MOTHER : You've got it, Rohan. You're becoming a really polite young man.

SON : Thanks, Ma. So, do you think I'll be ready to handle the grocery queue next time?

MOTHER : Certainly! And maybe we can get some ice cream as a reward if you do it well.

SON : Deal! And… thank you!

II You will once again listen to the conversation. As you listen, select four true statements and arrange them in order of occurrence.

UNIT 3

DREAMS AND DISCOVERIES

MY BROTHER'S GREAT INVENTION

Let us do these activities before we read.

I Work in pairs and guess the invention.

1. I am a concept invented by ancient Indian mathematicians. I add value to numbers. Without me, calculations in the modern digital world would not be impossible. Who am I ?
2. I am an ancient Indian practice, now popular globally. I focus on physical and mental well-being. What am I?
3. List out the inventions and discoveries already made in the field mentioned below-

   Transportation Communication Medical Science

II Discuss in groups what you think the world today would have been without inventions and discoveries.

III Fill the grid given below with missing letters to complete the words. These words display qualities of an inventor.

Let us read

Burglar : thief racket: a loud and disturbing noise sopping: soaking scowling: having an angry or frowning expression rigged up: assembled something temporarily tinkering: experimenting or fiddling dynamos: electric generator

I

"Who put that water bag here?" roared my father from the front doorstep. "Your burglar alarm," I hissed to my brother Anand, who was getting ready to disappear from the house. Maa rushed in to see what the racket was all about and found Bapa standing there, sopping wet and scowling.

"I want to know who is behind this nonsense," Bapa said grimly.

"I think it's supposed to be a burglar alarm," Maa said, in a soothing voice.

"I don't care what it's supposed to be," Bapa said. "Where's that boy? I'm sure he rigged this up."

Anand had vanished by this time and reappeared only after dinner when Bapa had cooled down.

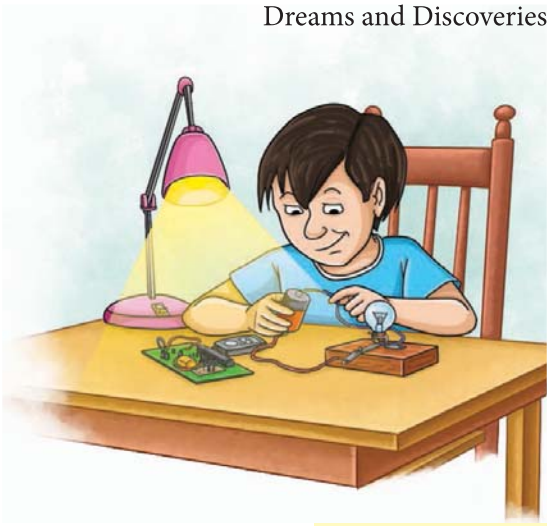

Before this story, let me put you in the picture. I am Anita, fourteen years old. My brother Anand, one year younger than me, caused all that hoo-ha with his burglar alarm.

And this is not the first time he's got on Bapa's nerves or frightened someone half to death in the house. The trouble with him is that he thinks he is a scientist. He loves tinkering with all sorts of electrical gadgets, tools, dynamos, planks of wood, and things like that. And he keeps creating 'inventions' that never work out as they are supposed to.

Recently there had been a rush of thefts in the colony and Anand had got it into his head that what was needed was a burglar alarm. So, the minute Bapa left for the office and Maa for the market, he started on his latest scheme. As usual I had to be involved, though I'd have preferred to finish my novel. "If you get a shelling, don't bring me in," I warned Anand.

"Nothing will go wrong this time. I've planned it out carefully. See the blueprint."

Anand loves words like blueprint—it makes him feel professional! Anyway, I looked at the elaborate drawing of doors, wires, and bells and asked, "How does this thing work?"

"It's quite simple. The moment the door opens, this alarm is tripped off and makes a clanging sound. Then this water bag here is loosened and falls on the thief's head. By then we call the police—simple!"

"But how does the alarm know that a burglar is opening the door?"

"I've taken care of that," Anand said confidently. I had my own doubts about the alarm's guessing powers, but kept them to myself because when Anand is in one of his inventive moods, nothing stops him.

"You see," Anand explained proudly, "A thief tries to open the door stealthily. I've rigged it up so that the alarm works only when the door is opened gently."

I was doubtful. "Remember, if Bapa asks, I'm not involved," I warned. "Now clean up this mess before anyone gets home."

As you already know, my doubts about the alarm were quite justified. Bapa, who always opens the door softly, was thoroughly soaked and angry as angry could be. Anyway, for a week after this, Anand did not dare try out anything new. Then we saw this film 'Back to the Future'. I don't know if you have seen it, but it's all about a time machine. Well, that was the end of peace and quiet in the house.

My brother decided that he had to make a time machine too. Bapa locked up his tool box and hid the key while Maa kept a wary eye on her oven and mixer. Because, as I told you, when Anand is on one of his inventing process, he takes apart all the gadgets in the house to collect parts. You can't imagine the noise that was going on—hammering and sawing and clattering. Anand's room, next to our room, was transformed into a network of wires, springs, levers, and bulbs. There was an enormous panel which elaborate: detailed tripped off : activated by chance clanging: a loud ringing sound like that of a metal being hit stealthily: quietly or carefully so that one is not seen or heard clattering: continuous low noises was to be control switchboard. As for Anand, he went around looking like a savage. When Maa didn't notice, the fellow didn't even comb his hair.

frantic : burried and die organised

Anand just wouldn't let anyone into his room. Finally, after a fortnight of frantic activity, the time machine was ready. "We can try it out tonight," Anand announced to everyone at home at lunch time.

"I don't know what you've been up to in that room, but you're not trying out anything new," Bapa said firmly.

"But it's a time machine! I've invented it," Anand protested. "When I say NO, I mean NO," Bapa said, glaring.

"Poor boy," Maa said noticing Anand's dissapointed look. "At least let's take a look at it."

Bapa sighed. "All right, but if the house falls, it's your fault."

As it turned out, we could not try out the time machine that day at all. The next day, Bapa and Maa were going to Kharagpur, a few hours away from Calcutta (now Kolkata), for a wedding. Maa was worried about leaving us alone, but we reassured her. "We're old enough to look after ourselves, Maa," I said. "And we can go next door to Sharma Aunty if we need anything."

sternly : seriously

"And it's only one night," Anand added.

"All right. But promise me you won't do anything with that time machine till we come back," Maa said sternly, looking at Anand. He promised half-heartedly, offended at this lack of respect for his creation. I breathed a sigh of relief.

Let us discuss

I Complete the cause-and-effect relation table given below.

Causes	Effects
1. Anand set up his burglar alarm and rigged it to work when the door was opened softly.
2.	Anand had vanished and reappeared after dinner.
3. Recently there had been thefes in the colony
4.	Anand loves the words like blue print

5.	Anita had doubts about the alarms' guessing power
6.	Anita did not express her doubt about the guessing power of Alarm
7.	Bapa locked up his tool box and Ma kept eyes on her oven and mixture
8.	Anand:
9. Bapa firmly said 'NO' to trying out the time machine.

2. Comprehension Questions
   i) Who described the story?
   ii) What was the trouble with Anand?
   iii) What things Anand was tinkering with?
3. Do you think Anand was able to keep his promise regarding the time machine ? If yes, why ? If no, why not ?

II

They left by the afternoon train and were coming back the following evening. Anand fell asleep immediately, but I stayed up to finish a novel. At about eleven thirty I thought I heard a scratching at the front door. Telling myself it was only my imagination; I went back to the book. A little later there was a rattle and a click. I was really scared, I can tell you, what with a murder story before me and then strange noises in the middle of the night! I shook Anand and whispered, "Listen, there's someone at the door."

"Go and open it then," he muttered sleeply. "You silly! Someone's trying to get in," I said. Anand sat up. "Who? What?"

"I don't know," I said. "What shall we do?"

"Let's holler for help," he said. Before we could do anything, the door swung open and we found ourselves looking at a ruffianly fellow with a green scarf around his neck. Anand gasped.

"Hey, it's Boppa!" I whispered. It was indeed the fellow who had recently begun sweeping out the compounds in our row of houses. So, he was the thief, and no wonder. He knew exactly when the occupants were out ensuring no one was watching.

The fellow gave an evil grin. "One squeak out of you and see what happens," he said, waving his cudgel and backing out of the room. We heard him slide the latch in.

"What do we do now?" I asked in a low voice.

rattle : quick alternation of sound

Mutter : to speak in low and uncleared voice Sleepily holler : to call loudly ruffianly: rough or violent looking gasp: to make a noise by suddenly breathing in surprise grin : a big smile

squeak : short and high sound cudgel: a short, thick stick used as a weapon

Crash : a loud sound as of things smashing

Scream : a loud noise

muffleded Thumps : not a very clear hitting sound eerie whine : unpleasant & strange sound clattering : continuous loud noises

"Let's shout anyway," Anand suggested.

The door opened suddenly again in the middle of our discussion.

"No noise from you! Now, where is your father's room?"

I was about to direct him upstairs when Anand said quickly, "The one next to this one."

"What hell you are!" I said angrily as soon as the man had gone. "That's your room. He'll come back as mad as he can be."

"At least it will give us some time to think of something," Anand said. "He'll take a while to locate the light switch. Let's shout." All of a sudden there was a crash followed by a loud scream. More strange noises emerged from the next room—a few muffled thumps, an eerie whine, and a low, humming sound.

"My time machine, he's started it!" Anand gasped. "I wish we could get out of this room and see what is happening out there."

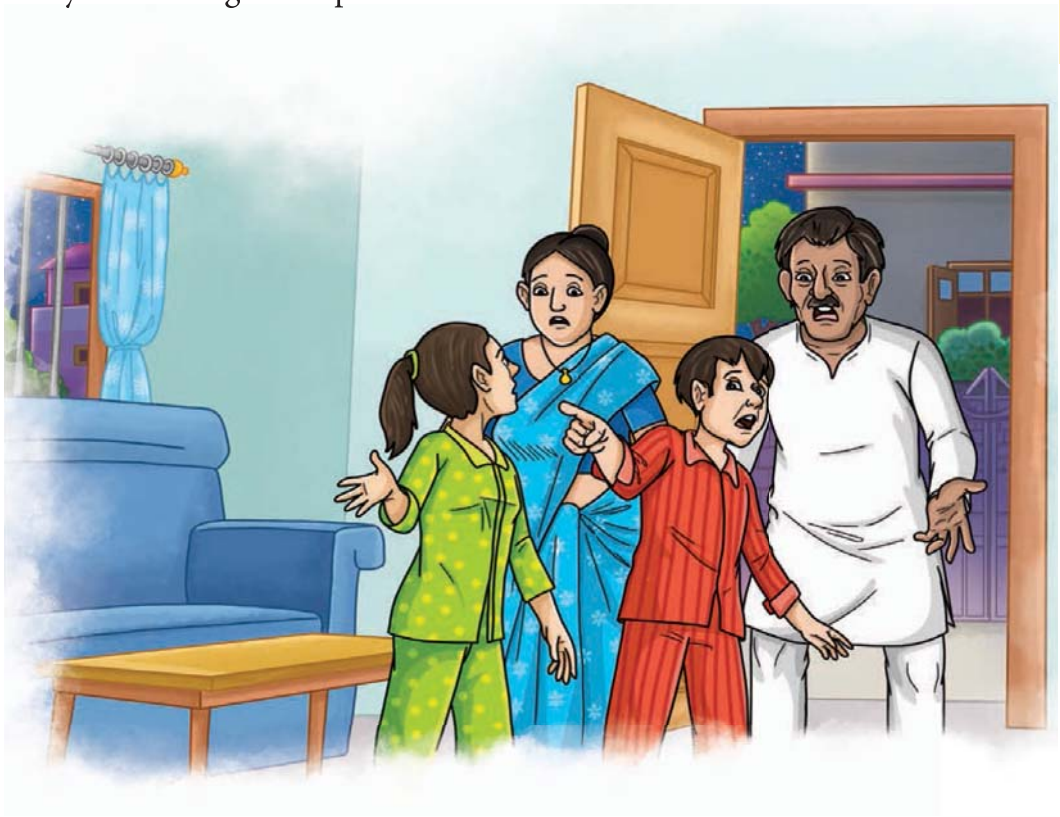

There was another howl, much fainter this time, and a great deal of clattering. We shouted for all we were worth. In a few minutes, we heard footsteps running up our drive. Thankfully we recognised Mrs. Sharma's voice, along with her husband and Dr. Mohan—also a neighbour.

"Anand! Anita! Children, what's the matter? Where are you?"

"Here!" we shouted in unison. In a minute the door was unlocked.
"What on earth has been happening here, children?" Sharma Uncle asked. Both Anand and I fell over ourselves trying to explain. "Where is the fellow now?"
"The last we heard, he was in the time machine," I explained hastily, seeing everyone looking rather puzzled.

unison: together

hastily: quickly

We entered the room cautiously and turned on the lights. The time machine was still humming softly but otherwise there was no other sound from the room.

"Well, where is he?" Dr. Mohan asked, peering behind the door. "Did you imagine this?"

"Oh no," I protested. "How could both of us have imagined the same thing?"

"Maybe he ran out," Anand suggested.

"I'm sure we'd have seen him. There's only one way out of this house and we came the same way as soon as we heard you," Sharma Uncle sounded very sure.

"Look!" Anand said, pointing to the floor. "He was wearing that." Near the panel of switches was the green scarf.

peering: looking carefully

indulgently: fondly intruders: people who enter a place without permission dismantled: taken apart

niggling: slight feeling (of)

"Let's search the house—perhaps he's still around," Dr. Mohan said, going upstairs.

Boppa was nowhere to be seen. "Well maybe he did run out and we missed him," Mrs. Sharma said at last, "I can't imagine what else could have happened."

"My time machine! He's gone through that!" Anand burst out, his eyes shining.

"What an imagination this boy has!" Mr. Sharma said, smiling indulgently. "Now off to bed, both of you. I'll spend the night here so you needn't worry about any more intruders now."

Needless to say, Boppa was never seen again. Anand insists that his time machine worked and he disappeared into the past. The machine itself was dismantled because Papa thought it wasn't safe (maybe he also had a niggling suspicion that it worked), so we couldn't try it out.

As for Anand, he is convinced that he is a genius and has launched a new project—something about a telephone to contact creatures in outer space. Tell you all about it next time.

ANITA RAU BADAMI

Let us discuss

I Read the paragraph (Page 95, Para -1 : They left ..... at the door) . Discuss the events in between first and last.

1. Anita and Anand's parents left by the afternoon train.
4.
6.
7. Anita was scared. She shook Anand and whispered " listen, there is someone at the door".

II Arrange the following events in the correct order of occurrence.

1. The door swings open, and they see Boppa, standing there with an evil grin.
2. Boppa is nowhere to be found, but his green scarf is lying near the time machine.
3. Mrs. Sharma, her husband, and Dr. Mohan unlock the door and enter the house to help the children.
4. Anita wakes Anand up, informing him that someone is trying to get into the house.
5. Anand misleads Boppa into entering his room instead of his father's room.

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extracts given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. Before beginning this story, let me put you in the picture. I am Anita, fourteen years old. My brother Anand, one year younger than me, caused all that hoo-ha with his burglar alarm. And this is not the first time he's got on Bapa's nerves or frightened someone half to death in the house. The trouble with him is that he thinks he is a scientist. He loves tinkering with all sorts of electrical gadgets, tools, dynamos, planks of wood, and things like that. And he keeps creating 'inventions' that never work out as they are supposed to.

(i) Complete the following sentence suitably by choosing the correct option from those given in the brackets.

When Anita says, "…let me put you in the picture", she wants to _____ (introduce/summarise) the situation for the benefit of the readers.

(ii) Anand loves 'tinkering' with all sorts of electrical gadgets. This means that he enjoys _____ gadgets. (Choose the appropriate option and fill in the blank)

A. dismantling and creating B. labelling or naming

C. repairing or improving D. collecting and displaying

(iii) Which of the following options most suitably describes Anand's personality?

A. methodical and cautious B. creative and experimental

C. energetic and hasty D. shy and reserved

(iv) Based on the extract, compare what Anita thinks of her brother Anand with what he thinks of himself.

2. I was about to direct him upstairs, when Anand said quickly, "The one next to this one."

"What hell you are!" I said angrily as soon as the man had gone. "That's your room. He'll come back as mad as mad as he can be."

"At least it will give us some time to think of something," Anand said. "He'll take a while to locate the light switch. Let's shout." All of a sudden there was a crash followed by a loud scream. More strange noises emerged from the next room—a few muffled thumps, an eerie whine, and a low, humming sound.

(i) Complete the sentence given below with a suitable reason. Anita was angry with Anand because _____.

(ii) Which action of Anand shows his presence of mind ?

(iii) What might be the cause of the strange noises emerging from the next room?

A. The intruder moving furniture around

B. Anand's time machine getting activated

C. The intruder locating the light switch

D. Anand's invention not functioning well.

(iv) Which of the following best describes the atmosphere in this extract? (More than one answer is also possible).

A. relaxing B. peaceful C. tense D. sad

E. suspenseful F. joyful

II Complete the table with the suitable qualities of the characters based on evidence from the text. Choose the qualities given in the box below. An example has been done for you.

creative curious careful responsible bothersome confident

Character	Qualities	Evidence from the Text
Anand	1. bothersome	And this is not the first time he's got on Bapa's nerves or frightened someone half to death in the house.
	2. _____	He loves tinkering with all sorts of electrical gadgets, tools, dynamos, planks of wood, and things like that. And he keeps creating 'inventions' that never work out as they are supposed to.
	3. _____	"Nothing will go wrong this time. I've planned it out carefully. See the blueprint."
Anita	1. _____	"We're old enough to look after ourselves, Ma…"
	2. _____	"But how does the alarm know that a burglar is opening the door?"
	4. _____	"Now clean up this mess before anyone gets home."

III Answer the following questions.

1. What prompted Anand to create the burglar alarm?
2. How did Anand's father become the target of the burglar alarm?
3. How did Anand's parents and sister react to his ideas?
4. How did Anand behave when he was on his 'inventing process'?
5. Why did Mr. Sharma not believe Anand when he spoke about his time machine?
6. Give an ending to this story, explaining what might have happened to Boppa.

Let us learn

1. Read the sound words used in the story in Column 1. Complete Column 2 by matching expressions from the box given below. An example has been done for you.

whispered angrily constant and loud construction noises sudden loud sound of breaking a continuous low and soothing sound

Column 1	Column 2
(i) Crash	sudden loud sound of breaking
(ii) Humming
(iii) Hissed
(iv) Hammering, sawing, clattering

II Read the highlighted phrase in the following sentence from the text.

Well, that was the end of peace and quiet in the house.

The highlighted phrase displays two words – 'peace' and 'quiet' combined by the conjunction 'and'. Give a single meaning.

These are expressions 1- consisting of two words, 2- usually linked by a conjunction 'and' or 'or, 3 – commonly used together in a fixed order 4- two words convey a single meaning or an opposite.

1. Match the words in Column 1 with the correct pairs in Column 2 to make a phrase to convey a single meaning.

Column 1	Conjunction	Column 2
(i) safe	and	A. break
(ii) odds		B. cons
(iii) make		C. never
(iv) pros	or	D. take
(v) now		E. sound
(vi) give		F. ends

2. Complete the following sentences with suitable two words from Column-1 and Column-2 from the box above.
   (i) This project will be a _____ moment for our team's success.
   (ii) After a long journey, we were relieved to arrive home_____.
   (iii) Every friendship works well when there is a balance of _____.
   (iv) She organised all the _____ in the cupboard, to make space for new clothes.
   (v) Before making a decision, it is important to weigh the _____ carefully.
   (vi) This is our final chance to perform on stage, it is _____.
3. Complete the paragraph by using the phrasal verbs given in the box below.

tripped off let up turned out ran out of rigged up

It had been raining and we (i) _____time to set up for the function, so we quickly (ii) _____ some decorations using whatever materials we had. We accidentally (iii) _____ the fire alarm because of the smoke from the bonfire. Thankfully, the rain (iv) _____ just as the guests were arriving, and despite all the chaos, the function (v) _____ to be a huge success.

III There are many words in the text describing the sounds of different nature. Find out those words (at least 15).

1.	6.	11.
2.	7.	12.
3.	8.	13.
____	____	____
____	____	____

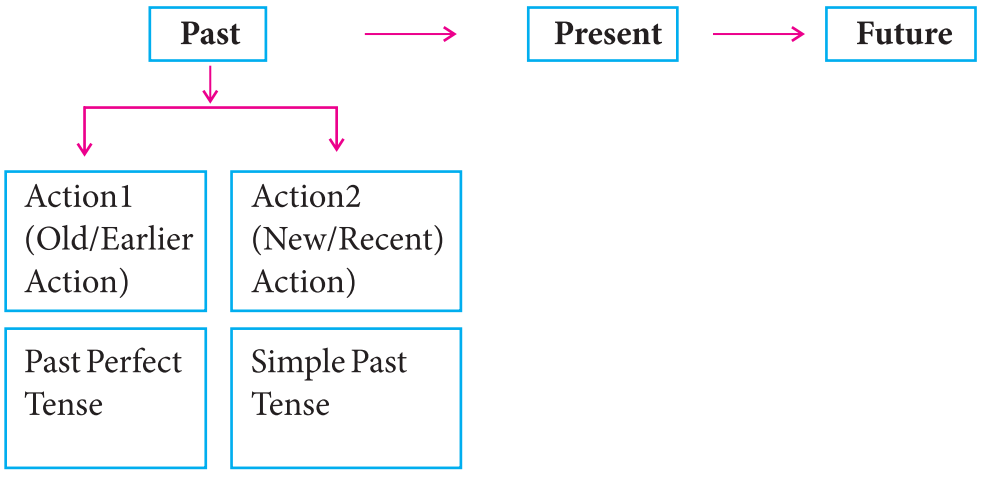

IV Read the highlighted words in the given sentence.

It was indeed the fellow who had recently begun sweeping out the compounds in our row of houses.

Here we refer to two completed actions – the recent past (new action) and the later /earlier past (old action).

The train had left when I reached the station.

Action 1 Action 2

1. Underline the verbs in simple past and past perfect tense for the following sentences from the text.

   (i) Maa had rushed in to see what the racket was all about and found Bapa standing there, sopping wet and scowling.

   (ii) Anand had vanished by this time and reappeared only after dinner when Bapa had cooled down.

2. Fill in the blanks with the simple past or past perfect form of the verbs given in brackets.

   (i) After Rohan A. _____ (finish) his homework, he B. _____ (decide) to go for a walk. He C. _____ (leave) the house and D. _____ (realise) he E. _____ (forget) his keys inside.

   (ii) By the time we A. _____ (reach) the station, the train B. _____ (already/leave). We C._____(wait) for the next one to arrive.

3. Combine the pairs of sentences using the time expressions in the boxes given below and rewrite them using the past perfect tenses. An example has been done for you.

   Example: Rohan had packed his suitcase before he left for the airport.

Old Actions	Time Expressions	New Actions
(i) Rohan packed his suitcase.	before, after, by the time, when	He left for the airport.
(ii) We started work.		He arrived in the morning.
(iii) They set up the tents.		The others brought food and medicine.
(iv) The students became quiet.		They heard the teacher coming.
(v) The villagers left the village.		The flood submerged the entire area.

Past perfect is used when a pair of sentences with two past actions are combined using time expressions like before, after, when and by the time.

- First sentence becomes past perfect when two sentences are combined using 'before'.
- The second sentence becomes past perfect when two sentences are combined using 'after'.

Remember

- After goes with past perfect(verb + third form)
- Before goes with simple past (second form of the verb)

Let us listen

I You will listen to a conversation between Anita and Toby. Toby is a Martian who has come to Earth and not able to return to Mars. He has become Anita's friend. As you listen, choose the true statements from 1–5 given below. (Transcript for the teacher on pg. 136)

1. Toby misses his school.
2. Anita accepts Toby as her friend.
3. Anita asks Toby about one of his facial features.
4. Anita tells Toby that she had a banana for breakfast.
5. Toby shares that he can see much clearer with a closed eye.

II Listen to the conversation again and fill in the blanks with the exact words you hear.

1. Toby: I miss my _____ and home.
2. Toby: Well, we _____ don't need to eat anything. We get our from the Sun.
3. Anita: Oh! Don't you ever feel like having ice creams and _____?
4. Anita: Okay, tell me one thing. How are you able to see with only eye _____?
5. Toby: I can see beyond mountains and _____, woods and even _____.

Let us speak

I Read the following sentences from the text.

As usual, I had to be involved, though I'd have preferred to finish my novel.

"We're old enough to look after ourselves, Maa," I said.

In English there are many words ending with – ough, which are pronounced very differently. Listen to the teacher say these words aloud and notice how they are pronounced.

bough	dough
through	cough
thought	plough

Now, work in pairs. Pronounce these words and put them in the correct boxes given below.

Sounds like 'oo'	Sounds like 'off'	Sounds like 'o'	Sounds like 'ow'	Sounds like 'aw'
Example - book

Share more words that sound similar to the words in the table.

II Read the story given below aloud. Check the correct pronunciation with the teacher.

In spite of a nagging cough, the woman continued working in her farm, right through the rough weather. She filled up the trough with water for her cows and ploughed the fields to plant the seeds. She then plucked some raw mangoes from a low bough of a mango tree to make a spicy chutney. Though the day had been tough, she smiled peacefully as she had already prepared dough to make enough rotis for dinner.

III Now try saying this tongue twister fast as many times as you can clearly.

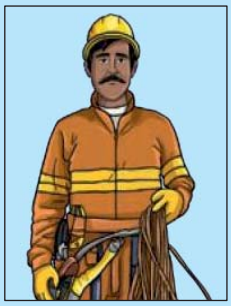

The boy with the tough dough on the rose bough fell in the trough and caught a cough.

Let us write

Think about different vocations that you see around or you are currently studying.

For example: electrician, mechanic, chef, doctor, teacher . You may add more vocations to the list given here.

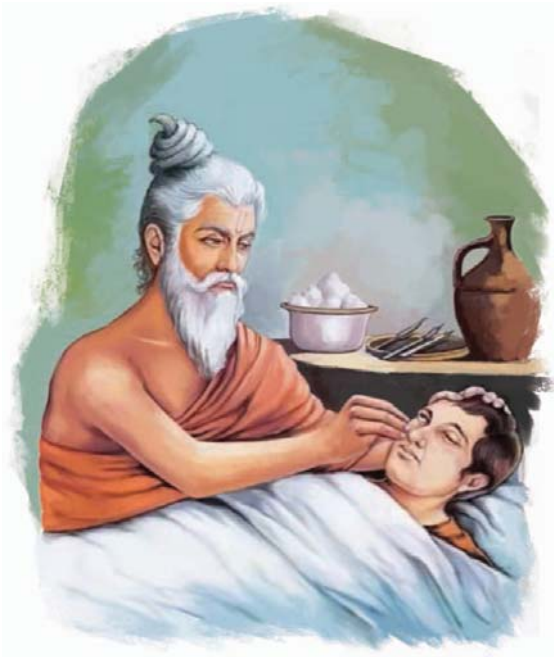

Now, choose a vocation and write a paragraph. You may use the hints given below.

- why you like this vocation
- what training is needed
- what tools and equipment are required
- who would your co-workers be
- highlight the importance of team work
- how you would deal with the customers
- how you plan to pursue it with a sense of pride

Let us explore

Human beings are naturally very curious and creative, and this has led to many scientific and technological inventions. You must have heard about many famous inventions. Some of them are mentioned below. You may look for the names of more such Indian inventors and their inventions.

Sushruta (sixth century B.C.), was a pioneer figure in medical science. His innovations in surgery paved the way for modern surgery.

Samanta Chandra Sekhar (1835-1904) an astronomer, man of Khandapada, Odisha is specially known for his remarkable work of measuring the distance between the sun and the earth using simple tool like bamboo pipes. He was conferred with the title of Mahamahopadhyaya.

Dr. Janaki Ammal (Padma Shri) was a brilliant woman scientist of India who made a significant contribution to the field of cytogenetics.

Under the directorship of Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam (Bharat Ratna), Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) launched the satellite Rohini in near-earth orbit with India's first Satellite Launch Vehicle in 1980 (the project was named 'SLV-III').

Paper Boats

Let us do these activities before we read.

I Read the questions given below. Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

1. What comes to mind when you think about 'paper boats'?
2. What do you think someone might hope for when they send a paper boat down a stream?
3. Read the title of the poem 'Paper Boats' and predict what the poem might be about.

Let us read

Day by day I float my paper boats one by one down the running stream.

In big black letters I write my name on them and the name of the village where I live.

I hope that someone in some strange land will find them and know who I am.

I load my little boats with shiuli flower from our garden, and hope that these blooms of the dawn will be carried safely to land in the night.

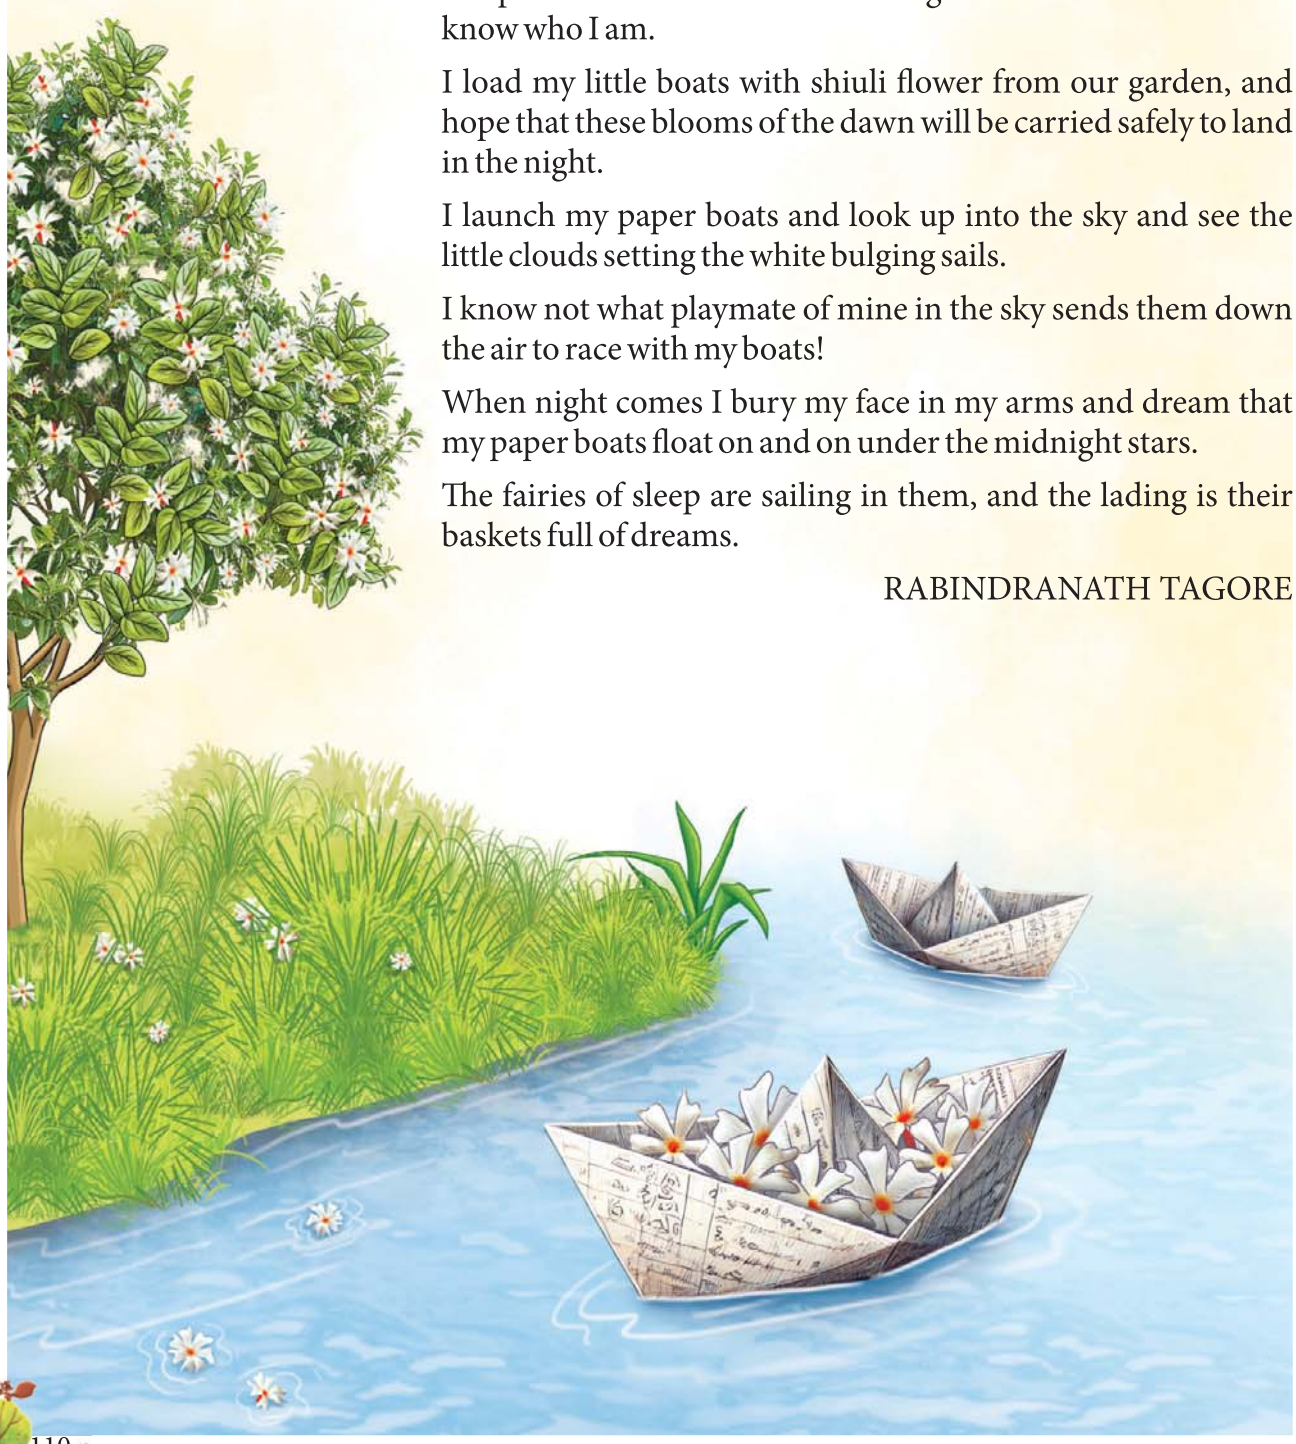

I launch my paper boats and look up into the sky and see the little clouds setting the white bulging sails.

I know not what playmate of mine in the sky sends them down the air to race with my boats!

When night comes I bury my face in my arms and dream that my paper boats float on and on under the midnight stars.

The fairies of sleep are sailing in them, and the lading is their baskets full of dreams.

RABINDRANATH TAGORE

Let us discuss

I Choose the correct words from the brackets to complete the summary of the poem given below.

The poet sends paper boats down a 1. _____(stream/river) each day, writing his name and the name of his 2. _____ (school/ village) on them. He hopes that someone in a 3. _____ (strange/familiar) land will find them and know who he is. The poet fills his boats with 4. _____ (rose/shiuli) flowers from his garden, hoping they will be safely carried to another land at 5. _____ (night/morning). As he launches his boats, he imagines that the 6. _____ (clouds/birds) in the sky are like friends, racing with his boats. At night, he dreams that his paper boats continue to 7. _____ (swim/float) under the midnight stars, with the fairies of sleep sailing in them, their baskets full of 8._____ (dreams/fruits).

II Choose the correct option for the following. The theme of the poem is _____.

1. innocence 2. imagination 3. ignorance

4. playfulness 5. travel

(i) 1, 2 and 3 (ii) 3, 4 and 5 (iii) 1, 4 and 5 (iv) 1, 2 and 4

III Identify whether the following statement is true or false.
The setting of the poem is a natural, outdoor environment.

IV Complete the following sentence by choosing the correct word given within the brackets.

The tone is _____ (sad and serious/gentle and wishful) and the mood is_____ (thoughtful/boring).

V In the first line of the poem. 'Day by day I float my paper boats one by one down the running stream.' The words 'Day' and 'one' are repeated. Now read the poem and discuss the words that are repeated.

VI Fill in the blanks with suitable words from the poem.

1. The repetition of words _____ and _____ emphasises the passage of time.
2. The poet compares cloud with _____ and flowers with _____.
3. Who competes in race with the paper boat ?

VII Match the descriptions in Column 1 with what they represent in Column 2.

Column 1	Column 2
1. the child's innocence, dreams, hopes, and messages sent out into the world	(i) midnight stars
2. purity, beauty, and the start of a new day	(ii) paper boats
3. the vast universe and the child's dreams continuing through the night	(iii) shiuli flowers

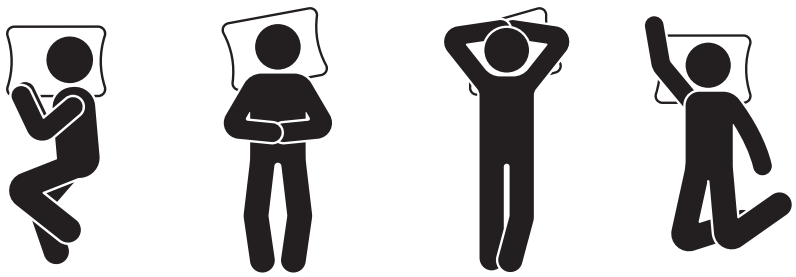

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extract from the text given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. When night comes I bury my face in my arms and dream that my paper boats fioat on and on under the midnight stars. The fairies of sleep are sailing in them, and the lading is their baskets full of dreams.

(i) Select the option that is most likely to be the speaker as per the extract.

A B C D

(ii) What can be concluded about the speaker's feelings when night comes?

(iii) What kind of beings are the 'fairies of sleep' imagined as? Select the most appropriate option.

A. mischievous B. gentle C. fearsome D. playful

(iv) Fill in the blank by selecting the correct option from those given in the brackets.

The phrase 'lading is their baskets full of dreams' suggests that the speaker imagines the fairies of sleep carefully _____ (carrying his dreams /collecting his wishes) in their baskets.

II Answer the following questions.

1. The poet writes his personal details on the paper boats? What do you think about it?
2. The poet talks about the imagination of a child. Support this view with examples from the poem.
3. The poet brings together imagination and reality to make the poem more interesting. Locate those in the poem.

Let us learn

I The poet has used phrases like 'blooms of the dawn' and 'fairies of sleep' in the poem. In the same way we can create phrases. Now, select words from Column 1 and Column 2 and combine them with 'of'. Write as many phrases as possible in Column 3. An example has been done for you.

Column 1		Column 2	Column 3
Wings		the birds	wings of the wind
Waves		the wind
Dreams		the evening
Songs		the children
Glimmers	of	the rain
Cries		the stars
Tears		the thunder
Roars		the ocean
Shadows		the clouds

II The poet uses words like 'dawn', 'night' and 'midnight' to show different parts of the day. The box given below has some more words. Write the words in the appropriate columns.

twilight	dawn	dusk	sunrise	noon	daybreak
nightfall	sunset	midnight	sunup	forenoon	sundown
noontime	night-time	noonday	midday

Morning	Afternoon	Evening	Night

III Match the words from the text given in Column 1 with their opposites in Column 2.

Column 1		Column 2
1.	strange	(i)	halt
2.	dawn	(ii)	emptying
3.	launch	(iii)	sink
4.	bulging	(iv)	dusk
5.	float	(v)	known
6.	lading	(vi)	shrinking

Let us listen

You will listen to a conversation between a girl and her father about the art of paper folding called origami. As you listen, select the true statements from 1–7. (Transcript for the teacher on pg. 137)

1. Sai was trying to make an origami boat.
2. Sai's father used to do origami as a child.
3. Paper was very expensive so it was used only for special occasions.
4. People have been making paper cranes for thousands of years.
5. There is a belief that if you make a thousand paper cranes, your wish will come true.
6. The art of origami is about enjoying the process.
7. Sai's father suggests making a paper bookmark next time.

Let us speak

Create any craft item using eco-friendly materials. Make a presentation in front of your classmates and teacher about the craft item you have made.

Your presentation should include the following information:

- Introduction of the item
- Description of how you made it
- Reason why you like the craft
- Conclusion

Use the phrases given below to make your presentation.

- Today, I'm going to show you a... I made.
- This... is made of... (materials)
- It's... (describe colour, shape, size)
- It can be used to…
- First, I started by…
- Then, I used... (tool or material) to…
- The most difficult part was to…
- This... is special to me because…
- I hope you enjoyed seeing my craft and learning about it.
- Thank you for your attention.

Let us write

A diary entry is a personal document. It records an individual's account of a day of her or his life expressing the thoughts, feelings and opinions in the individual's mind.

The guidelines to compose a diary entry include:

- mentioning day, date and time of writing it
- beginning with a general sentence describing the day or feelings towards an event or experience
- giving details
- concluding with a final remark

Now, write a diary entry expressing your joy experiencing a rainy day. You may begin as given below:

Friday, 15 July 2025 6:30 p.m.

Dear Diary,

It was quite humid today. On my journey back from school, I wished that it would rain. And it did ! …

Let us explore

I Shiuli flowers often find a mention in Rabindranath Tagore's poems. These flowers are found in many parts of our country.

Look at the pictures of shiuli flowers and recall what you call them in your language.

1. Find out names of some more trees or plants in your locality which have fragrant flowers. Write their names in your language and English language. Draw any two flowers and colour them.

II Solve the riddles given below. Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

1. I have water that you cannot drink, People come to see how in me the Sun sinks.
I can be rough, I can be calm,
I hold within myself plenty of charm.
My depths tell a never-ending tale.
Who am I with dolphins and the whale ?

2. I sit in stillness, but move with the wind,
My surface mirrors the world you are in.
The trees around me live happily,
In me, you can take a dip daily.
Home to ducks, frogs, fish, and all,
Can you guess what I am, after all?

3. I gently travel through valleys deep,
My soft murmur can make you sleep.
Little paper boats float on me in rain
The merry laughter of the kids I gain.
You may sit beside me without any fear,
Who am I who skips along, crystal clear ?

4. I have a bed, but I do not sleep.
I have a bank, but no money I keep.
I carry stories, old and new,
High mountains to the oceans blue.
I journey far to meet the sea,
Can you guess, who I can be?

Let us do these activities before we read.

I Work in pairs. Discuss the place that you have enjoyed travelling to. Talk about who you went with, how you travelled, and what you learnt from the experience.

II Which State or Union Territory of India do you live in? Write the following details about it.

1. Part of the country—North, East, Northeast, West, South or Centre
2. Its capital
3. Language
4. River(s)
5. Tourist attraction
6. Food

III Work in pairs. Recall the names of the states of our country which have 'Pradesh' in their names. Mention if it is in the North, East, Northeast, West, South or Centre of our country. Recall the capital of each 'Pradesh'. Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

First Part of the Name	Second Part of the Name	Part of the Country	Capital
1.	Pradesh

Gargi, who lives in Balasore, is travelling the length and breadth of the country with her parents, exploring many landscapes, people and cultures of India. She shares her travel experiences through postcards that she writes to her friends back at school. Let us read these postcards.

30 April 2025

Hi everyone, You won't believe where I am!

I'm way up south, at the seashore of Gopalpur only 15 km away from Berhampur. The waves and winds are very interesting. Bapa and Maa love it here, and they like playing with the waves and throwing sand at each other. They are so happy here.

I also like the waves, but I am afraid of playing with the large waves. I don't think I can write any more.

Send my love to PT Miss and Library Ma'am.

Love,

Gargi

10 May 2025

Dear class,

We took another train yesterday and reached Himachal Pradesh via New Delhi. It is very quiet, and we can see so many mountains from our cabin. Colourful birds wake me with their chirping when the Sun rises in the east.

I also think I hear bears growling in the west when it gets dark. But Maa says that's just Bapa snoring. I would love to meet a bear and give it a hug.

With love

Gargi

chirping: short, sharp sound made by birds growling : long, low and rough sound made by animals snoring: making a loud noise as one breathes while sleeping

17 May 2025

Hi everyone,

Did you know that Arunachal Pradesh is far away from Himachal Pradesh? Himachal is in the north but Arunachal is all the way in the east. I thought all the Pradesh states sat next to each other.

We took two trains and drove a long time to get here. This morning, we walked through a forest to reach our treehouse. The forest here is so thick that if you blink or stop to tie your shoelaces, you will get lost.

I love Arunachal the best so far and am beginning to enjoy myself. I hope we get to see red pandas.

24 May 2025

Dear classmates,

It did not take any time at all to travel from Arunachal Pradesh south west and get to the Sundarbans in West Bengal. Today, Maa and Bapa took me out onto the river in a small boat. Maa tells me that places like the Sundarbans are called wetlands. I never knew such a place existed, and that it was possible for trees called mangroves to grow in seawater! But Maa is sad about how much this place floods today.

We also saw crocodiles and a lonely snake while boating. I hope they don't follow us home.

How is everyone ? Are you missing me yet ?

Love,

Gargi

30 May 2025

Hi everyone,

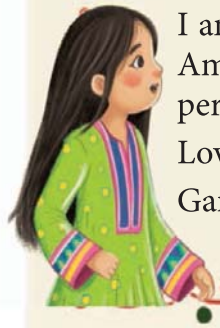

We travelled across the country, all the way from east to west, from West Bengal to Gujarat, and it took us two-and-a-half days!

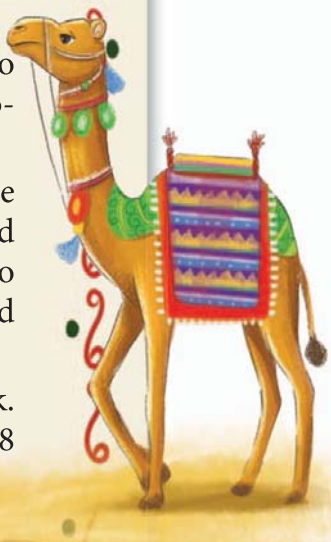

I don't know why my Maa and Bapa brought me to the middle of the desert. It's hot, dry, and there's sand everywhere. It's like a beach without the sea! But I do really love the clothes here. They're so pretty and colourful.

I am sure you're all busy with your holiday homework. Amma gave me a surprise test today, and I passed with 88 per cent.

Love,

Gargi

7 June 2025

Dear class,

Today was the best day ever ! We drove east from the desert to the Narmada river, which flows all the way to the centre of India, and it only took us six hours. In the afternoon, Maa, Bapa, and I went rafting in the river and you won't believe how wild and scary it was. I always thought rivers were calm, but up close they're really fast. Bapa says that there used to be a lot more water, and rafting was much scarier then.

I was fully wet by the time I was done, and Bapa was so scared that he decided never to go rafting ever again. I love the water so much and can't wait to go back.

12 June 2025

Dear classmates,

Maa and Bapa are fast asleep, and I should be sleeping too, but I just love looking out of the window. I think we're in the southwest part of the country, in Goa, and you won't believe how nice the plateaus look. There are so many hills here, and beaches too. There are also a lot of tunnels that the train goes through. I used to be afraid of tunnels, but I'm not any more. Someday, I wish we could all go on a tour of the plateaus. Maybe when we're in Class 11.

Love,

Gargi

plateau : table land

17 June 2025

Dear friends,

I can't believe we're in the same state again! We travelled south, and I will be home soon.

We reached Chennai yesterday, and on the way to Puducherry, we decided to learn how to surf. I think I'm good at it now because I only fell down twice. Maa and Bapa splashed water on each other and behaved like children. It's a good thing I was there to control them.

The beaches here are not like the ones we have on our island. The waves are a lot rougher and the water is browner, but I still like it here.

22 June 2025

Hi everyone,

I just crossed the Pamban bridge.

I could see the ocean on both sides. How amazing that a train can travel across the sea like this!

I'm almost home, and I can't wait to give you my final letter in person.

24 June 2025

Dear classmates,

I thought Maa and Bapa would be tired from all our travelling, but we made one last stop at the Olaikaadu beach before we reached home. And I'm so happy we did.

Maa wanted to teach me how to dive, but they did not have diving suits my size, so I spent the day floating and looking at the fish while my parents dove below me.

We found all sorts of pebbles on the beach, and I can't wait to give them to you in person tomorrow.

Your best friend,

25 June 2025

Dear Maa and Bapa,

I can't believe we travelled across the whole country! I know we're going to miss visiting the forests, glaciers, deserts, wetlands, plateaus, and mountains. And we are going to miss hearing all those new languages and meeting all those different people. But we're finally home now, and we can join our friends again.

I hope we get to travel like this again, and maybe next time we can take our friends with us.

With love,

Gargi

Let us discuss

Complete the table given below based on Gargi's postcards. An example has been done for you. Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

Places Visited	Interesting Descriptions and Activities
1. Thajiwas glacier, Kashmir	white and blue glaciers; throwing snowballs
2. Himachal Pradesh
3.	walking through a thick forest to reach the tree house
4. Gujarat
5. Gujarat
6. Chennai
7.	floating and looking at the fish; Appa and Amma went for a dive

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extracts given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. Maa tells me that places like the Sundarbans are called wetlands. I never knew such a place existed, and that it was possible for trees called mangroves to grow in seawater! But Maa is sad about how much this place floods today.

   We also saw crocodiles and a lonely snake while boating. I hope they don't follow us home.

   How is everyone? Are you missing me yet?

   (i) What feeling does Gargi most likely experience when she says, "I never knew such a place existed..."?

   A. pride B. hope C. relief D. wonder

   (ii) Complete the following sentence with a suitable reason. Maa is sad about the frequent flooding in Sundarbans because _____.

   (iii) Select the evidence from the text that reflects a feeling of the speaker's slight nervousness.

   (iv) Select the option that applies to both the Assertion and the Reason.

   Assertion : The speaker is missing her friends.

   Reason : The speaker wishes to know the well-being of her friends.

   A. Both the assertion and the reason are true, and the reason correctly explains the assertion.

   B. Both the assertion and the reason are true, but the reason does not correctly explain the assertion.

   C. The assertion is true, but the reason is false.

   D. Both the assertion and the reason are false.

2. Maa and Bapa are fast asleep, and I should be sleeping too, but I just love looking out of the window. I think we're in the southwest part of the country, in Goa, and you won't believe how nice the plateaus look. There are so many hills here, and beaches too.

There are also a lot of tunnels that the train goes through. I used to be afraid of tunnels, but I'm not any more. Someday, I wish we could all go on a tour of the plateaus.

(i) Complete the sentence with a suitable reason.

The speaker chooses to stay awake because _____.

(ii) What does the speaker mean to say, 'You won't believe how nice the plateaus look'?

(iii) What has been the change in the speaker's attitude towards tunnels?

A. from fear to comfort B. from courage to confidence

C. from doubt to clarity D. from fascination to delight

(iv) Fill in the blanks with the correct option from those given in the brackets.

The speaker's wish to share the experience of touring the plateaus with others indicates her _____ (ability to communicate/ sense of connection) as well as the value she places on _____ (shared experiences/updating information) with her peers.

II Answer the following questions.

1. Gargi mentions that she used to be afraid of tunnels. What could have been the most likely reason for her to be scared of tunnels? (See the letter of 12 June)
2. Do you think Gargi's Bapa and Maa enjoyed themselves, just like children do? Support your answer with evidence from the text. (See the letter of 30 April and 17 June)
3. Gargi mentions less snow in the glaciers and more flooding in the Sundarbans. Explain what these observations indicate. (See the letter of 30 April 24 May)
4. Gargi's visits to different parts of the country highlight the diversity of India's geography. Support this statement with evidence from the text.
5. How does Gargi use language to convey her excitement, curiosity, and sometimes her fears about the places she visits?
6. What might Gargi have learnt from her travels across India? How would it impact her understanding of the country? (See the letter of 25 June)
7. What could be the author's purpose of presenting the text in the form of postcards?
8. How does Gargi address her friends in different letters ?
9. What are the different ending expressions in her letters ?

IV Subject - Verb Agreement

They agree.

(Here I subject and am verb)

They don't agree.

('I' subject and 'are' verb)

In a sentence, the Verb must agree with the subject. This is called agreement.

IV Read the following sentences from the text and underline the subject and the verb.

1. Maa and Bapa are fast asleep.

   (When the subject of a sentence has two or more nouns or pronouns that are connected by 'and', we use a plural verb).

2. It's hot, dry, and there is sand everywhere.

   (If the subject is 'it', the verb that follows is either 'is' or 'was' depending on the tense of the sentence).

3. There are so many hills here, and beaches too.

   (When we begin a sentence with 'there', the subject comes after the verb).

The subject of a sentence is closely linked to the verb. The verb form changes depending on whether the subject is singular or plural and if it is in the third person. Choosing the correct verb based on the subject is called subject-verb agreement.

Let us understand subject-verb agreement better.

- A subject and its verb must agree, even if other words or phrases come between them.

  The formation of paragraphs is important in writing.

- When the subjects are considered individually, we use a singular verb. Every man and woman has the right to vote.

- Collective nouns such as 'class', 'committee', 'audience', 'team' can be singular or plural, based on the context of the sentence. If the sentence implies the group is acting as one unit, the noun is singular and takes a singular verb.

  The committee decides on the new policy tomorrow.

- The indefinite pronouns 'each', 'either', 'every', 'much', and 'neither' usually require singular verbs.

  Each of the children was given a gift.

- Subjects that look plural because they end in 's' but refer to one thing are singular.

  Mathematics is an interesting subject.

- Some nouns (like glasses, scissors, pants, and tongs) are plural but take a singular verb when the phrase 'pair of' is placed before it. Here, 'pair' is the subject.

  This pair of scissors is sharp.

- When subjects are joined by 'or' or 'nor', the verb should match the subject that is closer to it.

  ✓ Neither the students nor the teacher wants to cancel the trip.

  ✓ Either the manager or the employees are responsible for the mistake.

V Choose the correct option from the words given in the brackets.

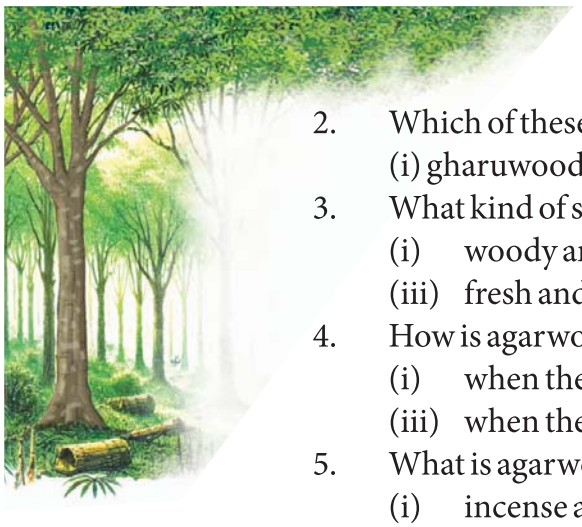

1. A pair of sunglasses _____ (is/are) essential when travelling to sunny destinations.
2. Either the tour guide or the tourists _____ (has/have) to arrive first at the meeting point.
3. The information on travel expenses _____ (is/are) useful for first-time travellers.
4. Neither the flight crew nor the pilot _____ (was/were) aware of the delay.
5. The news about the heavy rains _____ (makes/make) many people reconsider their vacation plans.
6. A pair of binoculars _____ (is/are) useful for spotting wildlife on a safari.
7. The hill stations in India _____ (remains/remain) a popular travel destination during winter.
8. Keeping accounts _____ (is/are) important for spending money wisely during travel.
9. Either the ticket or the bus passes _____ (need/needs) to be used for travelling in the tourist bus.
10. Neither the passengers nor the taxi driver _____ (was/were) aware of the best route to the hotel.

My Brother's Greatest Invention

Let us listen (listen (refer to page 105)

I You will listen to a conversation between Anita and Toby. Toby is from another planet Mars now on earth. He is unable to go back to his own planet. He has become Anita's friend. As you listen, choose the true statements from 1–5.

ANITA : Hi, Toby! Do you miss your planet?

TOBY : Very much, Anita! I miss my people and home.

ANITA : Oh! I wish I could do something about it! But I am happy to have you as my friend.

TOBY : Thank you, Anita!

ANITA : Er... could you tell me something more about yourself? TOBY : Why not! What do you want to know about me, Anita? ANITA : What do you eat for breakfast?

TOBY : Well, we Martians don't need to eat anything. We get our energy from the Sun.

ANITA : Oh! Don't you ever feel like having ice creams and chocolates? I can't think of life without them!

TOBY : No, Anita! We are made of different stuff.

ANITA : Okay, tell me one thing. How are you able to see with only one eye? I see only one big eye in the centre of your face.

TOBY : My friend, we Martians need only one eye to see clearly. In fact, I can see even with my eye closed. I can see beyond mountains and clouds, wood and even metals. I can see that you are carrying a toy in your pocket. It's a blue aeroplane. Isn't it? And yes! That apple you just had for breakfast is going round-and-round in your stomach right now!

ANITA : (gasps in disbelief) Oh my goodness!

PAPER BOATS

Let us listen (refer to page 114)

You will listen to a conversation between a girl and her father about the art of paper folding called origami. As you listen, select the true statements from 1–7.

FATHER : Sai dear! What are you working on there with all that paper?

SAI : Baba, I am trying to make an origami crane, but it's a bit tricky. I keep messing up the folds.

FATHER : Ah, origami! I remember doing that when I was your age. You know, Sai, origami has a really interesting history.

SAI : Really? I thought it was just something fun to do with paper.

FATHER : It is fun, but it's also an age-old art form. Origami started in Japan over a thousand years ago. Back then, paper was really expensive, so it was only used for special occasions, like religious ceremonies.

SAI : Wow, I didn't know that. So, it wasn't just for doing crafts?

FATHER : It wasn't until the seventeenth century that people began making animals, flowers and other designs just for fun.

SAI : So, people have been making paper cranes for hundreds of years?

FATHER : Yes, and the crane is especially important in Japanese culture. It's a symbol of peace and long life. There's even a belief that if you fold a thousand paper cranes, you can make a wish, and it will come true.

SAI : A thousand cranes? That's a lot! But it sounds like a really nice tradition.

FATHER: It is. Origami isn't just about the final shape—it's about the process, the patience and the creativity involved. And over the years, it's spread all over the world, with people adding their own styles and techniques.

SAI : I had no idea origami had such a long history. It makes folding this crane feel even more special.

FATHER : I'm glad you think so, Sai. Perhaps we can start with something simpler next time. How about we make an origami paper boat next? It's easier, and we can float it in the stream outside.

SAI : A boat sounds awesome! Let's do it! But first, I want to finish this crane. Can you help me with the last few steps?

FATHER : Of course! Let's finish this crane together. After that, we'll sail our paper boat.

NORTH, SOUTH, EAST, WEST

Let us listen (listen (refer to page 132)

You will listen to a girl speak about the story of how Agartala got its name and the importance of agar. As you listen, choose the correct option for the questions given below.

Hi everyone,

We all know that Agartala is the capital of Tripura. But did you know how Agartala got its name? It's made up of two words: 'agar', which is a type of tree, and 'tala', meaning underneath. So, Agartala means 'under the agar tree'. These trees are also called aloeswood, eaglewood, or gharuwood. It is also referred to as 'wood of the gods'.

Agarwood, the wood from these trees, is really special. It smells amazing—like a mix of woody and flowery scents. It is one of the rarest and the most expensive woods in the world. People have used it for thousands of years in medicines, perfumes and rituals. It has been described as early as 1400 BCE in the Vedas. The Egyptians are believed to have used agarwood incense as part of their rituals more than 3,000 years ago.

Here's something even more remarkable—agarwood only forms when the tree is hurt or infected with a bug or virus. Instead of dying, the tree creates this dark, sticky, sweet-smelling substance called agar oil which protects it from further infection.

Agarwood is very important to people in Agartala. It's used to make perfumes, incense, and the hand carvings which Tripura is famous for.

And here's the best part: the tree was once almost extinct, but now, thanks to people taking care of it, you can find it in almost every house in northern Tripura. How great is that!

Let us read

serpents : snakes cutting: a narrow valley cut through a hill to make space for a railway line scrub-covered: covered with short trees and bushes

It was almost noon, and the jungle was very still, very silent. The railway lines were two straight black serpents disappearing into the tunnel in the hillside

Suraj stood near the cutting, waiting for the midday train. It wasn't a station, and he wasn't catching a train. He was waiting so that he could watch the steam engine come roaring out of the tunnel.

He had cycled out of the town and taken the jungle path until he had come to a small village. He had left the cycle there, and walked over a low scrub-covered hill and down to the tunnel exit.

Now he looked up. He had heard, in the distance, the sharp whistle of the engine. He couldn't see anything, because the train was approaching from the other side of the hill. Presently a sound like distant thunder issued from the tunnel, and he knew the train was coming through.

A second or two later, the steam engine shot out of the tunnel, snorting and puffing like some green, black, and gold dragon,some beautiful monster out of Suraj's dreams. Showering sparks left and right, it roared a challenge to the jungle.

Instinctively, Suraj stepped back a few paces. Waves of hot steam struck him in the face. Even the trees seemed to flinch from the noise and heat. And then the train had gone, leaving only a plume of smoke to drift lazily over the tall shisham trees.

The jungle was still again. No one moved.

Suraj turned and began walking along the embankment towards the tunnel.

The tunnel grew darker as he walked further into it. When he had gone about twenty yards, it became pitch dark. Suraj had to turn and look back at the opening to reassure himself that there was still daylight outside. Ahead of him, the tunnel's other opening was just a small round circle of light.

The tunnel was still full of smoke from the train, but it would be several hours before another train came through. Till then, the cutting belonged to the jungle again.

Snorting : forceful inhaling, often with sound instinctively: without thought or plan flinch: make a quick movement plume of smoke: long, thin cloud of smoke embankment : stone wall reassure: comfort, calm scuttled: ran hurriedly dazzled: blinded by bright light swishing: moving with a brushing sound

Suraj didn't stop, because there was nothing to do in the tunnel and nothing to see. He had simply wanted to walk through, so that he would know what the inside of a tunnel was really like. The walls were damp and sticky. A bat flew past. A lizard scuttled between the lines.

Coming straight from the darkness into the light, Suraj was dazzled by the sudden glare and put a hand up to shade his eyes. He looked up at the tree-covered hillside and thought he saw something moving between the trees.

It was just a flash of orange and gold, and a long swishing tail. It was there between the trees for a second or two, and then it was gone.

About fifteen metres from the entrance to the tunnel stood the watchman's hut. Marigolds grew in front of the hut, and at the back there was a small vegetable patch. It was the watchman's duty to inspect the tunnel and keep it clear of obstacles.

Every day, before the train came through, he would walk the length of the tunnel. If all was well, he would return to his hut and take a nap. If something was wrong, he would walk back up the line and wave a red flag, and the engine driver would slow down. At night, the watchman lit an oil lamp and made a similar inspection of the tunnel. Of course, he would not stop the train if there was a porcupine on the line. But if there was any danger to the train, he'd go back up the line and wave his lamp to the approaching engine. If all was well, he'd hang his lamp at the door of his hut and go to sleep.

obstacles: things that block the way porcupine: a small animal (large redent) with sharp spikes on its back nap : rest for a short period of time

He was just settling down on his cot for an afternoon nap when he saw the boy emerge from the tunnel. He waited until Suraj was only a metre or so away and then said, "Welcome, welcome. I don't often have visitors. Sit down for a while, and tell me why you were inspecting my tunnel."

"Is it your tunnel?" asked Suraj.

"It is," said the watchman. "It is truly my tunnel, since no one else will have anything to do with it. I have only lent it to the Government."

Suraj sat down on the edge of the cot.

"I wanted to see the train come through," he said. "And then, when it had gone, I thought I'd walk through the tunnel."

"And what did you find in it?"

"Nothing. It was very dark. But when I came out, I thought I saw an animal—up on the hill—but I'm not sure, it moved off very quickly."

"It was a leopard you saw," said the watchman. "My leopard." "Do you own a leopard too?"

"I do."

"And do you lend it to the Government?" "I do not." "Is it dangerous?"

"No, it's a leopard that minds its own business. It comes to this range for a few days every month."

"Have you been here a long time?" asked Suraj. "Many years. My name is Sunder Singh."

"My name's Suraj."

"There is one train during the day. And there is one trainduring the night. Have you seen the night mail come through the tunnel?"

range: area night mail: a train that runs at night

"No. At what time does it come?"

"About nine o'clock, if it isn't late. You could come and sit here with me, if you like. And after it has gone, instead of going to sleep I will take you home."

"I'll ask my parents," said Suraj. "Will it be safe?"

"Of course. It is safer in the jungle than in the town. Nothing happens to me out here. But last month, when I went into town, I was almost run over by a bus."

yawned : breathed in deeply with open mouth when tired on bored

Sunder Singh yawned and stretched himself out on the cot. "And now I am going to take a nap, my friend. It is too hot to be up and about in the afternoon."

"Everyone goes to sleep in the afternoon," complained Suraj. "My father lies down as soon as he's had his lunch."

"Well, the animals also rest in the heat of the day. It is only the tribe of boys who cannot, or will not, rest."

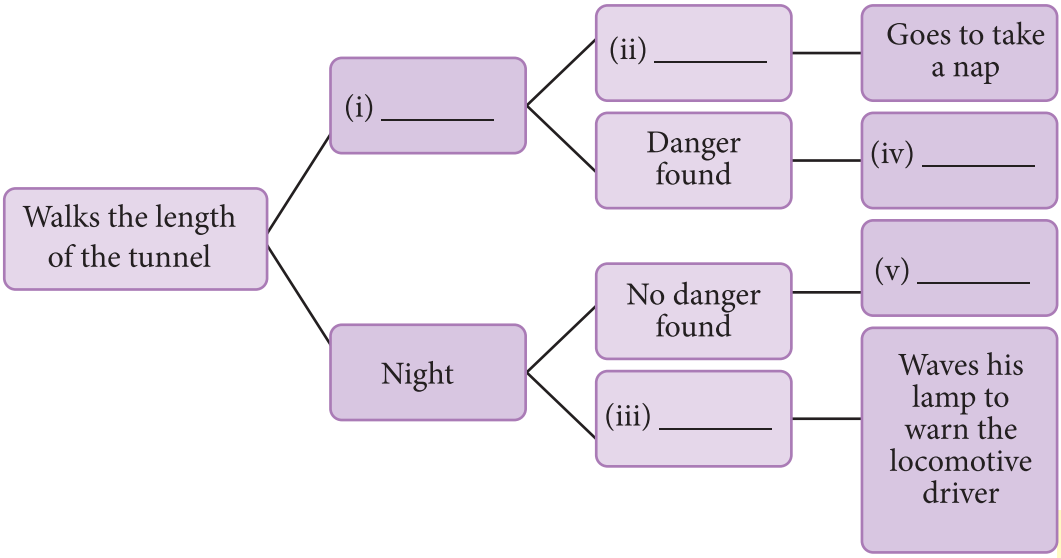

Sunder Singh placed a large banana leaf over his face to keep away the flies, and was soon snoring gently. Suraj stood up, looking up and down the railway tracks. Then he began walking back to the village.

Let us discuss

1. Suraj compares the train to a magical creature. Pick the phrases from the text that convey the meaning.
2. Suraj knew that the train was close by because _____.
3. What did Suraj see inside the tunnel?
4. Select the correct option.

   What does Sunder Singh convey about the tunnel?

   He says that _____ (it is damp and sticky inside/he has lent it to the Government).
5. The watchman has created a system through which he informs the locomotive driver about any danger in the tunnel. The following flow chart shows this system. Refer to the text and complete the flow chart.

II

The following evening, towards dusk, as the flying foxes swooped silently out of the trees, Suraj made his way to the watchman's hut.

It had been a long hot day, but now the earth was cooling, and a light breeze was moving through the trees. It carried with it the scent of mango blossoms, the promise of rain.

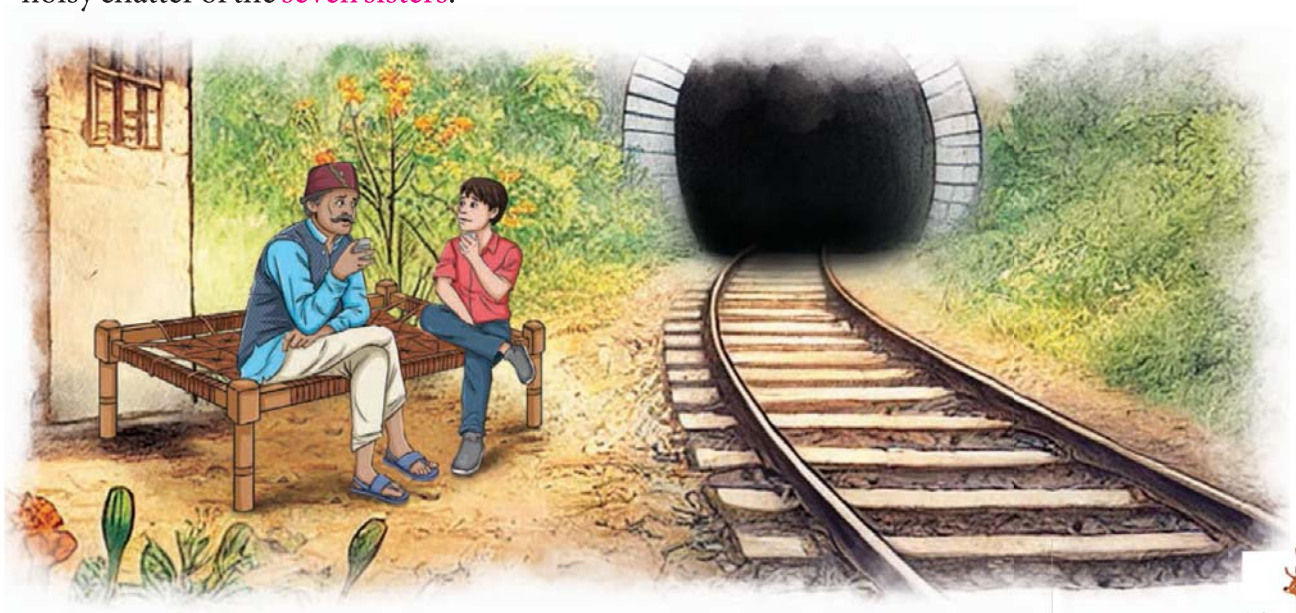

Sunder Singh was waiting for Suraj. He had watered his small garden, and the flowers looked cool and fresh. A kettle was boiling on a small oil stove.

"I am making tea," he said. "There is nothing like a glass of hot tea while waiting for a train."

They drank their tea, listening to the sharp notes of the tailorbird and the noisy chatter of the seven sisters.

swooped: moved quickly through the air downwords seven sisters : birds, also called jungle babblers and found in groups of six to eight twilight: time after sun set and before it in completing dark quaint: unusual nightjar: a nocturnal bird with a short beak creakings: noise of wood bending flexing: bending

trimming: (here) adjusting the wick of the lamp

As the brief twilight faded, most of the birds fell silent. Sunder Singh lit his oil lamp and said it was time for him to inspect the tunnel. He moved off towards the tunnel, while Suraj sat on the cot, sipping his tea. In the dark, the trees seemed to move closer to him. And the joy of the forest was conveyed on the breeze—the sharp call of a barking deer, the cry of a fox, the quaint tonk-tonk of a nightjar. There were some sounds that Suraj didn't recognise—sounds that came from the trees, creakings and whisperings, as though the trees were coming to life, stretching their limbs in the dark, shifting a little, flexing their fingers.

Sunder Singh stood inside the tunnel, trimming his lamp. The night sounds were familiar to him and he did not give them much thought; but something else—a padded footfall, a rustle of dry leaves—made him stand still for a few seconds, peering into the darkness. Then, humming softly to himself, he returned to where Suraj was waiting. Ten minutes remained for the night mail to arrive.

As Sunder Singh sat down on the cot beside Suraj, a new sound reached both of them quite distinctly—a rhythmic sawing sound, as if someone cutting through the branch of a tree.

"What's that?" whispered Suraj.

"It's the leopard," said Sunder Singh. "I think it's in the tunnel." "The train will soon be here," said Suraj.

"Yes, my friend. And if we don't drive the leopard out of the tunnel, it will be run over and killed. I can't let that happen."

"But won't it attack us if we try to drive it out?" asked Suraj, beginning to share the watchman's concern.

"Not this leopard. It knows me well. We have seen each other many times. It has a weakness for goats and stray dogs, but it will not harm us. Even so, I'll take my axe with me. You stay here, Suraj."

"No, I'm coming with you. It will be better than sitting here alone in the dark!"

"All right, but stay close behind me. And remember, there is nothing to fear."

Raising his lamp, Sunder Singh advanced into the tunnel, shouting at the top of his voice to try and scare away the animal. Suraj followed close behind, but he found he was unable to do any shouting. His throat was quite dry.

They had gone about twenty steps into the tunnel when the light from the lamp fell upon the leopard. It was crouching between the tracks, only five metres away from them. It was not a very big leopard, but it looked lithe and sinewy. Baring its teeth and snarling, it went down on its belly, tail twitching.

Suraj and Sunder Singh both shouted together. Their voices rang through the tunnel. And the leopard, uncertain as to how many terrifying humans were there in the tunnel with him, turned swiftly and disappeared into the darkness.

To make sure that it had gone, Sunder Singh and Suraj walked the length of the tunnel. When they returned to the entrance, the rails were beginning to hum. They knew the train was coming.

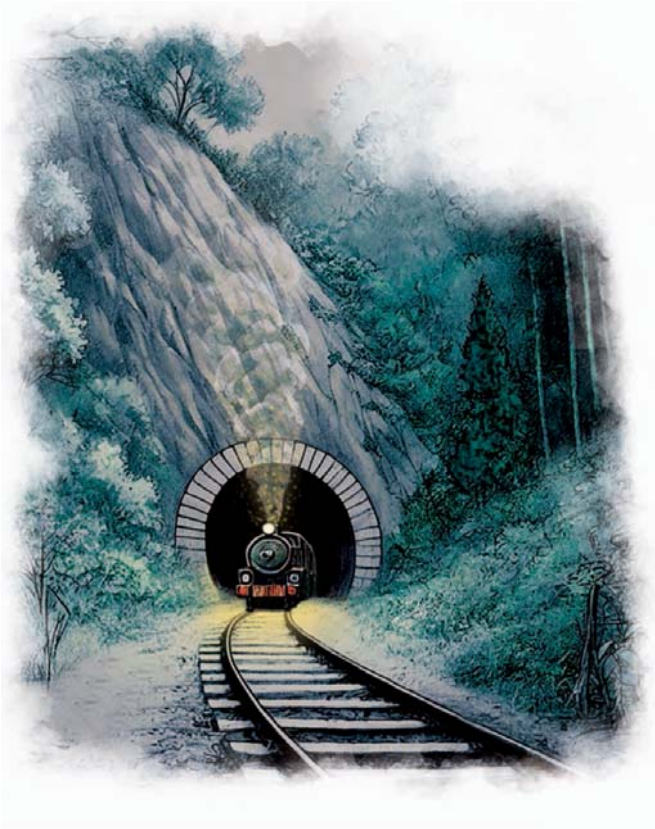

Suraj put his hand to one of the rails and felt its shake. He heard the distant rumble of the train. And then the engine came round the bend, hissing at lithe: thin, graceful

sinewy: lean and muscular snarling: growling

twitching: a short, sudden movement them, scattering sparks into the darkness, defying the jungle as it roared through the steep sides of the cutting. It charged straight at the tunnel, and into it, thundering past Suraj like the beautiful dragon of his dreams.

And when it had gone, the silence returned and the forest seemed to breathe, to live again. Only the rails still trembled with the passing of the train.

They trembled again to the passing of the same train, almost a week later, when Suraj and his father were both travelling in it.

Suraj's father was scribbling in a notebook, doing his accounts. Suraj sat at an open window staring out at the darkness. His father was going to Delhi on a business trip and had decided to take the boy along. ("I don't know where he gets to, most of the time," he'd complained. "I think it's time he learnt something about my business.")

The night mail rushed through the forest with its hundreds of passengers. The carriage wheels beat out a steady rhythm on the rails. Tiny flickering lights came and went, as they passed small villages on the fringe of the jungle.

Suraj heard the rumble as the train passed over a small bridge. It was too dark to see the hut near the cutting, but he knew they must be approaching the tunnel. He strained his eyes looking out into the night; and then, just as the engine let out a shrill whistle, Suraj saw the lamp.

He couldn't see Sunder Singh, but he saw the lamp, and he knew that his friend was out there.

The train went into the tunnel and out again; it left the jungle behind and thundered across the endless plains.

Suraj stared out at the darkness, thinking of the lonely cutting in the forest and the watchman with the lamp, who would always remain a firefly for those travelling thousands as he lit up the darkness for steam engines and leopards.

RUSKIN BOND

defying: opposing flickering: burning unsteadily fringe: edge

shrill: sharp sound

Let us discuss

1. Sunder Singh knew that the leopard was in the tunnel because _____.
2. Why do you think Suraj was unable to do any shouting in the tunnel in the beginning?
   (i) He was afraid of the leopard.
   (ii) He didn't want to disturb the leopard.
   (iii) He was trying to listen for the leopard.
   (iv) He didn't really believe Sunder Singh.
3. What made the leopard disappear into the darkness?
4. What made Suraj know Sunder Singh was at the tunnel?
5. Why did Suraj's father take him along to Delhi?

Let us think and reflect

I Read the following lines and answer the questions that follow.

1. Suraj had to turn and look back at the opening to reassure himself that there was still daylight outside. Ahead of him, the tunnel's other opening was just a small round circle of light.

   The tunnel was still full of smoke from the train, but it would be several hours before another train came through. Till then, the cutting belonged to the jungle again.

   Suraj didn't stop, because there was nothing to do in the tunnel and nothing to see. He had simply wanted to walk through, so that he would know what the inside of a tunnel was really like.

(i) Write whether the following statement is true or false.

Suraj looked back at the opening of the tunnel to check if the train was coming.

(ii) Choose the correct option to complete the sentence given below.

Suraj did not stop anywhere in the tunnel because _____.

A. there was nothing to see in the tunnel
B. the tunnel was damp and sticky
C. he was in a hurry to get out of the tunnel
D. it was time for another train to come

(iii) What does the sentence 'Till then, the cutting belonged to the jungle again' mean?

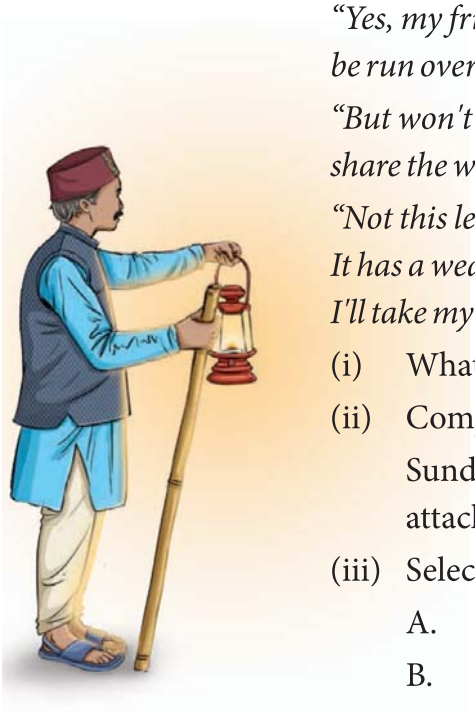

(iv) Suraj wanted to know the inside of the tunnel. What qualities t of Suraj is highlighted here?

2. "The train will soon be here," said Suraj.

"Yes, my friend. And if we don't drive the leopard out of the tunnel, it will be run over and killed. I can't let that happen."

"But won't it attack us if we try to drive it out?" asked Suraj, beginning to share the watchman's concern.

"Not this leopard. It knows me well. We have seen each other many times. It has a weakness for goats and stray dogs, but it will not harm us. Even so, I'll take my axe with me. You stay here, Suraj."

(i) What was the watchman's concern?

(ii) Complete the sentence with a suitable reason.

Sunder Singh was sure that the leopard in the tunnel would not attack him and Suraj because _____.

(iii) Select the sentences that are true from those given below.

A. Suraj wants to see the leopards in the jungle.

B. Suraj is concerned about Sunder Singh's safety.

C. The leopard in the tunnel attacks goats and stray dogs.

D. Sunder Singh wants to protect Suraj.

E. Sunder Singh knows all about the animals in the jungle.

(iv) Choose the correct option to complete the sentence.

Sunder Singh decides to take his axe with him. This tells us that he was _____.

A. violent B. cautious C. bold D. afraid

II Answer the following questions.

1. What does Sunder Singh convey by saying that he has lent his tunnel to the Government?

2. According to Sunder Singh, "It is safer in the forest than in the town". What example does Sunder Singh give to support his opinion? What does this tell us about him?

3. Sunder Singh has become part of the jungle life. Support your view with a suitable reason.

4. Sunder Singh and Suraj form an unlikely friendship. What draws them together?
5. Why is Sunder Singh referred to as a 'firefly'?
6. Do you think Suraj is an adventure-loving boy? Give reasons.

Let us learn

I Complete the following sentences using the suitable phrases from the text given in the box below.

drifting smoke approaching engine sawing sound flickering lights

1. We could hear the _____ of the train long before it came into view at the station.
2. The street was completely dark but the little boy walked to his house guided by the _____ from the houses.
3. The _____ from the carpenter's workshop grew louder every hour.
4. From the balcony, she watched the _____ from her neighbour's chimney float across the backyard.

II The text has many 'sound words'. Some of these words are given in Column 1 and their meanings are given in Column 2. Match the words with their meanings. You can use a dictionary.

Column 1		Column 2
1.	creaking	(i)	making a noise like a long 's' sound
2.	chatter	(ii)	making a long low sound when a door or wooden object moves or is moved
3.	hissing	(iii)	repeated series of short high sounds made by birds or monkeys
4.	rustle	(iv)	blowing with short, quick blasts, as the wind
5.	puffing	(v)	a soft low, dry sound made by the movement of things such as leaves, paper, etc.

Now, complete the sentences given below by filling in the blanks with the correct form of the sound words given in Column 1.

1. The steam engine reached the station _____ black smoke into the sky.
2. Suddenly the snake raised its hood and made a _____ noise.
3. When the wind blew, I heard the _____ of the wooden roof.
4. He heard a _____ of leaves behind him when he was walking along the woods.
5. I get disturbed by the continuous _____ of the monkeys in the neighbourhood.

III Read what the watchman Sunder Singh did regularly at the tunnel as part of his duty. Notice the use of 'would'.

Every day, before the train came through, he would walk the length of the tunnel. If all was well, he would return to his hut and take a nap. If something was wrong, he wouldwalk back up the line and wave a red flag and the engine driver would slow down. At night, the watchman lit an oil lamp and made a similar inspection of the tunnel.

1. Why is the word 'would' used here?
   (i) to make a polite request
   (ii) to express a desire
   (iii) to talk about habitual action in the past

In these sentences, the word 'would' is used to speak about a past habit.

Would' and 'used to' are both used to describe repeated past activities/actions. We call them 'habitual or routine actions in the past'. Example :When we were children, we used to /would go scatting evening winter.

'Used to' is generally used to talk about past habitual actions as well as states.

'Would' can only be used in past habitual action & Not for past habitual state.

I used to have a Robin Hood bicyle when I was young. But Not I would have a Robin Hood bicyle…..(unacceptable)

2. Complete the sentences using the verb in brackets with the correct form of 'used to' or 'would'. An example has been done for you.

When I was a child I used to live in a village near a forest. We (i) _____(grow) vegetables in our back garden. Every day we (ii) _____ (get up) early and go for a walk. The weather in summer (iii) _____ (be) really nice. There was a lake near the house and we (iv) _____(go) there every Sunday for a picnic. Winters (v) _____ (be) rather cold. In the evenings, my father (vi) _____ (tell) us incredible stories and we (vii) _____(listen) with admiration.

IV A lot of symbols marks are used in the text. We call them Punctuation marks.

Now mark their functions :

i) Full stop (.) is used at the end of a sentence.

ii) A capital letter : is used at the beginning of a sentence and a proper noun.

iii) Comma (,) is used to separate items in a series or list.

iv) Colon (:) is generally used before explanations.

v) Semi-colon (;) is often used instead of full-stops, incase where sentences are grammatically independent.

vi) Dashes (–) is used especially in informal writing.

vii) Quation Marks (inverted commas) are often used when we talk (a) single quotation (' .....') a word, or when we use it in an unusual way, (b) Double Quotation ("....."") When we quote speech, we can use either single or double quotation marks.

viii) Mark of Interrogation : (?) when an auxiliary verb or a word with an auxiliary is used at the beginning of a sentence, we use a mark of interrogation / a question mark at the end of a sentence.

ix) Apostrophe (') is used in short forms like can't, won't etc. It can also be used after nouns (both singular and plural) i.e. sister's marriage, children's park etc.

1 Read the conversation between Mother and Daughter. Put punctuation marks in the boxes. The first one has been done for you.

THREE EGGS

Siya : Look here, Mother ☐

There are two eggs on the plate ☐ I can show you there are three.

Mother : How ☐

Siya: This is number one ☐ that is number two ☐ one and two make three.

We use punctuation marks to make our writing clear meaningful. You already know how to use full stops and commas. Let us look at three more punctuation marks—brackets, semicolon, and colon.

Colon (:) is used to introduce a list or an explanation.

- You need the following ingredients to make Ela Ada: ghee, coconut, jaggery, and rice flour.
- He has one goal: to win the championship.

Semicolon (;) is used to connect two clauses which are closely related without a conjunction.

- She loves reading; he prefers watching movies.
- Suraj followed close behind; but he found he was unable to do any shouting.

Now, use semicolons and colons to punctuate the following paragraph.

We explored the busy by-lanes of Unit 1 market, the heart of Bhubaneswar it was an exciting day. We wanted to do a few things buy korakhai , taste Pahalo rasagolla , and buy Pipili chandua , which are special to this area. As we walked through the lanes, we saw stalls selling spices, clothes, and jewellery the market was full of colours. We visited some famous spots of Dhauligiri, Khandgiri, State Museum and Nandankanan each place was beautiful.

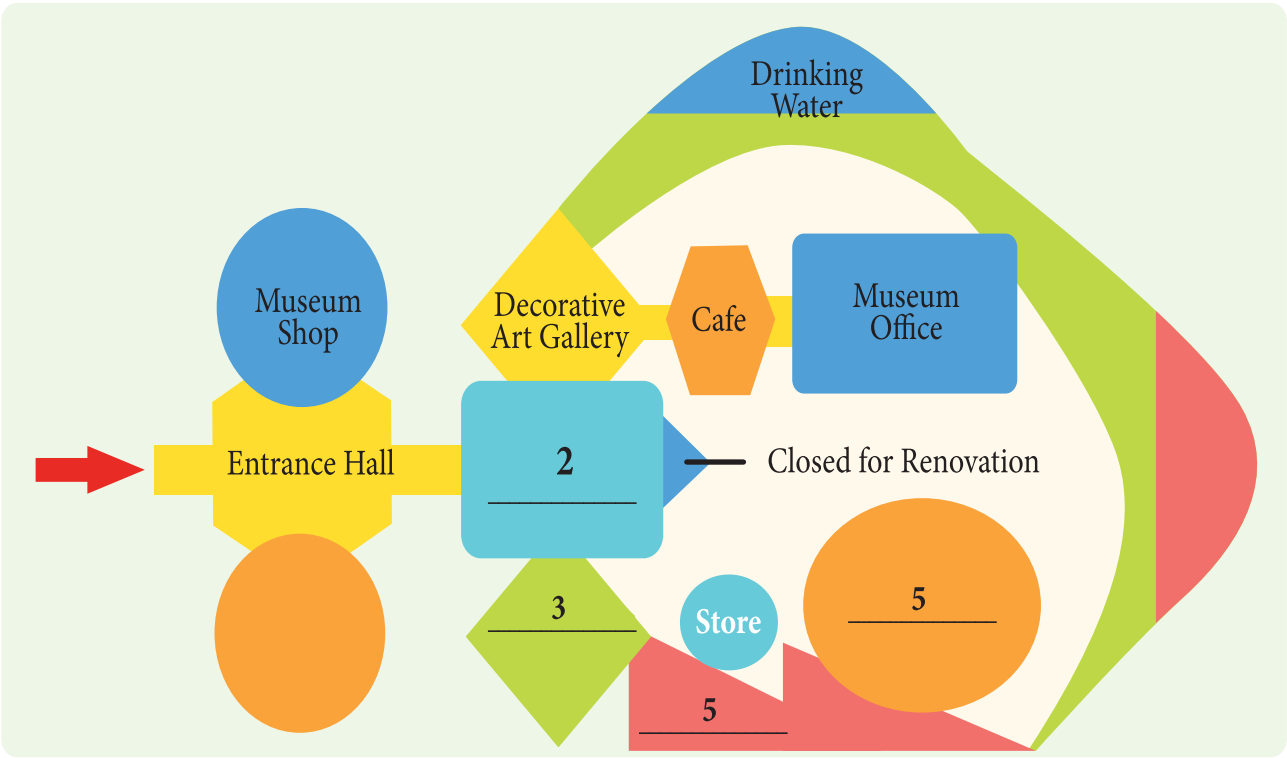

Let us listen

A famous museum in your town is organising a treasure hunt on the museum premises. You and your friends decide to participate in it. Upon arrival, you find that there are many other teams. Each team is given an audio guide (recorded information) and a map to the museum. (Transcript for the teacher on pg. 176)

Listen to the audio recording and as you listen, mark your map with the route to take to find the treasure. To help you, the names of a few rooms in the museum are given below. Now listen to the audio and mark the various rooms. (If audio recording is not available the teaher may read it out.)

Let us write

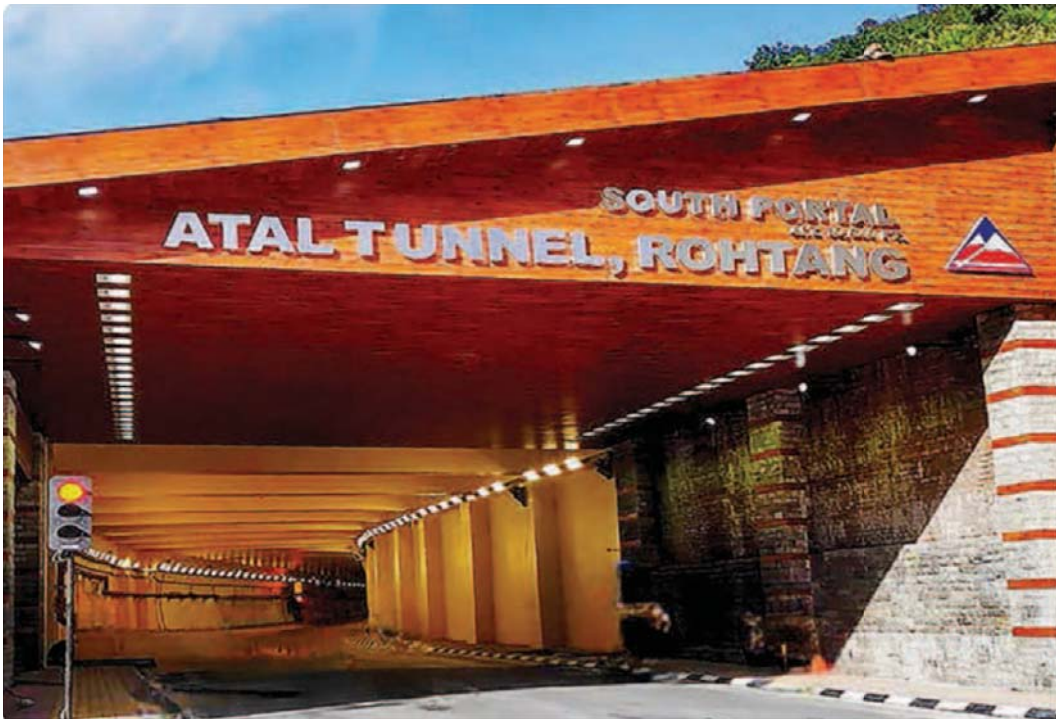

Write a descriptive paragraph about your experience of a train journey. Describe the sights, sounds, and feelings you experienced during the journey. Include details about the people around you, the scenery outside, and the atmosphere inside the train to make your paragraph vivid and engaging.

You may use the following guidelines to help you create the paragraph.

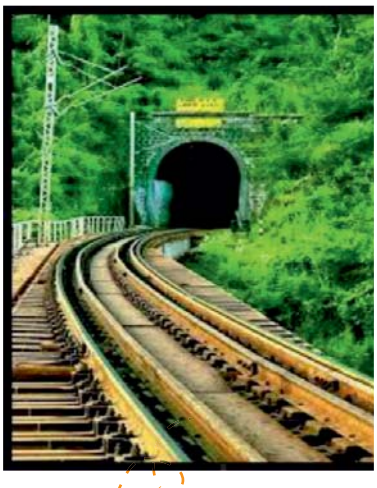

- Start with how the journey began: boarding the train, finding yourseat, and the initial impressions.
- Describe the sounds: the whistle of the train, the chatter of passengers, and the rhythmic clatter of wheels on the tracks.
- Mention the sights: the changing scenery outside the window, the rush and noise inside the train, and any interesting moments.
- Reflect on your feelings: Were you excited, relaxed, or curious? Howdid the journey make you feel overall?

I The Nation's pride Atal Tunnel is 9.02 kilometres long. It runs under the Rohtang Pass. It was constructed on the Manali–Leh Highway under the challenging conditions of freezing temperatures in extremely difficult terrain. The Atal Tunnel has officially been certified by World Book of Records as the 'World's Longest Highway Tunnel above 10,000 Feet'!

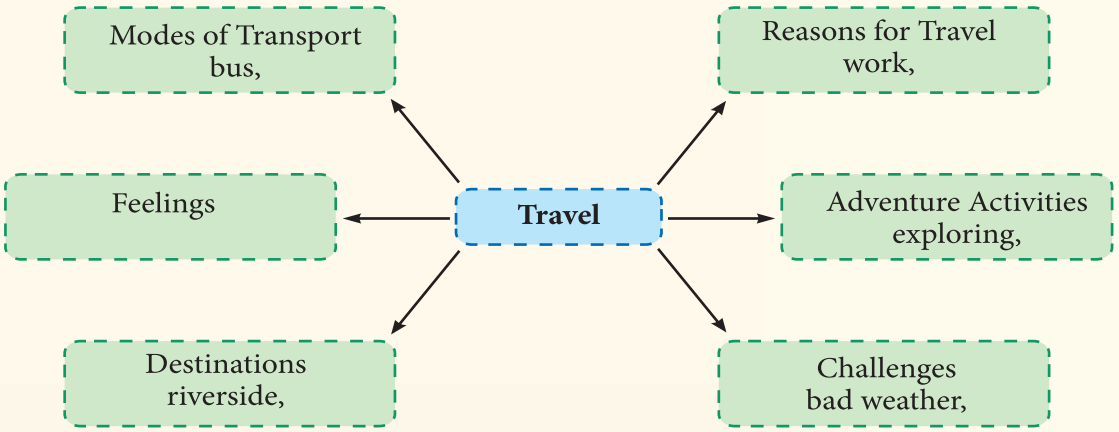

II The Maliguda Tunnel of Odisha is the 4th biggest broad-gauge railway tunnel in India. The tunnel is 13 KM east of Jeypore, 26 KM from Koraput. The tunnel on which the entire route of 430 KM was built by Japan engineers in between (1961-66) with Japanese collaboration for the supply of Iron Ore from Kirandul to Vizag Port via Dantewada, Jagdalpur, Jeypore, Koraput, Padua, Araka and Kottavalasa.

Travel

Let us do these activities before we read.

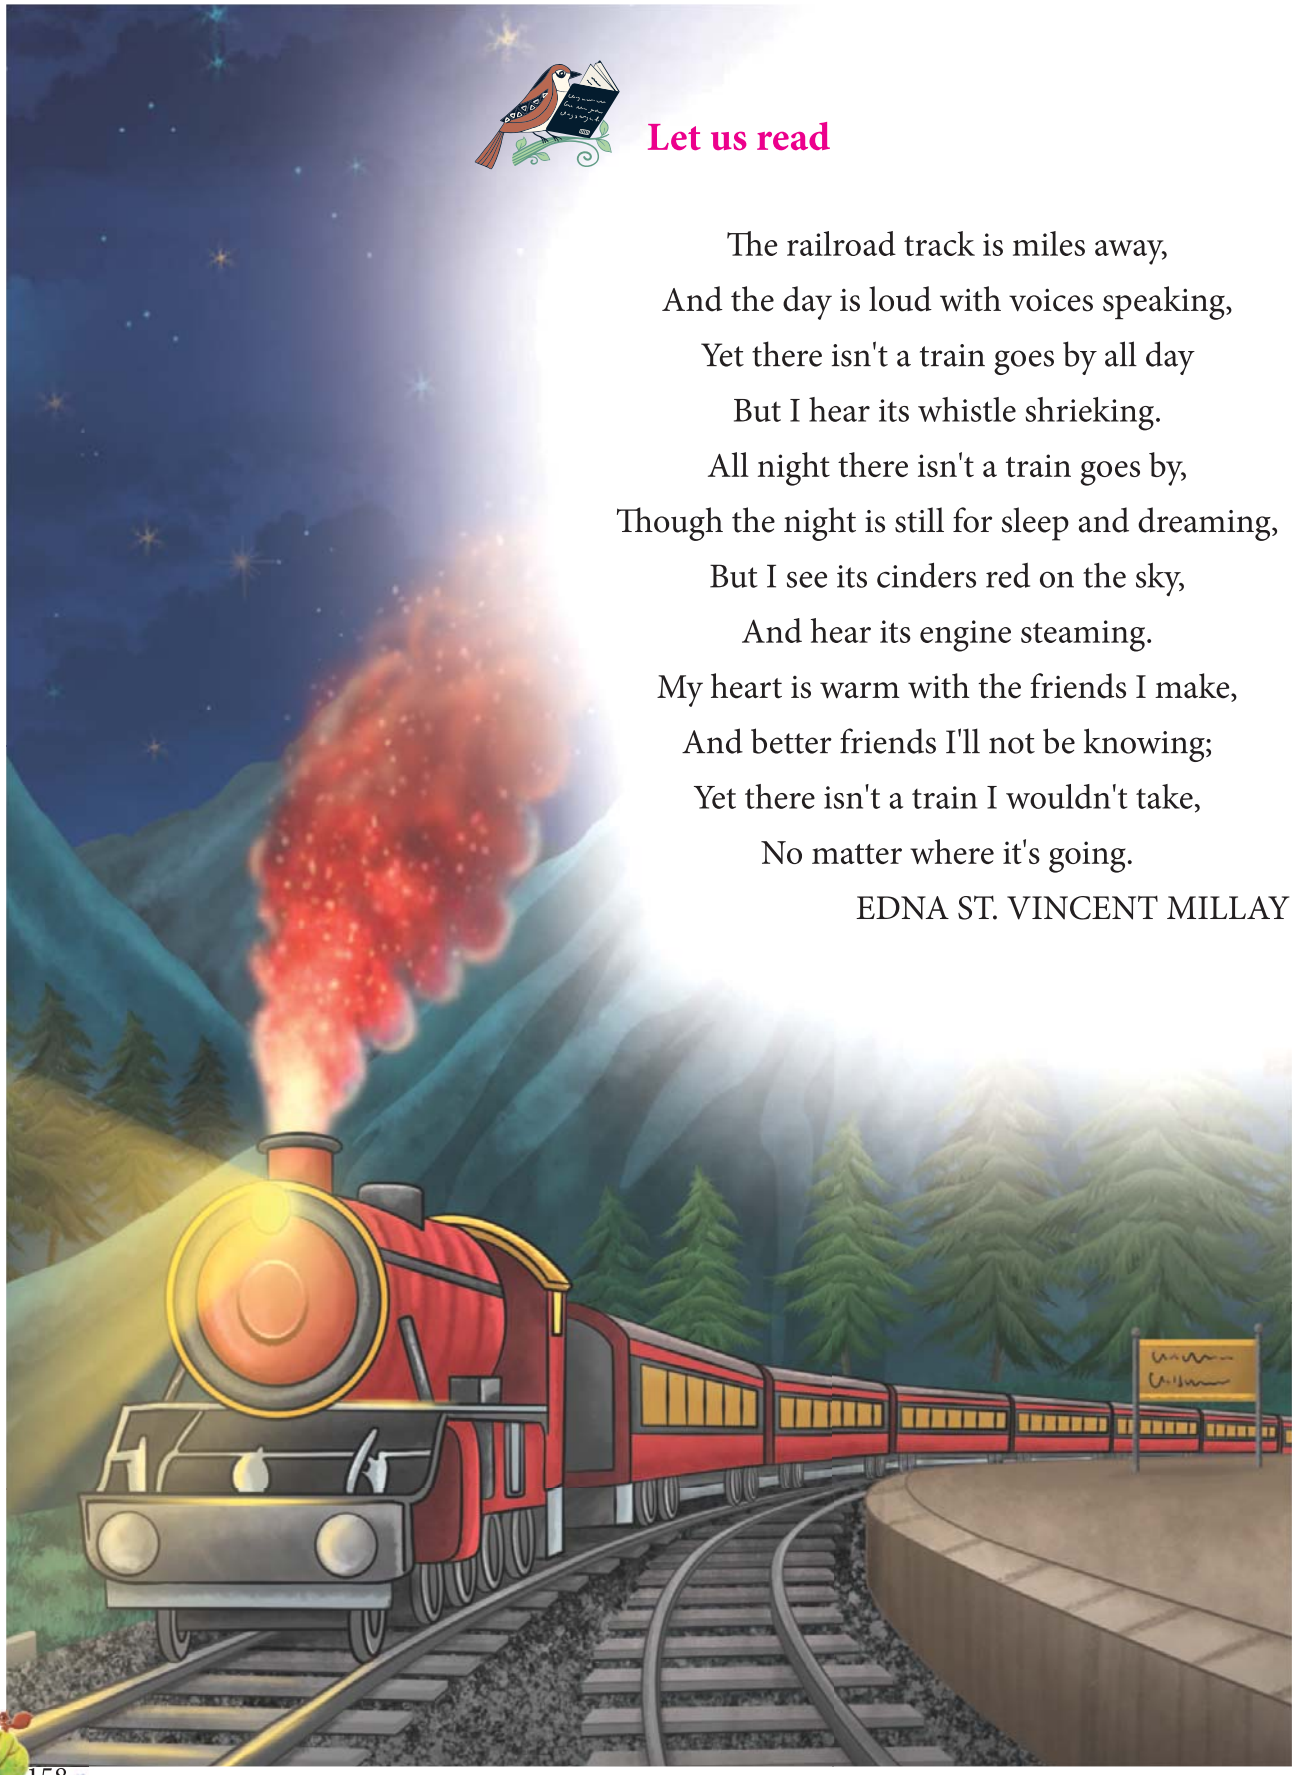

I Complete the following word web on travel.

II You are going on a trip to an adventure camp with your classmates and teacher.

1. How will you travel to the adventure camp?
2. What things will you take along?
3. Why would you like to go there?
4. What are the activities you would like to do with your friends?
5. How much time will it take to complete your adventure trip?

III Discuss in pairs. What might be the reasons that people enjoy train journeys?

Let us read

The railroad track is miles away,
And the day is loud with voices speaking,
Yet there isn't a train goes by all day
But I hear its whistle shrieking.
All night there isn't a train goes by,
Though the night is still for sleep and dreaming,
But I see its cinders red on the sky,
And hear its engine steaming.
My heart is warm with the friends I make,
And better friends I'll not be knowing;
Yet there isn't a train I wouldn't take,
No matter where it's going.

EDNA ST. VINCENT MILLAY

Let us discuss

I The main ideas of each stanza of the poem are given below. Write the number of the stanzas against the matching main idea.

1. At night, the speaker imagines the train and hears its engine in the quiet.
2. The speaker feels a strong desire to take any train, no matter where it goes.
3. The speaker hears the train whistle during the day, even though the train is far away.

II Read the poem and underline the rhyming words in each stanza. Write the rhyming words of each stanza. An example has been done for you.

1. Stanza (i) : away-day;_____
2. Stanza (ii) : _____ ; _____
3. Stanza (iii) : _____ ; _____

III Identify the rhyme scheme of the poem from the options given below.

1. AABB 2. ABCA 3. ABAB 4. ABBC

IV Identify the word in the poem that personifies the whistle of the train.

V Tone refers to the attitude the poet has about the poem. Which of these words can be used to describe the poet's tone in this poem?

Serious	excited	curious	worried	thoughtful
Content	enthusiastic	critical	joyful

VI Select the words that tell us what the train represents in the poem.

1. education 2. adventure 3. comfort
4. opportunities

VII Complete the following by choosing the correct option from those given in brackets.

The poet repeats the line, '...there isn't a train goes by,' in all three stanzas to _____. (highlight the speaker's interest with the train/suggest that the area has many trains passing through)

VIII The poem contrasts the busy day with the stillness of the night. What is the common factor in these?

IX Select the phrases from the poem that speaks the language of mental picture. One example is given:

day is loud, night is _____, _____ is warm.

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extract given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. My heart is warm with the friends I make,

   And better friends I'll not be knowing...

(i) Choose the suitable option to complete the following.

The line 'My heart is warm' refers to a heart that is _____.

A. filled with worries

B. full of love

C. feeling upset

D. experiencing anger

(ii) What does the speaker say about her current friends?

(iii) What does the line 'better friends I'll not be knowing' suggest about the speaker's feelings toward their current friends?

(iv) Complete the following suitably.

The tone of the speaker in these lines is . (grateful/content)

II Answer the following questions.

1. What does the phrase 'cinders red on the sky' tell us about the train at night?
2. What is the significance of the repeated references to the train'swhistle?
3. What does the line 'no matter where it's going' tell about the speaker's attitude towards travel?
4. Do you think the poet actually sees and hears the train? Why or why not?

Let us learn

I Read the expressions from the poem given in Column 1 and match them with what they indicate in Column 2.

Column 1	Column 2
1. miles away	(i) The speaker's affection for their friends
2. cinders red	(ii) The fast and powerful movement of the train
3. heart is warm	(iii) The busy and noisy atmosphere during the day
4. day is loud	(iv) The glow of the train's sparks lighting up the night sky
5. engine steaming	(v) The distance of the train from the speaker

Now, use the expressions in Column 1 to fill in the following blanks correctly.

1. After meeting her old friend, her _____with the joy of rekindled memories.

Let us listen

I Listen to this announcement made in the morning assembly about a school trip to the National Science Centre. As you listen, circle the information that is not correct. (Transcript for the teacher on pg. 177)

1. The trip to the National Science Centre is organised on 15 September.
2. Students will start from school at 8.00 in the morning and return by 5.00 in the evening.
3. Refreshment will not be provided during the trip.
4. Students are permitted to carry a phone, a notebook, and a pen.
5. The permission slip is to be signed by the parents.
6. The permission slip is to be submitted to your class teacher by 10 September.
7. Mr. Mohapatra is the Adventure Club in-charge.

I Now, listen to the announcement again and rectify the sentences.

Let us speak

When speaking in English, small differences in pronunciation can change the overall meaning of the words. One such difference is in the pronunciation of the consonant 'c'.

For example : cat (uses /k/ sounds for 'c') and city (uses the /s/ sound for 'c') The poem uses the word 'cinders', which is pronounced with a /s/ sound.

The letter 'c' has two sounds. It can be pronounced as a /k/ or /s/ sound. But which is right depends on the next letters of the words.

- Letter 'c' produces /s/ sound if it is followed by the letters 'e', 'i', or 'y'. For example, city ('c' is followed by 'i'). This /s/ sound is known as the soft 'c' sound.
- Letter 'c' produces /k/ sound if it is followed by the letters 'a', 'o', or 'u' or a consonant at the end of the word. For example : cat ('c' is followed by 'a'). This /k/ sound is known as the hard 'c' sound.

That is why 'cinders' is pronounced with a /s/ sound. The letter 'c' is followed by 'i'!

Now, work in pairs. Pronounce the given words aloud. Keep the rules of the soft and hard 'c' pronunciation in mind.

Let us write

I We come across many interesting persons while travelling. They become interesting because of their actions, their behaviour, and manner of speaking. Describe one such character that you met. Follow these steps.

1. Remember where and when you met the person.
2. Describe his/her good qualities.
3. Create a first draft of your description including the following details.
   (i) What is the name of the person?
   (ii) What does the person look like?
   (iii) What does he/she do?

(iv) What kind of person is she or he ?

(v) Include any line or incident from the text that you like the most.

2. Check your description for any spelling mistakes or errors.

3. Show your classmates your work and ask for suggestions to improve your writing..

4. Rewrite your description including all the changes and suggestions for improvement.

Let us explore

I The Mountain Railways of India are outstanding examples of hill railways and they are designated as a UNESCO World Heritage Site under the name Mountain Railways of India. These three railways are the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway, the Nilgiri Mountain Railway, and the Kalka–Shimla Railway.

The Matheran Hill Railway and Kangra Valley Railway are on the tentative list of UNESCO World Heritage Sites.

They are still fully operational as living examples of the innovative engineering enterprise of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. The owner of the three properties is the Railway Ministry of the Indian Government.

In groups of four, find out more about these heritage trains and make a presentation in the class.

II As an excellent example of the 'Make in India' success story, the Indian Railways launched India's first indigenous semi-high-speed train, Vande Bharat Express. It has become a symbol of India's aspirations for modern, efficient, and comfortable rail travel. The first Vande Bharat Express train was flagged off on 15 February 2019, on the New Delhi–Kanpur–Allahabad–Varanasi route, running at a speed of 160 kilometres per hour.

In groups, find out more about these heritage trains and make a presentation in the class.

III Some of the underwater rail tunnels are the Thames Tunnel in London, the Seikan Tunnel in Japan and the Channel Tunnel between England and France.

India's first underwater metro route in Kolkata started in March 2024. A part of this special metro line runs beneath the Hooghly River.

IV Which of these trains do you think would be adventurous to travel in ? Discuss among yourselves.

Draw the picture of a hut that you have seen by the side of a railway line or road or hill and colour it.

This is a story that narrates the triumph of will, courage, determination, and dedication. Arunima Sinha's journey from a deadly accident to scaling the highest peak in the world stands as a beacon of hope and resilience. In 2011, at the age of 24, Arunima Sinha, a national-level volleyball player, faced a life-altering event. It challenged her in ways she could never have imagined. As she lay in the hospital bed with one leg amputated, Arunima made a vow that many would deem impossible: not only to walk again with a prosthetic leg but to scale Mount Everest. In 2013, she did just that, becoming the first Indian female amputee to achieve this feat. Hence, in 2015, she was awarded the Padma Shri, the fourth highest civilian award in India. She was also awarded the Tenzing Norgay National Adventure Award and National Award for Best Female Mountaineer.

Arunima hails from Ambedkar Nagar, a small district in Uttar Pradesh. Her father was an army engineer, and her mother worked as a health supervisor. Sports were a significant part of Arunima's life, with her family having a natural inclination towards athletics. After completing her law degree following her post-graduation, Arunima decided to pursue a job in the paramilitary forces, which would allow her to continue her passion for sports while having a regular income.

On the fateful night of 11 April 2011, she met with a train accident. The hours that followed were harrowing. She never imagined she would survive that night, but survive she did, miraculously, displaying an extraordinary will to live. Arunima received a prosthetic leg and underwent physiotherapy. It was during this period that she made a profound decision. Inspired by an article about Mount Everest, she resolved to conquer the highest peak in the world.

To pursue her ambition, Arunima Sinha completed a basic mountaineering course at the Nehru Institute of Mountaineering in Uttarkashi, followed by eighteen months of rigorous training. Arunima approached Bachendri Pal, thefirst Indian woman to summit Everest, to guide her in the endeavour. Bachendri Pal instilled confidence in Arunima and said, "My child, you triumph : feeling of success for a great success.

beacon: source of inspiration resilience: ability to recover quickly from a difficulty amputated: cut off a part of the body (here the leg) prosthetic leg: an artificial leg that helps people to move around easily feat: remarkable skill harrowing: extremely disturbing and painful rigorous: severe endeavour: an attempt to do something surge: a sudden and great increase endurance: (here) ability to continue doing something difficult for a long time fortitude: courage over a long period decided to climb Mount Everest in these situations with a prosthetic leg—you have conquered the Everest within you; the world will realise it later."

On 21 May 2013, after 52 exhausting days, Arunima Sinha reached the summit of Mount Everest. Standing at the top of the world, she felt a surge of emotions—pride, relief, and an overwhelming sense of achievement. She displayed the Indian flag at the summit and left behind a photograph of her idol, Swami Vivekananda, whose teachings had inspired her throughout her journey.

Arunima's feat did not end with Everest. By July 2016, she had climbed seven peaks in Europe, Africa, Australia, South America, North America, and of course, Mount Everest in Asia. In January 2019, she climbed the seventh peak on Antarctica and became world's first female amputee to climb Mount Vinson. Her goal to complete the Seven Summits was achieved.

Throughout her journey, Arunima has faced numerous challenges and setbacks. Yet, her story is not just about physical endurance but also about mental fortitude and the power of a positive mind set. Her message is simple yet profound:

Jasmine

"Never give up and work hard. Always remember your goal and work on it."

Arunima's autobiography, Born Again on the Mountain: A Story of Losing Everything and Finding It Back records her incredible journey to the top of the world. It is a story of triumph over adversity, a testament to the human spirit's capacity to rise above the most challenging circumstances.

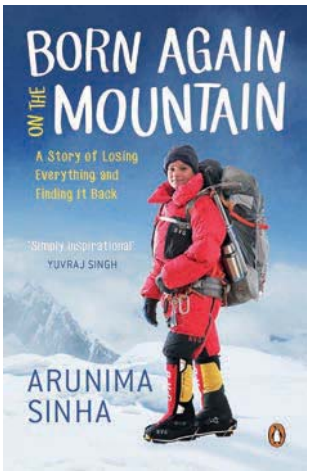

She was conferred with the honorary doctorate by the University of Strathclyde, Glasgow, UK. In her words, "Failure is not when we fall short of achieving our goals. It is when we don't have goals worthy enough. Never forget your goal, respect it, work hard, and you will be the winner." Dr. Arunima Sinha has not only conquered mountains but has also won people's hearts the world over, inspiring them to reach their own summits.

autobiography : a person who writes his own life history

Let us discuss

I Read the statements given below and explain each statement in your words.

1. Arunima Sinha is considered a beacon of hope and resilience.
2. Arunima decided to climb Mount Everest despite losing her leg.
3. Bachendri Pal's guidance was crucial in Arunima's journey to the summit of Mount Everest.
4. Arunima's achievements go beyond just physical endurance.
5. Arunima's autobiography inspires readers around the world.

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extract given below and answer the questions that follow.

Bachendri Pal instilled confidence in Arunima and said, "My child, you decided to climb Mount Everest in these situations with a prosthetic leg—you have conquered the Everest within you; the world will realise it later."

On 21 May 2013, after 52 exhausting days, Arunima Sinha reached the summit of Mount Everest. Standing at the top of the world, she felt a surge of emotions—pride, relief, and an overwhelming sense of achievement.

1. Complete the sentence with a suitable reason.

   Bachendri Pal said that Arunima had conquered the Everest within her because_____.

2. How might Arunima have felt after what Bachendri Pal told her?
3. Choose a phrase from the extract which shows that reaching the summit of Mount Everest was tiring.
4. Select the correct option to complete the sentence.

   After her success when Arunima felt 'an overwhelming sense of achievement', she would have most likely said, "_____."

   (i) I am confident of my abilities
   (ii) I will accomplish this soon
   (iii) I am excited to begin this climb
   (iv) I finally realised my dream

II Answer the following questions.

1. What did Arunima do in order to fulfill her ambition of conquering Mount Everest?
2. Arunima is a beacon of hope and resilience. Support this statement with evidence from the text.
3. Arunima's autobiography is titled Born Again on the Mountain: A Story of Losing Everything and Finding It Back. Why do you think this title is appropriate?

III. Read the passage given billow and answer the questions that follow Kalpana Dash was Odisha's first woman mountaineer to successfully climb Mount Everest. She was born at Kumbhara Sahi, Kanchan Bazar in the district of Dhenkanal.

Besides Everest, she had climbed various peaks in India, Nepal, Euorope, America and Australia.

Her achievement inspired other women in Odisha to pursue mountaineering and she was famous as a role- model for aspiring climbers.

1. How did Kalpana Dash make Odisha proud?
2. How might Kalpana Dash have felt after she successfully climbed Mount Everest ?
3. What might be Kalpana Dash's goal in life ?
   - i) To climbe various peaks
   - ii) To successfully climbe Mount Everest
   - iii) To inspire other women to pursue mountaineering
   - iv) To be famous as a mountaineer

Let us learn

I Read the underlined phrases in sentences (i)–(v) and match them with their appropriate meanings given in the box below.

1. genuine, sincere efforts
2. strength of mind
3. periods of time filled with tiring and demanding activities
4. an incident or experience that significantly changes a person's life
5. a source of inspiration or encouragement.

(i) Nisha was relieved when the final match was over after several exhausting days of practice.

(ii) Despite several failures, her heartfelt attempts to learn the guitar showed her determination and passion for music.

(iii) Moving to a new city was a life-altering event for Jagan, as it gave him the chance to make new friends and try different activities.

(iv) Competing in the marathon requires not just physical strength but also mental fortitude to stay focused and finish the race.

(v) The lighthouse served as a beacon of hope for the sailors lost at sea.

II Complete the following table by filling in the gaps with correct parts of speech mentioned. An example has been done for you.

Nouns	Adjectives	Verbs (present)	Adverbs determination	determined	determine	determinedly relief			relievedly
	inspiring	inspire
resistance			resistantly
success	successful

II Study the highlighted words in the following sentences from the text.

- Arunima made a vow that many would deem impossible.
- Her father was an army engineer.
- Standing at the top of the world, she felt a surge of emotions—pride, relief, and an overwhelming sense of achievement.
- She planted the Indian flag at the summit and left behind a photograph of her idol, Swami Vivekananda.
- Arunima Sinha's journey from a devastating accident to scaling the highest peak in the world stands as a beacon of hope and resilience.

The highlighted words are articles.

'A' / 'an' is indefinite articles; 'The' is the definite article. The choice between 'a' or 'an' depends on the sound that follows the article, specifically the initial sound of the word that follows.

The article 'a' is usually used before a word beginning with a consonant sound. For example ; a vow, a surge of emotions etc.

The article 'an' is usually used before a word beginning with vowel sound. For example: - an army, an overwhelming sense, etc.

1. Fill in the blanks with 'a'/'an', 'the'. Put an 'x' where no article is required.

   We planned (i) _____ adventurous trip to (ii) _____ remote island. (iii) _____ island was known for its beautiful landscapes and (iv) _____ diverse wildlife. On (v) _____ first day, we set out to explore (vi) _____ island's dense jungle. (vii) _____ guide led us through (viii) _____ thick foliage and showed us (ix) _____ hidden waterfall. In (x) _____ evening, we gathered around (xi) _____ campfire to share stories and enjoy (xii) _____ meal we cooked. (xiii) _____ experience was truly unforgettable, and we felt (xiv) connection with (xv) _____ nature.

2. There is an error in each sentence. Correct the error in the following sentences.

(i) We waited for a hour before the bus finally arrived.

(ii) The guide insisted on an uniform jacket for the group's safety during the trek.

(iii) Mount K2 is a second highest peak in the world.

(iv) A Ganga is a sacred river in India, known for its cultural importance.

(v) Challenges are faced with courage and determination by a brave.

(vi) A North Star has guided travellers for centuries.

A famous museum in your town is organising a treasure hunt in the museum premises. You and your friends decide to participate in it. Upon arrival, you find that there are many other teams. Each team is given an audio guide (recorded information) and a map to the museum. (If audio recording is not available the teacher may read it out)

1. Look at the map given below. Try and predict what each of the rooms might be.

2. Listen to the audio recording or to your teacher and as you listen, mark your map with the route to take to find the treasure. To help you, the names of a few rooms in the museum are given below. Now listen to the audio or to the teacher and mark the various rooms.

Welcome to the City Museum. We start our tour at the entrance hall. Here you will find the information booth and a display devoted to the history of this museum. To the right of the Entrance Hall you will find the (i) library. On the left is the museum shop. Go straight from the Entrance Hall till you reach the (ii) Art Gallery. The gallery is famous for its collection of rare paintings from various parts of India. There are three doors that lead out of the Art Gallery. The first door on the left leads to the Decorative Art Gallery, where you will find items like jewellery, carvings, and textiles from Medieval India. The next door is temporarily closed due to renovation work. The third door on the right leads to the (iii) Weapons Room, where you will find an extensive collection of Indian weapons including bows, swords, shields, and helmets. From the weapons room take a left turn. You will find the world-famous (iv) Musical Instruments Section, where you can find musical instruments from every country in the world. The second room to the left in this gallery will take you to the (v) Auditorium. Hidden here is your treasure! All the best to all. May the best team win !

1. Listen to this announcement made in the morning assembly about a school trip to the National Science Centre. As you listen, circle the words that are not correct.

Good morning students !

I have some very exciting news to share with you all. The much- awaited educational trip to the National Science Centre will be held on 16 September, that is in two weeks! As you know this would be a fantastic opportunity to explore and learn more about the world around us.

We will be starting from school at 8.00 in the morning and return by 5.30 in the evening. All of you must be in proper school uniform. Don't forget to carry your identity cards. Light refreshments will be provided at the museum. But do carry a water bottle and a packed lunch. You are not permitted to wear any jewellery or carry mobile phones. You may carry a notebook and a pen to make notes. Interested students must bring a permission slip signed by their parents and submit them to their class teachers by 10 September. It is going to be a fun trip so don't miss out. If you have any more questions, please contact Mr. Mukherjee, the excursion in-charge.

2. Now, listen to the announcement again and rectify the sentences.

Let us listen (refer to page 173)

You will listen to five speakers share their opinion about adventure sports. As you listen match the statements 1–8 with the speakers (i)–(v). There are three extra statements that you do not need.

SPEAKER (i): As a parent, I fear the risks involved, especially with activities like rock climbing or paragliding.

I'm quite worried about the safety risks of adventure sports. It's important to consider these risks before letting children participate.

SPEAKER (ii): Adventure sports are thrilling! All my friends agree; it is amazing. It's not just about fun; it's about pushing your limits and experiencing something new. I think it's worth trying, of course, with a trainer.

SPEAKER (iii): As organisers of adventure camps, we take safety very seriously. Our team ensures all equipment is regularly checked and maintained. Participants are given thorough training and are always supervised by professionals. We focus on minimising risks while still providing an exciting experience.

SPEAKER (iv): At our school, we organise adventure camps with activities like trekking and zip-lining. However, we stick to basic sports that are safe and manageable for students. We always prioritise safety, ensuring that all necessary precautions and measures are in place. Being careful is what we promote.

SPEAKER (v): In my opinion, sports should be about fitness and enjoyment, like track and field or swimming. Why risk your life for a fleeting moment of thrill just for a feeling of adventure? Traditional sports are safer and just as fulfilling!

Let us read

Two friends share their feelings about brave soldiers. One of them shares her experience of visiting the National War Memorial that has left a deep impact on her. They exchange letters and share their feelings of gratitude for the freedom they enjoy because of the sacrifices made by the bravehearts of the country. The memorial symbolises the patriotism of Indian soldiers. What is this memorial?

territorial integrity: safeguarding nation's borders look forward to: to expect (something) with pleasure envisioned: visualised iconic: celebrated tribute: showing respect, gratitude aspiration: hope/ goal/dream

Dear Ananda,

Hope you are all doing well!Do you remember our last conversation about war and the importance of peace? We talked about India's struggle for its Independence from the British for many centuries. Even after independence our country has been fighting several wars to protect its borders, territorial integrity, and its people. Many questions come to my mind; who were these brave Indian people? They fought to protect our country and sacrificed their lives for our peace and pleasure. What were their names? Where did they come from? Does anyone remember anything about them?

Last week I got the answers to some of my questions during an educational trip of our school to New Delhi. You may recall, I was looking forward to this trip and our visit to many places of historical and educational significance. I have learnt several new and interesting things. Now I am excited to share them with you.

Let me begin by asking you to guess the name of the most inspiring monument. Let's see if you can guess. 'The construction of this monument started in April 2018 and was completed in February 2019. It was envisioned and then inaugurated by India's Prime Minister Shri Narendra Damodardas Modi in February 2019. In terms of location and size, it is spread over 40 acres of land near the iconic India Gate. But more importantly, it is a tribute to some of the bravest Indians.' I'm sure you've guessed it rightly! It's the 'National War Memorial'. Won't you say, a long-desired aspiration was fulfilled?

Let us discuss

1. What kind of places did they visit during their trip?
2. What is the name of the monument they visited?
3. When did the construction work begin?
4. How much time did it take to complete the work of the monument?
5. Where is it situated?
6. Who inaugurated the 'National War Monument'?

Our visit to the National War Memorial began and our teacher explained a lot of things; even after Independence, India has fought many wars to protect herself. The freedom and security we enjoy today is because of the service of many brave men and women of Indian Armed Forces over decades. Sadly, she said, war always takes its toll, and therefore, many brave soldiers have sacrificed their lives for the country even after our Independence in 1947.

takes its toll: causes suffering death or damages sacrificed: lost

This is what makes monuments like the National War Memorial extremely important, so that we should never forget the cost of freedom. We are aware, always, of the pain and horrors of war. We learnt that each brick of the memorial is called a tablet. It bears the names of soldiers who fought for India and made the supreme sacrifice in different wars from 1947 till date, including the Indo-China conflict of 1962, the Indo- Pak Wars in 1965 & 1971 and the Kargil War in 1999. There are 29,000 tablets on which more than 26,000 names of fallen soldiers have been etched.

etched: engraved

It was heartening to know that our government has recognised the sacrifice of brave soldiers. Our teacher told us about the 21 bravehearts who were awarded the Param Vir Chakra (PVC), India's highest wartime gallantry medal, for their service to the nation. She also told us about Maha Vir Chakra (MVC), Kirti Chakra (KC), Vir Chakra (VrC), and Shaurya Chakra (SC).

gallantry: exceptional courage especially in battle

Major Somnath Sharma was posthumously awarded India's first PVC in the Battle of Badgam in 1947. Later some more PVCs were awarded for exceptional gallantry during the India- China Conflict of 1962, and the India-Pakistan War of 1965. Besides, a PVC was also awarded for service during the UN Peace Keeping Operations in Congo.

posthumously: after death

In the 1971 war, some of the heroes who were awarded the PVC (posthumously) include Lance Naik Albert Ekka, Flying Officer Nirmal Jit citation: excellent performance of duty awestruck: amazed

Singh Sekhon, Second Lieutenant Arun Khetarpal, and Major Hoshiar Singh. Some Navy personnel including Captain Mahendra Nath Mulla were also awarded MVC for their exemplary courage and leadership.

Then the teacher shared with us the citation of Maha Vir Chakra awardee Major Padmapani Acharya of Odisha. It touched my heart and also motivated me. We were awestruck and humbled by his bravery in the Kargil War 1999. I aspire to be courageous like him when I join the army !

Let us discuss

1. Who helped the students know about the 'National War Memorial?
2. Why did the teacher become sad at the time of saying about the brave soldiers?
3. Why is the National War Memorial extremely important?
4. What is a tablet in the national War Memorial and what does it bear?
5. What does the phrase, 'the cost of freedom' mean to you?
6. What are the different kinds of medals our soldiers awarded? Which is India's highest wartime gallantry award?
7. Who was awarded India's first highest wartime gallantry award after death?
8. What touched Soumya's heart and why?

CITATION

MAJOR PADMAPANI ACHARYA (IC-55072) 2 RAJPUTANA RIFLES (POSTHUMOUS)

On 28 June 1999, Major Padmapani Acharya as a Company Commander, was assigned the formidable task of capturing an enemy position which was heavily fortified, strongly held and covered with mines and sweeping machine gun and artillery fire.

Success of the battalion and brigade operation hinged on the early capture of this position. However, the company attack almost faltered at the very beginning when the enemy's artillery fire came down squarely on the leading platoon, inflicting large number of casualties.

With utter disregard to his personal safety, Major Padmapani Acharya took the reserve platoon of his company and led it through raining artillery shells. Even as his men were falling to the murderous enemy fire, he continued to encourage his men and charged at the enemy up the steep rock face with his reserve platoon.

Unmindful of the hail of bullets from the enemy's position, Major Padmapani Acharya crawled up to the enemy position and lobbed grenades. In this daring assault, Major Acharya was severely injured. Despite being seriously injured and unable to move, he ordered his men to leave him and charge at the enemy while he continued to fire at the enemy. The enemy position was finally over-run and the objective was captured.

After completion of the mission, the officer however, succumbed to his injuries.

Major Padmapani Acharya displayed exceptional courage, leadership and spirit of self-sacrifice in the face of the enemy.

As we continued our visit around the National War Memorial, we came across another important monument. It is called Amar Jawan Jyoti. It has been set up to commemorate our soldiers. The immortal flame is kept ablaze all through the day and night to revere the sacrifices of our soldiers. The National War Memorial now includes Amar Jawan Jyoti and it is surrounded by four Chakras. The lighting design is planned in such a way that it transforms the monuments' landscape and sunlight changes from dawn to dusk. It's truly a majestic site that filled me with me pride for our nation. I was also overwhelmed by the interminable flame as a symbol of courage and valour.

valour: heroism

Our teacher also explained the Chakras to us. I found it interesting and hence I am sharing the same with you.

murals: large paintings on a wall

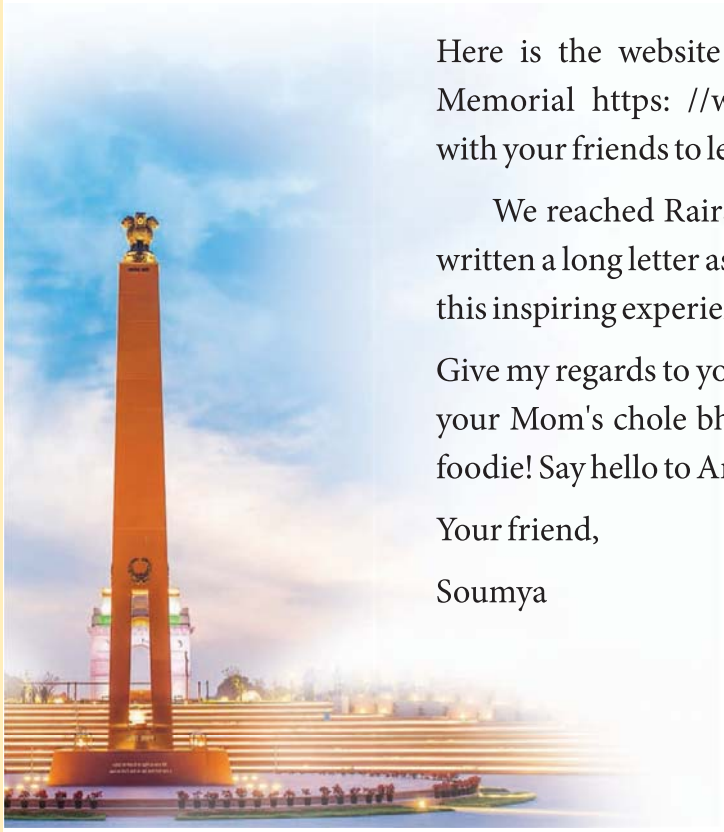

The National War Memorial consists of four circles, which are known as Amar Chakra, Veerta Chakra, Tyag Chakra, and Raksha Chakra around a 15-metre-tall central pillar with the eternal flame—the Amar Jawan Jyoti. It has also bronze and stone murals and graphic panels. Isn't it amazing !

The innermost circle represents the Amar Chakra also known as the 'Circle of Immortality'. The second circle is called Veerta Chakra, which is also known as the 'Circle of Bravery' The third circle represents the Tyag Chakra, also known as the 'Circle of Sacrifice'. The outermost circle represents the Raksha Chakra, which is also known as the 'Circle of Protection'.

We spent the whole day, from morning to evening, at the National War Memorial and the surrounding areas, marked by majestic lawns and grand buildings of Kartavyapath. I felt as if I had developed a bond with the place.

I learnt a lot, but I also have to admit that the various discourses during the day brought tears to my eyes. It was sad to think about the massive devastation and loss of life caused by wars. It motivated me to live a life worthy of the sacrifices of our heroes.

discourses : serious discussions on different topics devastation : destruction

Here is the website link for National War Memorial https: //www.mygov.in. Share it with your friends to learn more about it.

We reached Rairangpur yesterday. I have written a long letter as I could not help sharing this inspiring experience with you.

Give my regards to your Mom and Dad. I miss your Mom's chole bhature. You know I am a foodie! Say hello to Amit.

valiant :
very brave

Dear Soumya,

It was such a pleasure to receive your letter. I enjoyed reading your experience of the visit to the National War Memorial in Delhi.

I was happy to hear that you got an opportunity to visit the National War Memorial. I have heard a lot about it. Some people might see a war memorial as just a monument a statue to celebrate our victory and commemorate the brave soldiers. In my view, it also gives pleasure to express our deep gratitude for the supreme sacrifice made by our brave soldiers, defending the sovereignty and integrity of the country. I feel motivated to join the Armed Forces to serve my motherland.

I also feel it is our duty to periodically visit such places to honour our valiant soldiers who have made great sacrifices for us. Their sacrifices enabled us to walk freely in our country without fear of enemy threats. It is nice of your teacher and school to arrange this visit to give you all a chance to learn about India's heroes and also pay your respect to them. It would be better to make a presentation about your visit at school. Best of luck for a nice presentation, hope it could motivate the school students to join the Indian Armed Forces.

When I think back about my visit to Chandigarh's Bougainvillea Garden in sector 3 where everyone was dedicating flowers as a mark of respect to our soldiers, I got excited.

I have shared your experience with many of my friends. We all wish to visit the National War Memorial, Delhi. I am inspired by your letter!

Give my regards to your parents.

Hope to hear from you soon about your new adventures and experiences.

Best wishes,

Ananda

Let us discuss

I How does Soumya's letter help Ananda in pursuing her hobby?

II Ananda is inspired to act after reading the letter from Soumya. What actions does she intend to take up? Fill in the table citing the sentences from the text.

3.	sharing ideas
4.	creating a collage
5.	joining the army
6.	website

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extracts given below and answer the questions that follow.

1. As we continued our visit around the National War Memorial, we came across another important monument. It is called Amar Jawan Jyoti. It has been set up to commemorate our soldiers. The immortal flame is kept ablaze all through the day and night to revere the sacrifices of our soldiers. The lighting design is planned in such a way that it transforms the monument's landscape as sunlight changes from dawn to dusk. The National War Memorial now includes Amar Jawan Jyoti and it is surrounded by four Chakras. It is truly a majestic site that filled me with pride for our nation. I was also overwhelmed by the interminable flame as a symbol of courage and valour.

(i) Complete the analogy/similarity with a word from the extract.

flame : valour :: commemorate: _____

(ii) How does the lighting design make the monument visually appealing?

(iii) State whether the following sentence is a fact or an opinion.

It truly is a majestic site _____

(iv) What does the everlasting flame suggest?

(v) Choose the correct option to complete the sentence

The tone of the writer in this extract is _____.

A. modest B. light-hearted C. admiring D. nostalgic

2. I was happy to hear that you got an opportunity to visit the National War Memorial. I have heard a lot about it. Some people might see a war memorial as just a monument, statue to celebrate our victory and commemorate the brave soldiers. In my view, it also gives us pleasure to express our deep gratitude for the supreme sacrifice made by our brave soldiers defending the sovereignty and integrity of the country. I feel motivated to join the Armed Forces to serve my motherland.

(i) Choose a line from the extract which shows that Ananda was aware about the National War Memorial.

(ii) What might be the most likely reason for people to consider a war memorial as a monument?

(iii) Fill in the blank with a suitable word from the extract.

We conduct special competitions at school to _____our Independence day.

(iv) Select a phrase from the extract showing that Ananda is expressing an opinion.

(v) Complete the sentence with a suitable reason.

Ananda refers to the sacrifice of soldiers as 'supreme' sacrifice because _____.

II Answer the following questions.

1. What is the significance of the National War Memorial?
2. Major Padmapani Acharya is an example of selflessness, determination, and exceptional courage. Elaborate.
3. Explain how the National War Memorial and Museum app will be helpful in spreading awareness about war heroes.
4. Why is it our duty to pay homage to our brave soldiers?
5. What is the main idea of this text? How does it justify the title, 'A Homage to our Brave Soldiers'?
6. Why were the students awestruck and humbled? Explain in your own words.

Let us learn

Study the following words taken from the text.

encourage, immortal, remind, discourse

These words are made by adding word beginnings like dis-, en-, im-, re, dis- to the root words courage, mortal, mind and course respectively. Such word beginnings are called prefixes.

- en-+courage
- re-+mind
- im-+mortal
- dis-+course

I Match the prefixes with their meanings and the root words to create a new word in the table given below. An example has been done for you.

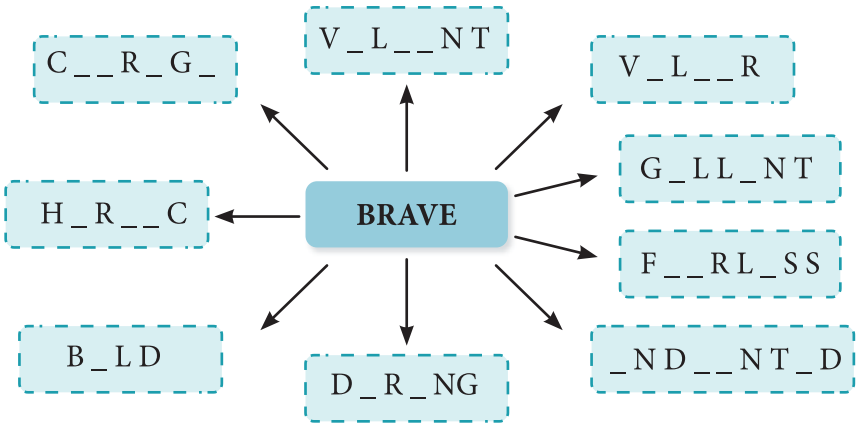

1. Prefixes	2. Meanings	3. Root Words	4. New Words re-	badly, wrongly	questionable
mal-	beyond, outside	activate un-	opposed to; against	define anti-	former	functioning
extra-	lacking; not	service	Extraordinary ex-	remove	ordinary
de-	do again	social

Now, complete the paragraph by using the new words created in the table.

Soldiers undergo (i) extraordinary training to prepare for their challenging duties. They learn to (ii) _____ explosives and handle (iii)_____ equipment with precision. They stand as a powerful force against (iv)_____ elements, displaying (v)_____ bravery. (vi)_____ members often share their experiences to inspire new recruits. Their service can continually (vii)_____ the essence of commitment and sacrifice.

II Find words associated with 'brave' by filling in the missing vowels in the boxes given below.

III Fill in the blanks with the correct opposite words of 'brave' from the box to complete the following sentences.

fear cowardly timid afraid

1. Ajay's _____ refusal to stand up for his friend was disappointing to everyone.
2. The _____ child hid behind his mother, too scared to meet the new teacher.
3. Anjali's _____ of heights prevented her from climbing the tall ladder.
4. Sushma felt _____ as she entered the dark, abandoned building alone.

IV Read the following sentences from the text and divide them into two parts. One is done for you.

i. I'm sure that you've guessed it rightly !

ii. I aspire to be courageous like him when I join the army !

iii. We learnt that each brick of the memorial is called a tablet.

iv. There are 29,000 tablets on which more than 26,000 names of fallen soldiers have been etched.

v. I learnt a lot, but I also have to admit that the various discourses during the day brought tears to my eyes.

vi. The sacrifices of the soldiers make monuments like the National War Memorial extremely important so that we should never forget the cost of freedom.

Let us write

You have read about the sacrifices made by the Armed Forces during war. However, the Armed Forces also play a key role during peace time. Write a letter to your friend sharing how the Armed Forces contribute their services during the times of natural calamities (floods, earthquakes, etc.), infrastructure development (building bridges in remote areas, etc.) and for welfare initiatives (medical camps, establishment of libraries, etc.)

Let us explore

I Every branch of the Armed Forces has motto. Read the mottos given below.

1. Indian Army	Seva Paramo Dharmah (Service Before Self)
2. Indian Air Force	Nabhah Sprsam Diptam (Touch the Sky with Glory)
3. Indian Navy	Sham No Varunah (Be Auspicious Unto Us Oh Varuna)

II India has many other Forces that serve the nation. For example, Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF).

III Create a collage capturing the lives and stories of people that inspire us. In groups of four, prepare a collage on a chart paper on any such person and present it in the class.

IV Many women have joined the Armed Forces and are serving the nation. Have a discussion in the class with examples.

My Dear Soldiers

Let us do these activities before we read.

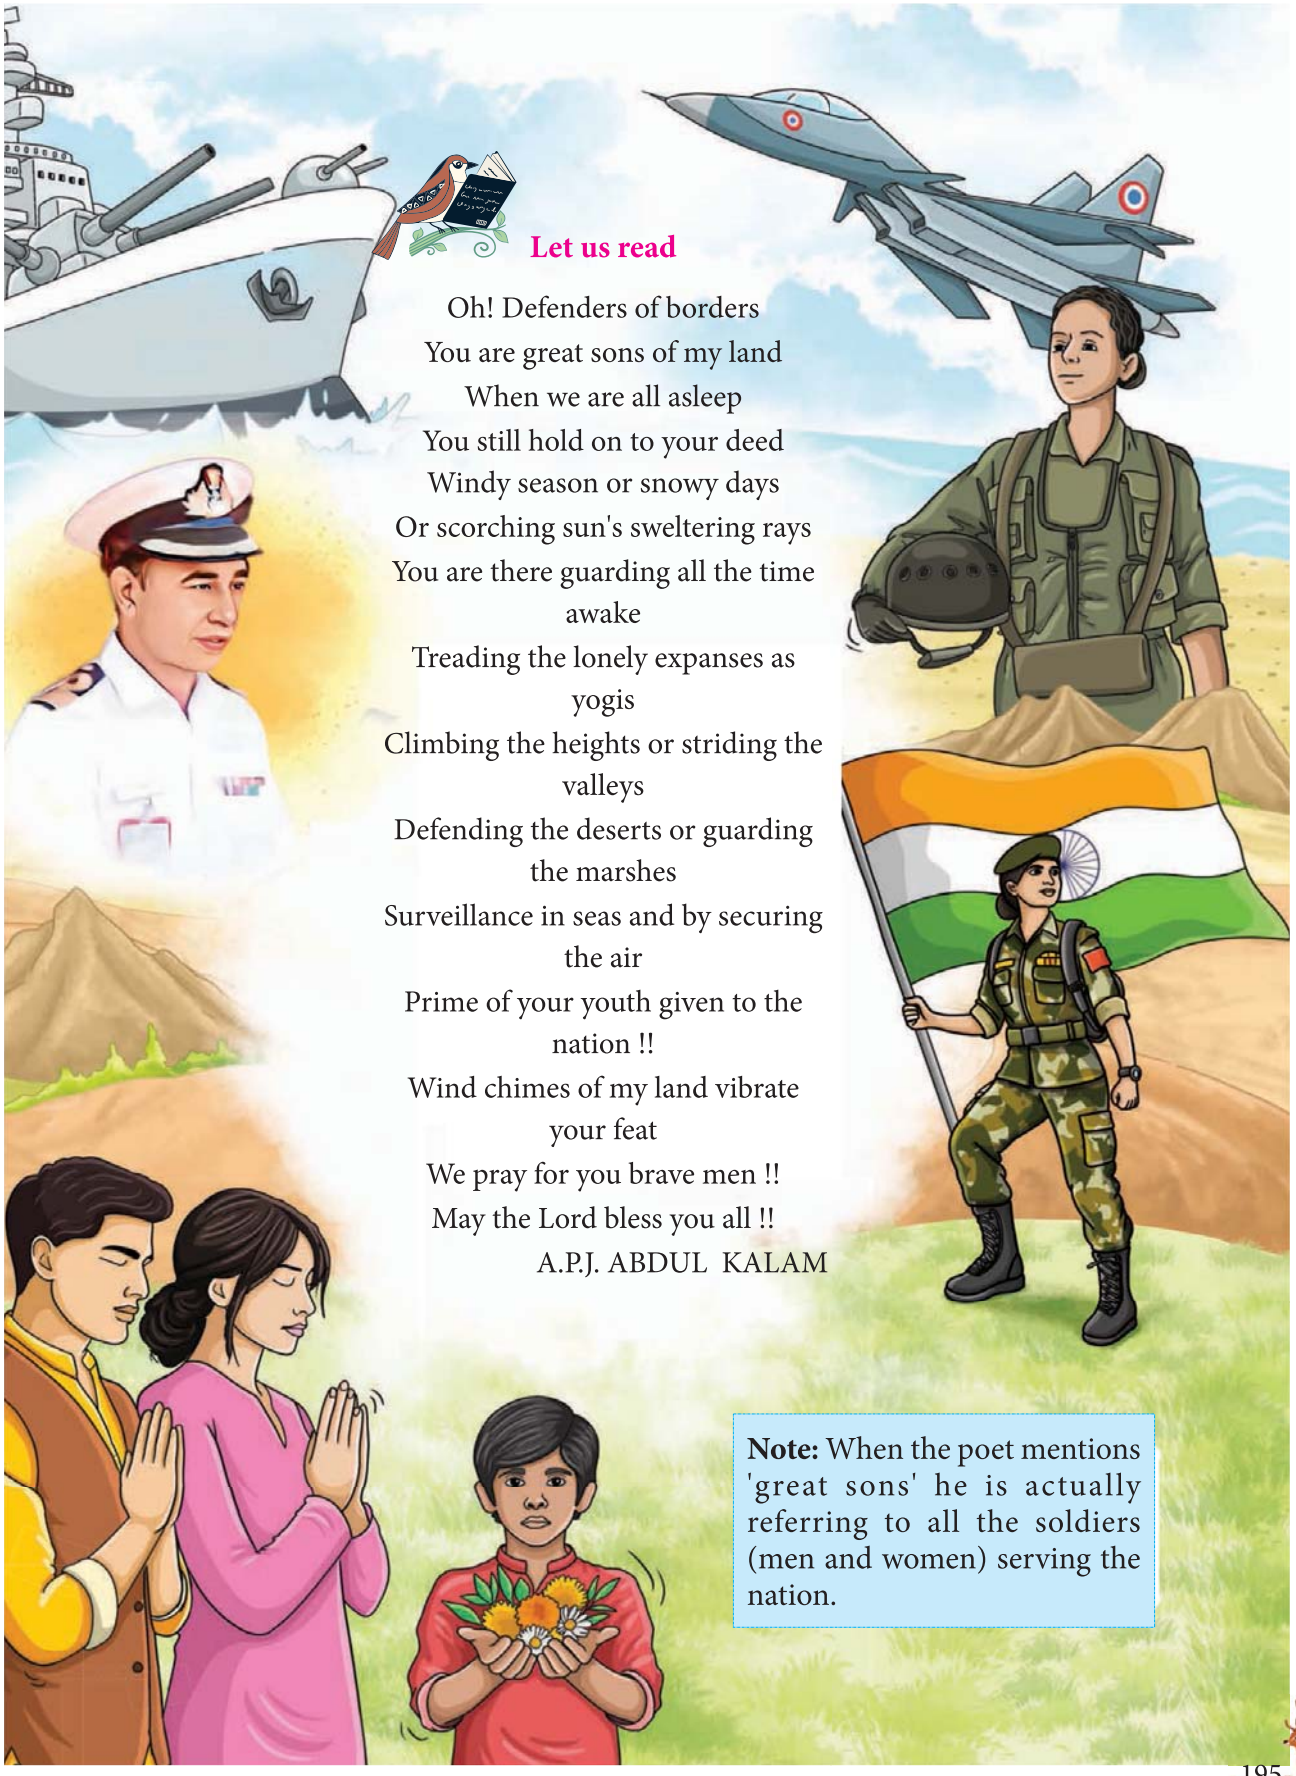

I Look around and identify the people who contribute to your life selflessly with a risk to their own lives. Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

II. See the following pictures and identify them.

III. Work in pairs. Discuss at least three questions that you would like to ask the people identified in II.

Let us read

Oh! Defenders of borders
You are great sons of my land
When we are all asleep
You still hold on to your deed
Windy season or snowy days
Or scorching sun's sweltering rays
You are there guarding all the time awake
Treading the lonely expanses as yogis
Climbing the heights or striding the valleys
Defending the deserts or guarding the marshes
Surveillance in seas and by securing the air
Prime of your youth given to the nation !!
Wind chimes of my land vibrate your feat
We pray for you brave men !!
May the Lord bless you all !!

A.P.J. ABDUL KALAM

Note: When the poet mentions 'great sons' he is actually referring to all the soldiers (men and women) serving the nation.

Let us discuss

   - B. laziness D. dishonest

Let us think and reflect

I Read the extract given below and answer the questions that follow.

When we are all asleep

You still hold on to your deed

Windy season or snowy days

Or scorching sun's sweltering rays

You are there guarding all the time awake

Treading the lonely expanses as yogis

1. Identify a set of opposite words from the extract.
2. Complete the sentence appropriately.

   The phrase 'still hold on to your deed' refers to the soldier's attitude of _____ _____.
3. Identify whether the following statement is true or false.

   The soldiers walk across the deserted stretches of land.
4. Give evidence from the extract to show that soldiers face harsh weather conditions.
5. Which quality of the soldiers is highlighted in this extract?

   (i) modesty (ii) optimism (iii) simplicity (iv) dedication

II Answer the following questions.

1. Who is the speaker of this poem? How can you say so?
2. How does the poet highlight the commitment of the soldiers? Provide examples from the poem to support your answer.
3. What is the significance of the line 'Prime of your youth given to the nation!!' with reference to sacrifice and service?
4. The poem ends with a prayer for the soldiers' well-being and blessings. Why is it important for each one of us to pray for the well- being of soldiers?

Let us learn

I The poem mentions a few terrains (physical features of land)—valleys, deserts, and marshes. Identify the terrains from the box given below. There are two that you do not need.

ghats	river plateau	delta bay	peninsula	mountains

II Study the following phrases from the poem.

- treading the lonely expanses
- climbing the heights
- scorching sun

Such phrases are word pairs that come together in combinations and are called collocations.

Collocations are specific word pairings in English. They refer to the way certain words frequently appear together with others.

Fill in the blanks by choosing the words given in the brackets that collocate appropriately.

1. The hikers reached the _____ (summit/peak) of the mountain after several days of trekking through challenging conditions.
2. The _____ (empty/barren) landscape of the desert made it nearly impossible to find any water sources.
3. In the rainforest, the _____ (heavy/dense) forest provides a habitat for a diverse range of wildlife.
4. Chitra is a very _____ (heroic/adventurous) person and enjoys mountain climbing.
5. I'll try to get back in time, but I'm not _____ (doing/making) any promises.

Let us listen

I Think and complete the poem titled 'A Soldier's Pride', given below. (Transcript for the teacher on pg. 217)

In fields so vast, our soldiers stand, With hearts so brave, and firm 1. _____, They guard our land both night and 2. _____, To keep our fears and foes at bay. Rani Abbakka

Let us do these activities before we read.

I Solve the riddle given below and share your answer with your classmates and the teacher.

She was a queen who led the fight,
She fought for her country and her right.
With a shining sword in her hand,
Her son on her back in a cloth band Remembered as a warrior grand,
She died defending her beloved Motherland.
Who is she ?

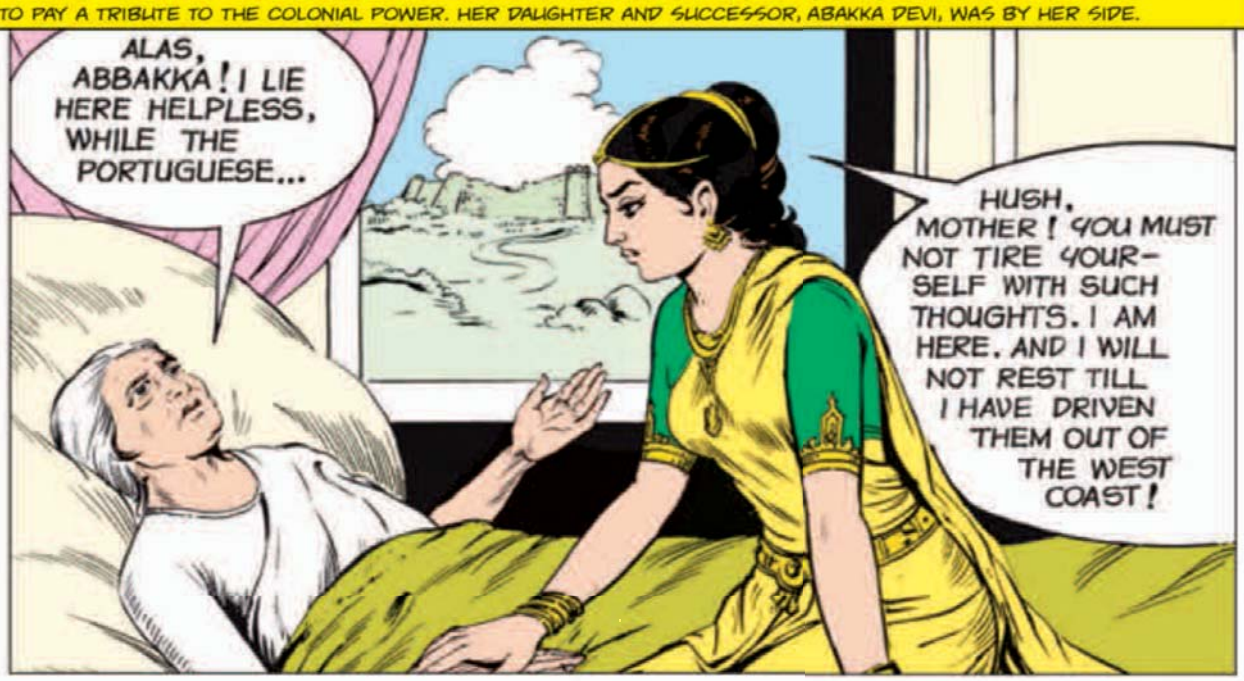

II Think of any other women warriors who made a significant contribution to India's struggle for Independence. Share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

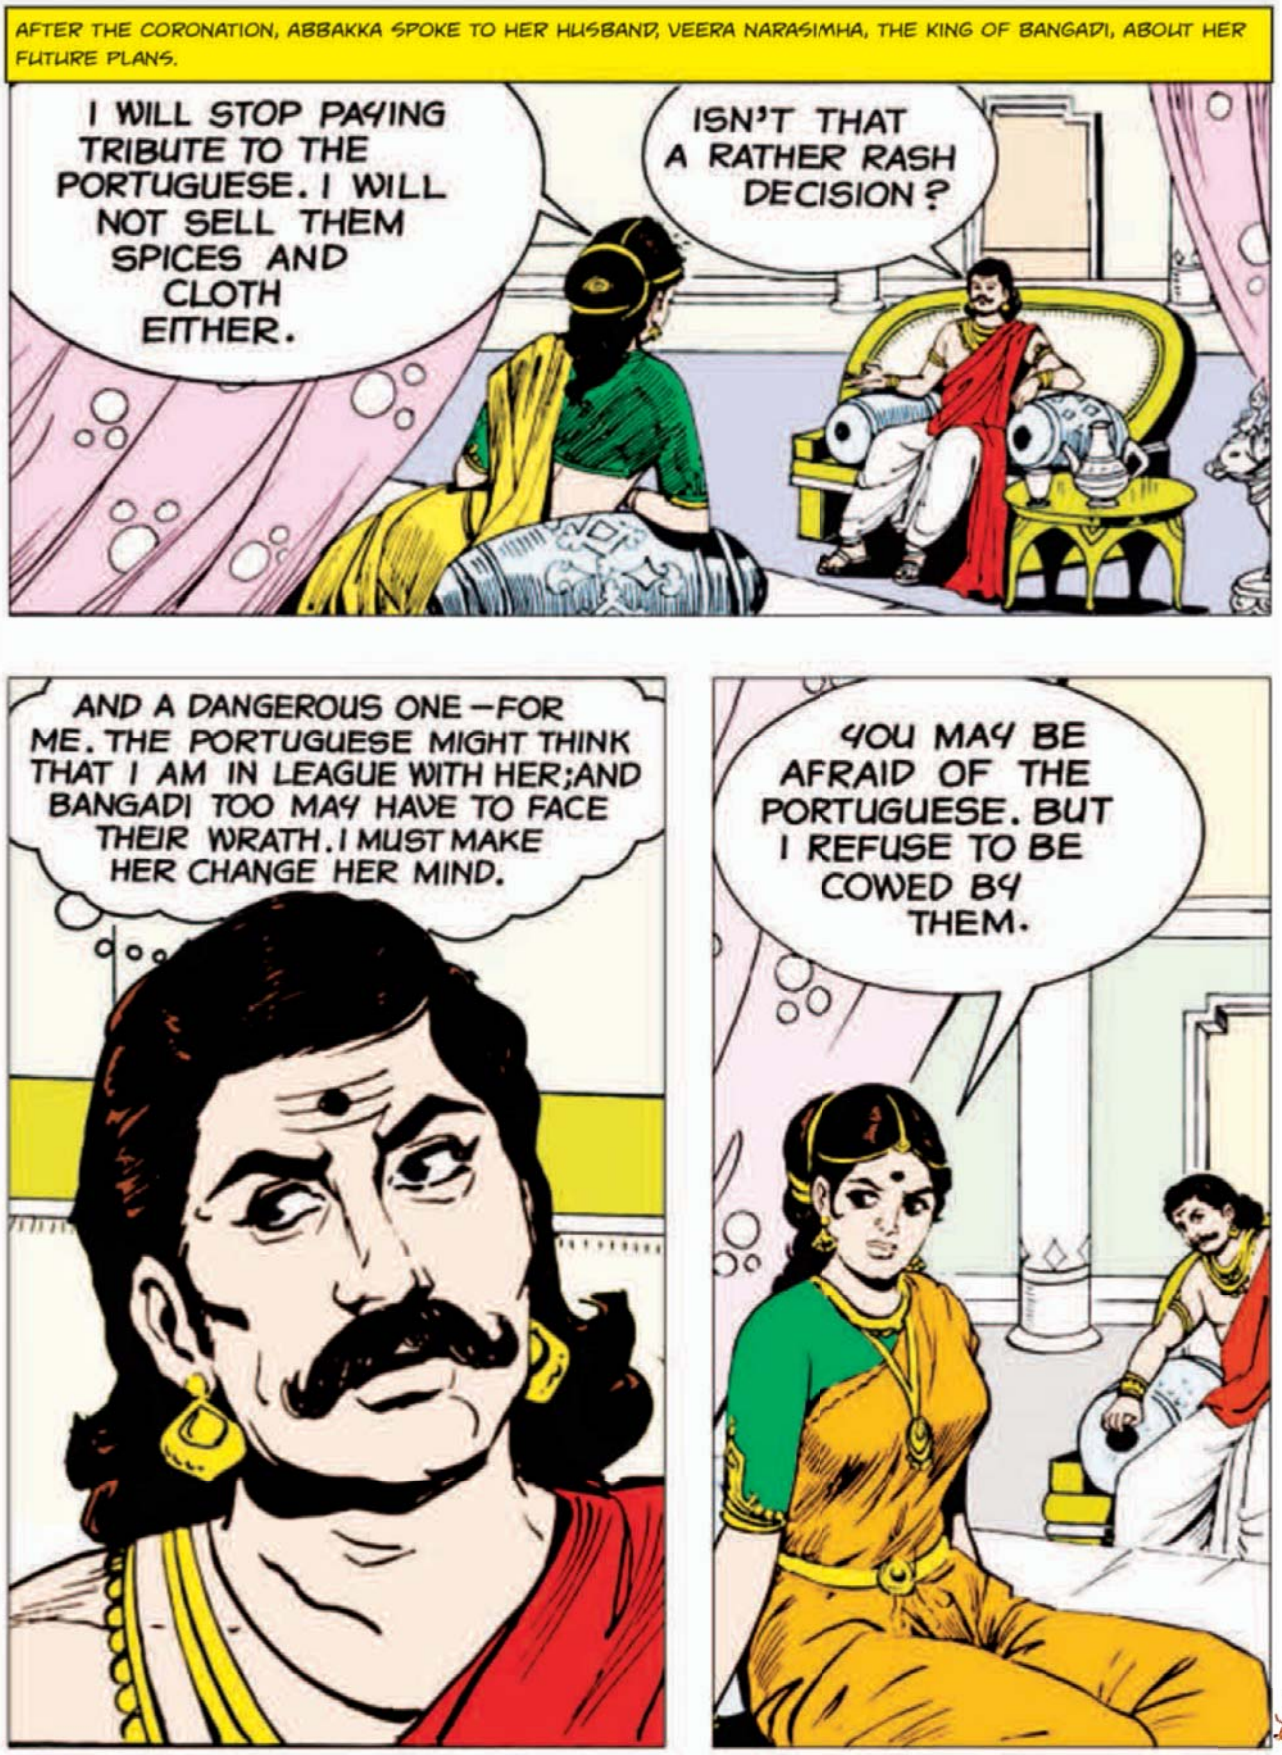

Let us read

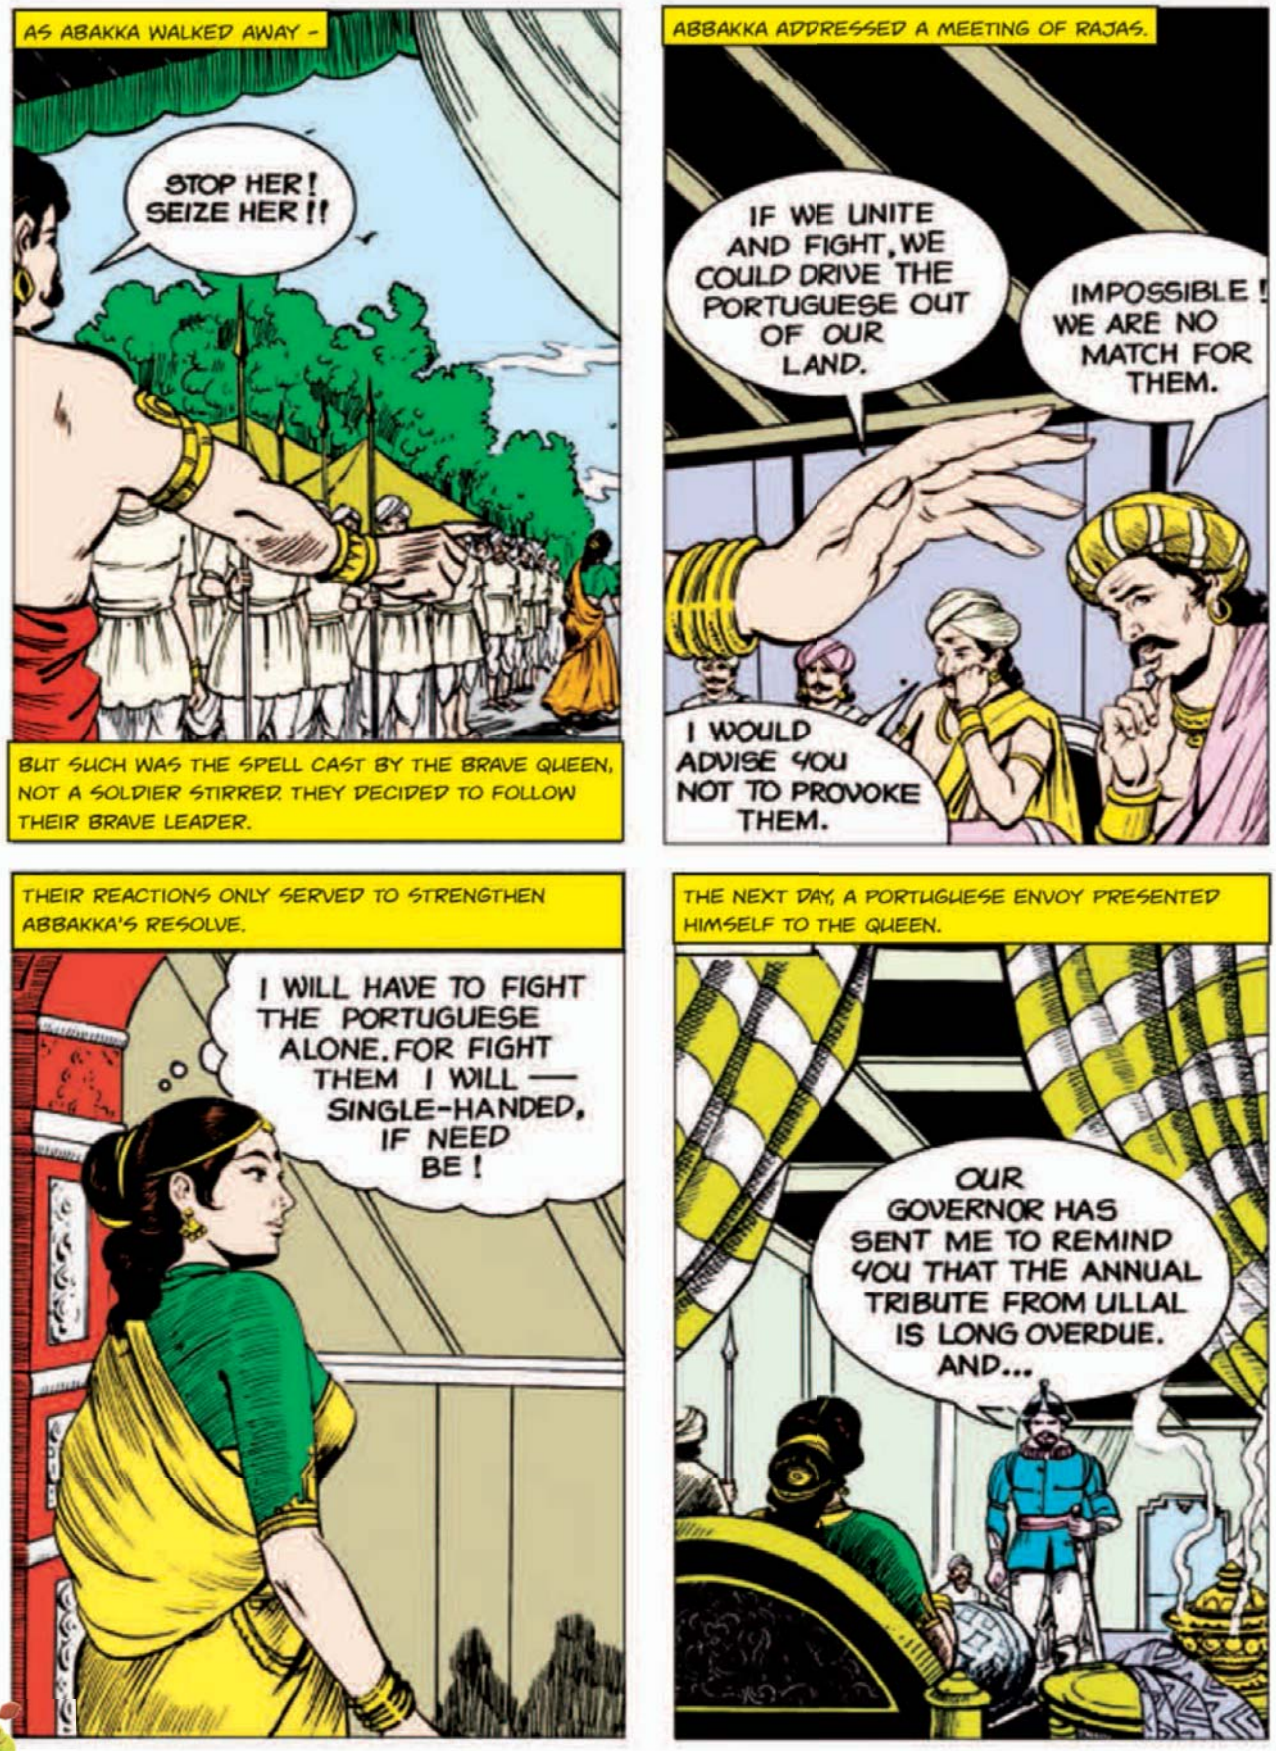

Rani Abbakka

HIRIYA ABBAKKA, THE QUEEN OF ULLAL, A SMALL PRINCIPALITY ON THE WEST COAST OF KARNATAKA, WAS ON HER DEATH-BED. YEARS AGO, ULLAL HAD BEEN CAPTURED BY THE PORTUGUESE AND HAD BECOME A VASSAL – THEY WERE REQUIRED TO PAY A TRIBUTE TO THE COLONIAL POWER. HER DAUGHTER AND SUCCESSOR, ABAKKA DEVI, WAS BY HER SIDE.

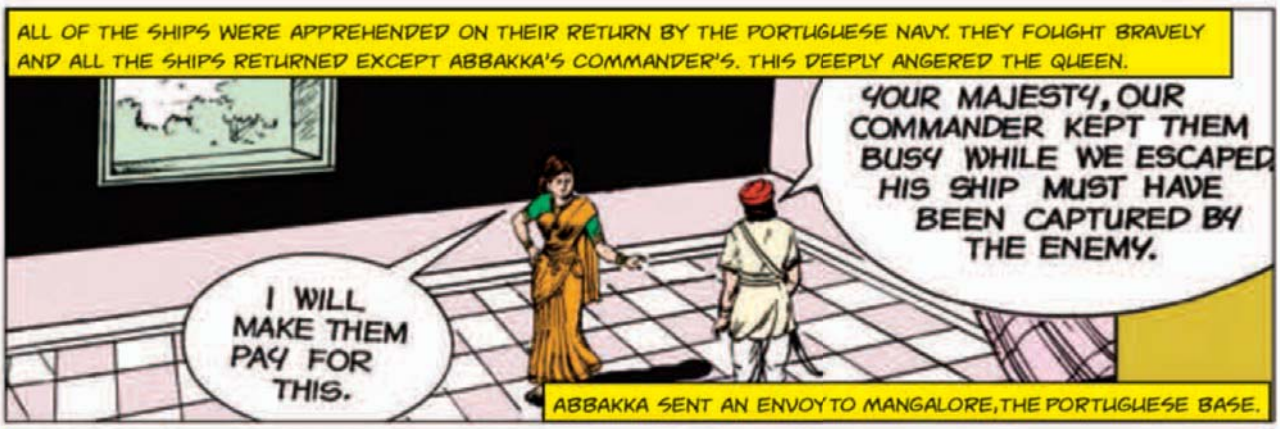

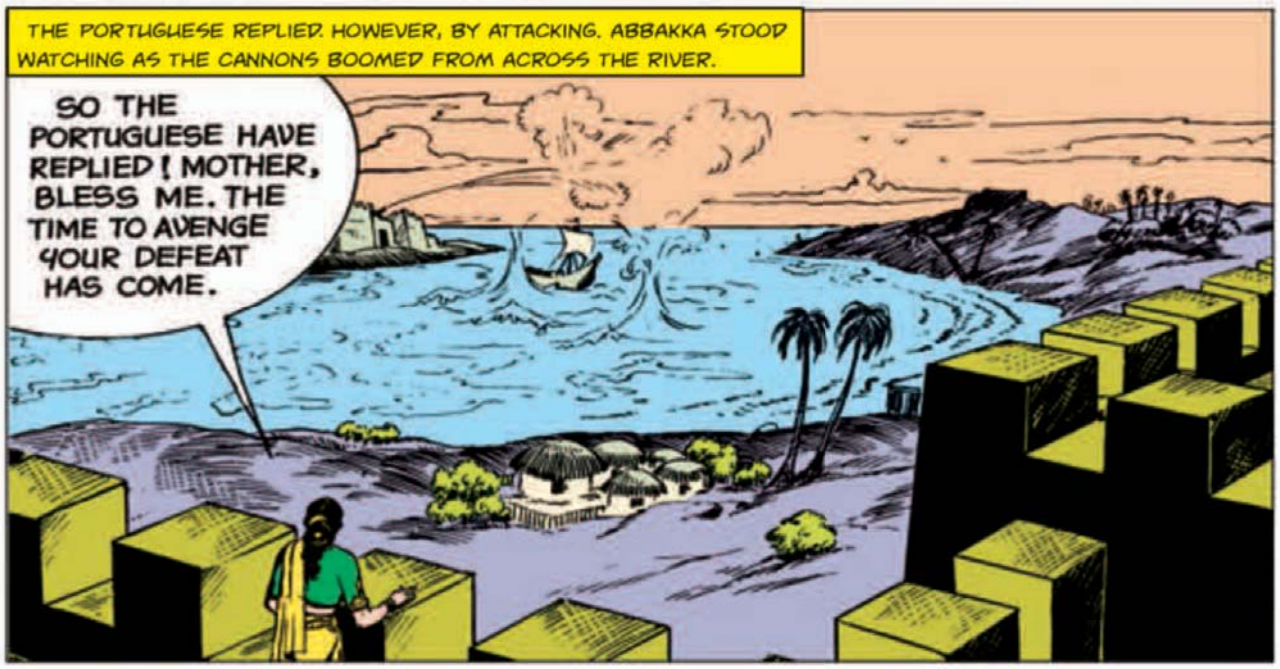

AFTER THE CORONATION, ABBAKKA SPOKE TO HER HUSBAND, VEERA NARASIMHA, THE KING OF BANGADI, ABOUT HER FUTURE PLANS.
I WILL STOP PAYING TRIBUTE TO THE PORTUGUESE. I WILL NOT SELL THEM SPICES AND CLOTH EITHER.
ISN'T THAT A RATHER RASH DECISION?
AND A DANGEROUS ONE—FOR ME. THE PORTUGUESE MIGHT THINK THAT I AM IN LEAGUE WITH HER; AND BANGADI TOO MAY HAVE TO FACE THEIR WRATH. I MUST MAKE HER CHANGE HER MIND.
YOU MAY BE AFRAID OF THE PORTUGUESE. BUT I REFUSE TO BE COWED BY THEM.

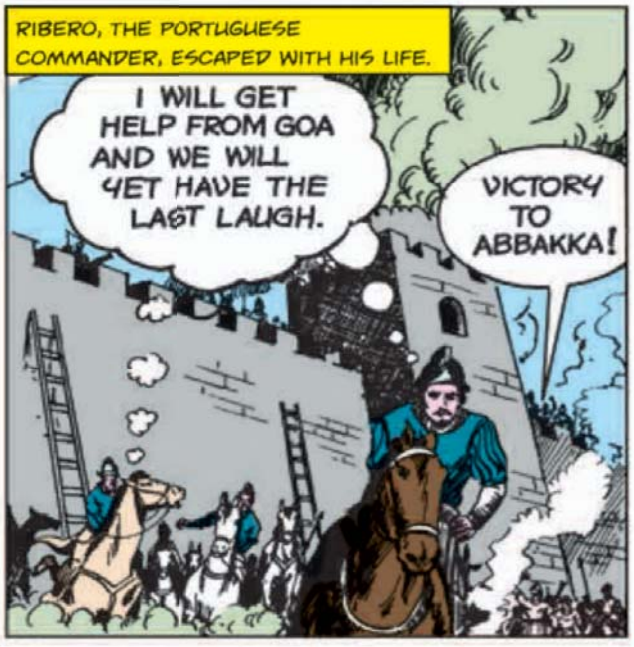

AS ABAKKA WALKED AWAY –
STOP HER! SEIZE HER!!
BUT SUCH WAS THE SPELL CAST BY THE BRAVE QUEEN, NOT A SOLDIER STIRRED. THEY DECIDED TO FOLLOW THEIR BRAVE LEADER.
ABBAKKA ADDRESSED A MEETING OF RAJAS.
IF WE UNITE AND FIGHT, WE COULD DRIVE THE PORTUGUESE OUT OF OUR LAND.
IMPOSSIBLE! WE ARE NO MATCH FOR THEM.
I WOULD ADVISE YOU NOT TO PROVOKE THEM.
THEIR REACTIONS ONLY SERVED TO STRENGTHEN ABBAKKA'S RESOLVE.
I WILL HAVE TO FIGHT THE PORTUGUESE ALONE. FOR FIGHT THEM I WILL — SINGLE-HANDED, IF NEED BE!
THE NEXT DAY, A PORTUGUESE ENVOY PRESENTED HIMSELF TO THE QUEEN.
OUR GOVERNOR HAS SENT ME TO REMIND YOU THAT THE ANNUAL TRIBUTE FROM ULLAL IS LONG OVERDUE. AND...

WE ARE A SOVEREIGN COUNTRY. WE DON'T PAY TRIBUTE TO PORTUGAL. AND WE DON'T TAKE ORDERS FROM THE PORTUGUESE!
ABBAKKA ORDERED MERCHANT SHIPS TO BE BUILT AND IN ALLIANCE WITH THE ZAMORIN OF KOZHIKODE, SHE DEFIED THE PORTUGUESE AND ESTABLISHED A HUGELY PROFITABLE TRADING RELATION WITH ARABIA.
VISIT US AGAIN, BROTHER.
GOD WILLING, WE WILL.
YOUR MAJESTY, YOU WILL REGRET YOUR STAND.
MOTHER, THIS IS THE BEGINNING. AND I PROMISE YOU THAT THE END WILL SOON FOLLOW.

ALL OF THE SHIPS WERE APPREHENDED ON THEIR RETURN BY THE PORTUGUESE NAVY. THEY FOUGHT BRAVELY AND ALL THE SHIPS RETURNED EXCEPT ABBAKKA'S COMMANDER'S. THIS DEEPLY ANGERED THE QUEEN.
YOUR MAJESTY, OUR COMMANDER KEPT THEM BUSY WHILE WE ESCAPED. HIS SHIP MUST HAVE BEEN CAPTURED BY THE ENEMY.
I WILL MAKE THEM PAY FOR THIS.
ABBAKKA SENT AN ENVOY TO MANGALORE, THE PORTUGUESE BASE.

THE PORTUGUESE REPLIED. HOWEVER, BY ATTACKING. ABBAKKA STOOD WATCHING AS THE CANNONS BOOMED FROM ACROSS THE RIVER.
SO THE PORTUGUESE HAVE REPLIED! MOTHER, BLESS ME. THE TIME TO AVENGE YOUR DEFEAT HAS COME.

ABBAKKA IN TURN UNLEASHED HER FORCES AND THEY ATTACKED THE PORTUGUESE FORT.

RIBERO, THE PORTUGUESE COMMANDER, ESCAPED WITH HIS LIFE.
I WILL GET HELP FROM GOA AND WE WILL YET HAVE THE LAST LAUGH.
VICTORY TO ABBAKKA!

Let us listen

I. Your teacher will read the following 'Heart Touching Poem' dedicated to the brave soldiers of our nation. You first listen to your teacher and then repeat after him/her.

If I die in a war zone, box me up and send me home.

Put my medals on my chest, tell my mom I did my best.

Tell my dad not to bow, he won't get tension from me now,

Tell my bro to study perfectly, key of my bike will be his permanently.

Tell my sister not to be upset, her bro will take a long sleep after sunset.

Tell my nation not to cry, because I'm a soldier born to die."

Let us speak

Some of the words from the story 'Rani Abbakka' are given in the table below. Work in pairs and pronounce these words by referring to the notes given below. Emphasise the highlighted syllable.

Remember, single syllable (monosyllabic) words do not have any stress.

Words	Pronunciation	Notes
1. vassal (n)	va-sul (two syllables)	The /a/ sound in va is similar to van. The word vassal rhymes with apple.
2. successor (n)	suhk·seh·suh (three syllables)	The /r/ sound in the end of the word is not pronounced.
3. rash (adj.)	rash (monosyllabic)	The /a/ sound is similar to rat.
4. league (n)	leeg (monosyllabic)	Use the long -ee sound, as in seed.
5. wrath (n)	roth (monosyllabic)	The -w is silent.
6. seize (v)	seez (monosyllabic)	Not to be confused with 'size'.
7. resolve (n)	ri-zolv (two syllables)	The -s becomes the /z/ sound.

Let us write

India's past was heroic, and at present, the pace of her development is inspiring. Women play a significant role in it. These women are around us, inspiring us all the time.

With these thoughts, write a conversation between two students, Pratap and Tarana, discussing the role played by women in forming India's identity as a strong nation.

You may begin like this:

Pratap : Tarana, I have a lot of respect for women like...

Tarana : I believe in the capabilities of women. Did you...?

Complete the conversation in about six to eight sentences for each of them and share your answers with your classmates and the teacher.

Let us explore

In groups of five, find facts about any one brave woman who we remember because of her achievements and present in class. For example, Rani Chennamma of Kittur, Rani Durgavati, Ahilyabai Holkar, Jhalkari Bai, Captain Lakshmi Sahgal, Kanaklata Barua, Kalpana Chawla, or anyone else.

Include the following in your presentation:

1. Childhood
2. Training / Education
3. Achievements
4. Contributions

What you have learnt from her

Homage To Our Brave Soldiers

Let us listen (refer to page 192)

You will listen to a girl speak about why she wishes to join the Armed Forces when she grows up. As you listen, answer the questions given below in two–three exact words you hear.

Good morning, respected teachers and my dear friends.

Today, I, Gunjan, of Grade 7-C, stand before you to share why I dream of joining the Indian Armed Forces when I grow up.

Serving our country is the most honourable job one can have. It means protecting and securing our nation, even if it means risking one's life. The thought of wearing the uniform, which can only be earned through hard work, fills me with pride and a strong desire to serve India.

The Armed Forces teach you to live a disciplined and organised life. This keeps both the mind and body active. Soldiers are always ready to face challenges because of this discipline. Additionally, regular exercise and training keep soldiers physically fit and ready for any situation. This preparation is something I greatly admire and wish to achieve.

Lastly, being a soldier means having new experiences and adventures everyday. Each day brings new challenges, teaching important lessons, and helping one grow. The Armed Forces offer a life filled with honour, self-respect, safety, and security for both the soldier and their families. It is a life that teaches loyalty, duty, service, and honesty.

This is why I want to join the Indian Armed Forces.

Thank you.

My Dear Soldiers

Let us listen (refer to page 198)

I Think and complete the poem titled 'A Soldier's Pride'.

II Now, listen to the poem and correct your answers wherever required.

In fields so vast, our soldiers stand,
With hearts so brave, and firm command,
They guard our land both night and day,
To keep our fears and foes at bay.
With every dawn and setting sun,
Their duty calls, it must be done,
Through stormy skies and blazing heat,
They march along with steady feet.
For love of land, they fight and strive,
To keep our hopes and dreams alive,
With pride and honour, they defend,
Our India, till the very end.

Rani Abbakka

Let us listen (II) (refer to page 213)

You will listen to the teacher speak about a braveheart. As you listen, complete the bio-table given below.

Hello children, you all have read about Rani Abbakka. Let me share with you some details about one more braveheart. Her name is Rani Gaidinliu.

Gaidinliu was born on 26 January 1915, in the present-day Tamenglong district of Manipur. She was a Naga leader who led an armed uprising against the British in Manipur, Nagaland, and Assam. Gaidinliu belonged to the Rongmei tribe, also known as the Kabui tribe.

In 1927, at the age of 13, Gaidinliu joined the Heraka movement. This movement aimed at the revival of the Naga tribal religion and the establishment of self-rule for the Nagas, ending British rule.

Gaidinliu was arrested in 1932 when she was just 16 and was sentenced to life imprisonment by the British rulers. Between 1932 and 1947, she was kept in several prisons across the Northeast.

After being released in 1947, she continued to work for the betterment of her community. The then Prime Minister described Gaidinliu as the 'Daughter of the Hills' and gave her the title 'Rani' for her courage. She was also awarded the Padma Bhushan in 1982.

In 1991, Rani Gaidinliu returned to her birthplace, where she died on 17 February 1993 at the age of 78. Rani Gaidinliu was conferred the Birsa Munda Award posthumously.

The State Government has developed a park along with a statue to honour Rani Gaidinliu in Silchar, Assam. Not only that, the Government of India issued a postal stamp in her honour in 1996 and a commemorative coin in 2015.

What a braveheart indeed!
